These seven fraternities are organized as the Pan-Hellenic Association for the purpose of supervising such affairs as concern their common interests. The association gives annually a smoker to which members of the fraternities are invited. It also conducts the Pan-Hellenic Baseball Series for the Drosten Trophy. A report of the last series will be found on the next page.

The Pan-Hellenic Association each spring arranges for a series of inter-fraternity baseball games, the winner of which has its name engraved on the Pan-Hellenic Trophy and has possession of the trophy for one year or until another team wins the championship. Owing to the fact that the championship of Division I was not decided, a championship game between Divisions I and 2 was not played last year. The Association decided that the three highest teams, Theta Xi, Phi Delta Theta and Beta Theta Pi, were to have their fraternity letters engraved on the trophy and each to have possession of it one-third of the present academic year.

This odd expression is used to describe those men who belong to a college fraternity that is national in character, but has no chapter at the college where the person so named is attending. The number of these men at Washington is small. They are:

Edward L. Baker, who was an active member of Delta Tau Delta at Missouri State University during the year 1910-11.

Edward A. Blondin, who was an active member of Phi Gamma Delta at Knox College during the year 1912-13.

Emanuel L. Hahn, who was an active member of Zeta Beta Tau at Louisiana State University during the year 1913-14.

Elmer E. Leopold, who was an active member of Alpha Sigma Phi at the University of Illinois during the years 1910-12.
