The 1915 Football Season

The 1915 football season proved to be one of the most successful in the history of Washington University athletics. Under the tutelage of Coach W. P. Edmunds, the team won its two hardest games, those against Missouri and against St. Louis University. These two victories gave the Pikers a clear title to the championship of the State of Missouri as well as that of the city of St. Louis. The students and alumni showed more spirit and enthusiasm than ever before—a fact well evidenced by the attendance and cheering both at games and during the daily practice sessions.

On September 15, forty men turned out for practice, and hard work was begun immediately. On September 25, the Varsity played a listless game against the Alumni team, but on the following Saturday, after Shurtleff had cancelled the scheduled game, the Alumni were again met, with the result that the Varsity left the field victor by the score of 18 to 7.

On October 9, the Pikers wiped a debt of nine years' standing by handing the Missouri Tigers the short end of a 13 to 0 score. The Varsity outplayed our ancient rivals in all departments of the game. The line held like the proverbial stone wall; the fleet Tiger backs were unable to gain either through the forward defense or around the wing positions. Captain "Poge" Lewis made a sensational 65-yard run in the first quarter, and put the ball on Missouri's 5-yard line. "Pete" Pemberton then carried the ball across the line for a touchdown. Captain Lewis kicked goal, and later booted two field goals. The original team with but one substitution played through the entire game.

October 16 saw the Pikers up at Crawfordsville, Ind., battling the Wabash "Little Giants." The persistent hammering of the "Little Giants," together with injuries to several of the first string men, sent Washington down to a 13 to 3 defeat. It was at this game that the Varsity men were cheered lustily by the handful of Washington rooters, who journeyed to Crawfordsville via "blind baggage," etc., and appeared in the stands when the game began.

On October 23, the Drury Panthers were tamed at Francis Field to the tune of 38 to 0. This game was little more than a practice contest, but it gave Coach Edmunds an opportunity to try out his substitute material.

The following Saturday the team played Drake University at Des Moines, Iowa. For three-quarters, the Pikers held the long end of the score, but in the last quarter the Drake hoodoo manifested itself and the game ended with the score 26 to 16 in Drake's favor. At Des Moines as at Crawfordsville, the familiar faces and voices of the handful of itinerant rooters were in evidence.

The game scheduled against Knox on November 6 was called off because of the disbanding of the Knox team after the death of one of its players.

The climax of the season came on November 13, when Washington repeated the feat of the previous year by trimming St. Louis University. As indicated by the score, which was 13 to 7 in favor of the Myrtle and Maroon, this game was the hardest fought contest of the year. The outstanding features of the game were the wonderful field generalship of Ralph Gray, who was shifted to quarter-back at the eleventh hour; the phenomenal work of Captain Lewis and his educated toe; Busiek's touchdown, and the perfect unit team-work of the Varsity. This day was distinctively a Washington occasion.
Captain "Poge" Lewis—full back—led the Varsity in excellent fashion. Unfortunately, injuries kept him out of the Drury contest and also hampered him in the game against Drake. His kicking, however, at all times bordered on the sensational; the might and skill of his good right toe added materially to Washington point totals.

At the close of the season "Poge" was awarded the Busch trophy, for being the most valuable backfield man in St. Louis.

Ralph Gray—also a winner of the Busch trophy as the most valuable lineman in the city—played both in the line and in the backfield. He ended his football career as a Piker in the St. Louis U. game. Ralph was a general all-round man, played practically every position on the team at some stage of the season. Ralph was one of the most versatile players Washington has ever boasted of.

"Bill" Berry, at first an end, was shifted to right halfback in the Drake and St. Louis U. contests and proved to be even better behind the line than at his original wing position.

"Bob" Wright, although playing only his second year of football, proved himself invaluable in the line. He was a hard and willing worker, and his loss by graduation leaves a gap in the line that will be hard to fill.

Webb Kammerer, general utility man, was called upon to play in many positions. To his credit, it may be said that he played them all well. Injuries prevented him from holding down a regular position. Webb, "Bob," "Bill," Ralph, and "Poge" all closed their football careers at Washington with victory over St. Louis University.
“Bon” Busiek, captain-elect for 1916, started the season at end and was later shifted to a halfback position. He was noted for his sure, swift tackling and his consistent line plunging. The latter netted the Varsity its only touchdown in the St. Louis U. game. “Bon” will make an able leader for 1916.

“Puff” Martin, K-9, or the disappearing demon of the gridiron, showed flashes of his really phenomenal ability. Lack of consistency prevented his taking a front rank, but he proved to be one of the stars of the St. Louis U. Game.

“Dutch” Wetzel played his usual dependable game at center. His accurate passing was no small factor in the Varsity’s success. He has another year to play.

“Hack” Hachman proved a tower of strength at left tackle. His side of the line was practically impenetrable. Considering his lack of practice, “Hack” played remarkable football in all the games. He will be in uniform again during the 1916 season.

John Grossman played next to “Hack” at the guard position and the two formed an unbreakable combination. Grossman has two years more of football before him at Washington.
John Touchstone—Varsity quarter—ran the team in excellent fashion. He had the faculty of calling the right play always at the right time. Unfortunately, “Touch” was declared ineligible on the eve of the final game.

“Buddy” Kling, who played end throughout the season, made a specialty of smashing through the interference and downing the runner. “Buddy” was a valuable man and will be back in 1916.

“Pete” Pemberton—at left halfback—played a swift, smashing game and was a bear at picking holes in the opposing defense. A broken shoulder kept him out of the games during the latter part of the season, but he will be in uniform in 1916.

“Mae” McRoberts—lineman and scout—was kept out of the early season games because of injuries. His scouting trips to watch Conference teams in action gave the coaches valuable information and assistance.

“Jerry” Meyer—instiller of pep—played well at end when he got into the game. Injuries handicapped him or he would have done better. He will return next fall.
Emanuel Werner, "Bill" Bernard, "Dutch" Meinholtz, Edgar Schwarzenbach, Trauble Burke, Alfred Caffee were an able corps of substitutes and figured in several games. Werner and Bernard graduate this year but the others will be with us next season.

Coach Edmunds was ably assisted in prepping the above men for the team by "Lin" Milford, '15, ex-Capt. Pothoff, '15, Mr. Hagar and Mr. Pratt. The work of these men was a powerful factor in making the 1915 season as successful as it was. The assistant managers, "Dave" Berger, "Davy" Jones, and "Rus" Jolley deserve commendation for the readiness and willingness to serve.

Dr. Lund and his enthusiasm were ever present. Too much praise cannot be given him for the interest he always shows in Washington University athletics. Little Gene Lund brought good luck to the Varsity, and he was voted the best mascot ever. The season ended with a big banquet at the residence of Dr. Lund. There, "Bon" Busiek was elected Captain for 1916.

The 1915 Basketball Season

Although the playing average did not reach the 500 per cent mark, the 1916 season of basketball at Washington University was not nearly the failure outward appearances would indicate. The Piker five annexed the city intercollegiate championship by defeating St. Louis University in two close contests, for the second consecutive year. The team defeated Kansas University on the basketball floor for the first time in three years, while in the last games of the season the Myrtle-Maroon men played such sterling basketball against the Kansas Aggies that those champions felt their titular crown wobble dangerously on their heads. The Varsity, furthermore, defeated the McKinley High School aggregation—a team that won the interscholastic championship and was acknowledged as one of the best in the State—by the top-heavy score of 55 to 24.

The season officially was opened at Columbia, Mo., on January 10 and 11, with two games against Missouri University, whose team, having a big advantage in size, weight, and condition, annexed both contests by the scores of 44 to 22, and 45 to 19, respectively.

Coach Edmunds had taken charge of the squad at the beginning of the season, but on the return from Columbia he turned over the players to Coach Friecke, a former Texas University star. Coach Friecke attacked the situation with vigor and enthusiasm; the results of his good work were soon in evidence.

Four days after the Rolla games Coach Friecke took a squad of eight men on a junket to Manhattan and Lawrence, Kansas. The two games against the Kansas Aggies on February 2 and 3 resulted in 45 to 13 and 36 to 17 victories for the farmers. Friecke's cohorts could not cope with the speed and excellent floorwork of the champions. Wearied by hard play, the Piker team moved over to Lawrence, Kansas, and there lost twice to the Kansas University quintet, February 4 and 5, by the scores of 40 to 16, and 45 to 13. Coach Friecke then brought his battle-scarred heroes home.

On February 22, the team celebrated Washington's birthday by defeating St. Louis University, score 23 to 21. Up to the last moment the game was a nip and tuck affair, and, in all fairness to St. Louis U., it must be said had not the goddess of good luck favored Washington, the Blue and White would have gained the verdict.

The second game of the series was played five days later at Francis Gymnasium. St. Louis, although on an alien court, fought with a vengeance and soon amassed a comfortable lead. Then, under the leadership of Capt. Berry, the Pikers slowly but surely cut down the disadvantage until they had gained a tie a few moments before the final whistle. A foul on a St. Louis University man, then, gave the critical opening. Capt. Berry responded with a free throw that gave a one point margin of victory, which symbolized the intercollegiate championship of St. Louis. The score was 23 to 22.

The season closed on March 3 and 4, with games against the Kansas Aggies. These last contests were the best of the season. The Aggies gained both victories, 29 to 20, and 24 to 18, but in each game they knew they had been through a struggle. The fast, clean basketball was markedly in contrast to the Missouri games. And so the season ended, and with it the careers of Capt. Bill Berry and Paul J. Hewitt closed.

"Bill" Berry, Captain, was the most consistent player on the team. He was the factor around which all the team play was centered. Although a guard, Bill was the highest individual point scorer for the Pikers and was the leader at all times on the offense. His guarding did not suffer, however, and the man he was detailed to watch seldom broke free enough to be dangerous. As a tosser of baskets from the foul line, Bill admitted hardly a peer in the Missouri Valley Conference. "Cap" will be sorely missed; he graduates in June.
Paul J. Hewitt, although experiencing his first and last season in basketball, at once proved a mainstay to the other guard position. P. J. was the heart of the defense. His alertness and aggressiveness broke up many an evening rally in the making. P. J. also leaves college in June; his absence next year will leave a big hole for Coach Friecke to fill.

Dick Stout, at forward, was second only to Captain "Bill" in offensive work. Although handicapped by a bad knee, Dick's speed on the basketball floor was always in evidence. His accuracy in shooting added up many a marker for the Pikers. Dick returns next year as Captain of the team. He will be the Coach's main reliance.

Wayne Miller, at forward, played his second season as a Varsity man. Wayne's experience stood him in good stead and he played a bang-up game throughout the season. Late in the year he was shifted to guard and responded nobly. He could always be relied upon. Wayne returns next year.

Urban Busiek developed into an excellent center under the tutelage of Coach Friecke. "Bon" played forward last year, but improved with the change. He was one of the leading spirits of aggressiveness on the team. His left-handed shots at the basket were a source of wonder to the spectators, and terror to the opposing players. "Bon's" return next winter will be welcomed by the Coach.

To John Grossman, John Moll, Alfred Goldman and Henry Miller fell the task of substituting for the five men previously mentioned. Each responded nobly with his full quota of valuable and earnest endeavor when called upon. "Goldie" graduates this year, but the others will be back again next season to help build a winning combination.

Coach Friecke deserves a large measure of praise for his good work when he stepped into Coach Edmunds' shoes. Next year, with Captain-elect Stout, Wayne, Miller, Busiek, Grossman, Moll and Henry Miller back as a nucleus, together with the advent of a list of strong eligibles from the Freshman team, Coach Friecke should be able to turn out a contender for the Missouri Valley Conference championship in basketball.

The first call for candidates at the break of Spring brought out a squad of about forty aspirants to the team. The keen competition for positions on the Varsity necessitated a delay in the final choice of the team, and it was not until the season was well advanced that anyone was certain of his position.

After several practice games with the scrubs, the team opened the season in major league style by trouncing Concordia Seminary, on Francis Field, by the score of 9-8. The game was hotly contested throughout. The following week the same teams met at Brock Park, where, after a close and exciting game, Washington went down to defeat by the score of 2-0. At the opening of the season it appeared as if we were to have a very formidable schedule, with the two Kansas Aggies' games booked on our list, but a three-day down-pour necessitated the cancelling of the games. This was very disappointing as the Aggies had already arrived in St. Louis. Rain again interfered with our schedule in regard to the Cape Girardeau Normal games. Two games were booked with that team in as many days, but a heavy rain on the first day made it necessary to play a double-header on the next. Both games went into extra innings, the first one going thirteen innings; Cape Girardeau won both by the score of 10-7.

We wound up the season by meeting Concordia Seminary at Sportsman's Park to determine the city championship, each team hav-
Washing-ton still had the hobby for playing extra inning games, this going eleven. In the sixth inning, Washington directed its heavy artillery on pitcher Schlüeter and drove six runs across the plate. That should have been enough runs to win any ordinary ball game, but some very ragged playing on the part of some of the members of the Washington team permitted Concordia first to tie the score, and then to win out in the eleventh, 11-10. With this defeat the Pikers’ hope of retaining the city championship went glimmering.

The games scheduled against our ancient rivals, St. Louis U., were not played. The latter university could not whip a team together on time to meet us.

* * * *

“Lin” Milford captained the Pikers’ baseball team for the second year in succession. He was stationed at short stop, and played with the same ability that has characterized his work in other departments of athletics.

* * * *

Frank (“Rabbit”) Jones was one of the classiest players who ever made a Pikeway baseball team. At second base he put up a wonderful fielding game. His diminutive size, combined with his faculty for “waiting ‘em out,” made him the hardest man on the entire team for enemy moundsmen.

* * * *

“Bon” Busiek proved to be an excellent man at the initial sack. At the plate he was a terror to the opposing pitchers.

* * * *

“Dutch” Meinholtz was a natural-born fielder. He covered acres of ground out in center field, and the might of his good right arm held down many a would-be extra-base hit. When it came to a “pinch,” “Dutch” was the man of the hour. His hits were hard and frequent.
“Poge” Lewis alternated behind the bat and on the pitching mound, but it was as a pitcher that he finally found himself. His mound work was a source of chagrin for the opposing batsmen, while his hitting was the cause of worry among many pitchers.

* * * * *

“Puff” Martin worked on the pitching mound as the co-partner of “Poge.” At other times he was stationed at first base. “Puff” was an excellent fielder, and his batting was of the hard and timely kind.

* * * * *

“Jimmy” Leopold held the managerial reins and was stationed in the right field garden. An excellent fielder and a worthy batsman was “Jimmy.”

* * * * *

“Davy” Jones played almost every position on the team. He wound up the season as catcher, and with his accurate pegging he cut off many a would-be base-stealer. At the bat he brought fame to himself by his smashing, extra-base hits.

* * * * *

“Jerry” Meyer, left fielder, played in a more than creditable manner. His never-failing “pepper” worked wonders with the team. “Jerry” was “up-an’-at-em” all the time.

* * * * *

Paul Hewitt, after trying his hand at pitching, was located at third base. Paul developed wonderfully well at the far corner—a statement well evidenced by the fact that in the Cape Girardeau games he accepted fifteen chances without the semblance of an error.

1915 Varsity Tennis Champion

ROLAND HOERR, '15

Missouri Valley Conference Tournament
University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Neb.
HE 1915 season of tennis brought to Washington University, once again, the championship of the Missouri Valley Conference. The annual Missouri Valley tennis matches were played on May 14 and May 15 in Lincoln, Nebraska, the University of Nebraska acting as host to the visiting men. The meet was characterized by the large entry list, six colleges competing. It was due to the excellent network of Roland Hoerr and of Paul J. Hewitt that Washington was able to dispose in easy fashion of all competitors.

Roland Hoerr proved to be the class of the tournament and met with little opposition in winning his way to the championship. He drew a bye the first round and then disposed of Teachnor (Kansas U.) and Page (Drake) in the second and semi-final rounds respectively. In the finals, Hoerr stacked up against Ellis (Nebraska), who succumbed to Rollie's smashing game after four fast sets. Hewitt, in the lower half of the bracket, easily defeated Loomis (Missouri), and Newton (Kansas), but was himself beaten by Ellis (Nebraska), in the third round.

Hoerr and Hewitt paired together in the doubles and had an easy time of it. They defeated Bland-Loomis (Missouri) in the first round, and repeated in the second by drubbing Patty-Beach (Ames). In the keenest and most exciting of the tournament.

A dual tournament with Missouri University was also played later in the season. "Rollie" and Paul again showed their mettle and came through with easy victories.

Roland Hoerr graduated in June, but Hewitt will represent Washington on the court in 1916. With a good partner, Paul should repeat the good work of 1915 and Washington should boast of another Missouri Valley championship in tennis.

The 1915 Track Season

At the first call for candidates for the 1915 Track Team a squad of forty-six men reported. After two weeks' hard practice, the annual Inter-Class Meet was held at Francis Field on May 10. The Senior and Sophomore teams tied for first place with thirty-six points each. The Freshmen were third with twenty-two points and the Juniors came last with fourteen. One field record was broken in the Inter-Class Meet. DeMott Modisette, '15, hurled the discus a distance of 107 ft., 9 in., breaking the former record by several feet. After the regular track meet, a special baseball throwing contest was held. Poge Lewis won easily, throwing the ball 52 ft. 6 in. farther than his nearest opponent. Lewis' throw was 375 ft., which is within thirty feet of the world's record. A crowd of about five hundred spectators turned out to witness the affair.

On the following Saturday, April 17, the Law School team easily won the Inter-Department Meet. Modisette, Pemberton, Baumann, Stout, Hill, and Potthoff represented the Lawyers. They scored a total of fifty-seven points. The Engineers came second with thirty-three points, the College third with fourteen, and the Dents and Medics last with thirteen. The men showed a great improvement both in form and speed over the week before.

The Dual Meet with McKendree College followed on April 24th, in which Washington defeated the visitors sixty-eight to forty-nine. Modisette won the greatest number of points for Washington, while Beedle was the high man for McKendree. On the whole, the meet was highly successful.

Knox College won the dual meet on the following Saturday by one point. No exceptional records were made, owing to the strong wind that blew across the field during the meet. This meet ended the 1915 track season at Washington. On the whole, everybody was well satisfied with the results. Washington loses some excellent men this year in the persons of Modisette, Baumann, Potthoff, and Keysor.

Women's Athletics

WIMMING, hockey, aesthetic dancing, floor work, basketball and baseball form the chief activities of Women's Athletics.

Hockey was first on the list of activities. So great a number of girls came out for practice that there was more than enough material from which to pick four strong teams. The games between the classes were played with a great deal of enthusiasm. The Sophomore team was awarded the championship after a closely contested game with the Juniors. While the girls were practicing hockey, not a little interest was manifested in the Swimming Club. The Y.W.C.A. pool was rented one afternoon each week, from 4 to 6, for the university girls, and season tickets were sold to about fifty girls. The season lasted through the months of September, October and November. The club was resumed when the winter months were over.

During the winter months, basketball claimed prior attention. As in the hockey season, a great number of girls came out to practice. Good Freshmen, Sophomore and Junior teams were chosen. But because of the inability of the Seniors to get a complete line-up, they had no regular class team. However, in order to complete the schedule for games, which calls for a contest between each of the classes, Miss Grant and Miss Brocksted played with the 1916 team.

At the end of the preliminary games the Juniors remained undefeated; the Sophomores won two games and lost one; the Freshmen won one and lost two, and the Seniors lost three. The Juniors then defeated the Sophomores in two decisive games, thus winning the championship. So much enthusiasm was shown this year that a varsity was chosen. It is hoped that this will develop into an established custom and that next year the varsity will play outside teams of their own standing.

Indoor baseball followed close upon basketball. The games were contested by the class teams as in hockey and basketball.

An indoor meet took place in the Spring just before the close of the gymnasium classes.

The Tennis Tournament was an event of the Spring. It was a purely individual affair and the champion had her name engraved on a handsome cup presented by Wm. Brookings.

The athletics season closed with a banquet for all members of the Athletic Association.
