HERE is many a slip between the cup and the lip.” That is an old, old saying, but it is just as true now as when Hannibal crossed the Alps. It looked like 1916 would see the Piker football cup get to the lip, but here is where the slip comes in. Washington was doped to have the best team in its history, but somehow it could not get itself hooked up with success. It happened that several opponents of the Pikers also had their best team in years, and it also happened that “Doc” Edmunds was rarely able to put his best team in the field intact. Under the handicap of numerous and costly injuries and the unforeseen lack of a natural quarterback, the Coach found it a hard task to get his machine to running smoothly, and he succeeded in doing so only before the St. Louis game. But remember that the team which held the Valley champions to thirteen points when she had her strongest team in the field, and which crosses the inviolate Michigan goal line could only have been Washington’s best team.

Washington opened the season on Francis Field by winning from Rose Polytechnic of Terre Haute in a hard fought game, score 14 to 0. A very warm day and a dusty field made conditions very unfavorable for football, consequently no real line could be gotten on the team. The game as a whole was very slow, much time being taken out by both sides. The first half was very even and ended with no score on either side, but in the second half the speed of “Pete” Pemberton won the day. Pemberton scored two touchdowns, one on a 95 yard dash, after inter-accepting a Poly pass, and the other on a beautiful 50 yard dash around end. Mark one game up for “Pete.”
A th l et i c s

Four hundred Piker rooters saw the rampant Missouri Tigers score a hard fought victory over the Pikers, 13 to 0. The game was a thriller in every respect; the stubborn defense of the Pikers in the shadow of their goal posts, Dawson’s brilliant kicks at the moment they could do the most possible good, and the irresistible interference of the Tigers which enabled their backs to make many long runs, all kept the rooters in a fever heat throughout the contest. Four times the Tigers rushed the ball to our goal line, and each time the Piker line held before Stankowski wiggled over in the second quarter. From then on it was a battle royal until the last quarter was waning when Stankowski’s second touchdown removed all hope of a victory. The great playing of “Doc” Caffee at end and “Fritz” Foelsch at guard was the outstanding feature of Washington’s great defense.

Nobody will admit that Drake possessed as strong an eleven as Missouri, yet Drake beat us by the same score the following Saturday. Maybe the carburetor was not getting enough gas, or the machine needed oiling, or maybe the boys just had an off day. Somehow our boys could not make any headway past the middle of the field, while on two occasions the Drake backs broke loose and rushed the ball the length of the field for touchdowns. At any rate Drake beat us fair and square on our own field.

Following the Drake game, “Doc” Edmunds juggled his men with reckless abandon until the following Saturday an entirely rearranged team took the field against Rolla. Teamwork was lacking to a large degree but by individual efforts the Miners were downed in a close game, score 7 to 6. In the second quarter Tom Dawson smashed through the line for six points, and Kling added the winning margin. Rolla scored in the third period on a series of well executed passes, the last of which resulted in a touchdown. Goal was missed. “Dick” Stout despite a weak knee played a brilliant game at half for the Pikers, his many pretty runs keeping the ball in Rolla’s territory. He was ably seconded by Schwartzenebach, who showed a marked ability to follow his interference.

Three hundred men and sixty women, all rooters, journeyed to Ann Arbor on a special train to see Washington break into the “big league” against the mighty Wolverines. Yes, we were wallowed good and proper as the 66 to 7 score would indicate, but it was worth it. Did not “Buddy” Kling politely grab an intended forward pass out of a Michigander’s hands and outrun him 45 yards for a touchdown? He did; and every Piker rooter suffered a five minutes’ stroke of insanity. To recount the game would be useless; Michigan was superior in weight, in strength, in speed, in experience and in everything except fight and there we had them. Every Piker fought to the last ditch and were rewarded by seven points. Busiek, at tackle, played a beautiful game, outcharging his opponent and continually breaking through for tackles behind the line. Anyway, we saw Ann Arbor, we saw “Mauley,” we saw the Pikers fight and score and we had a heluva time.

Knox came to town just a trifle too quick after the Michigan battle.
Athletics

Our men were just beginning to breathe easily when Knox's best team in years held us to a 7-7 tie game. Fumbles were the cause of all our troubles; a fumble gave Knox a touchdown and many fumbles spoiled innumerable opportunities to score. Knox also fumbled quite a bit but every time a Knox man recovered. There you are, and every time we fumbled a Knox man got the ball. Bridgeford was a lucky Knox man to pick up a fumble on his ten yard line and gallop all the way for a touchdown. The Pikers scored just before the half ended by a series of dashing runs by Schwartzenbach and a double pass to Kling over the goal line.

The climax of the season came on November 30, alias Turkey Day, when Washington administered the third straight defeat to St. Louis University. It was a game in which everything was at stake for both teams and the score, 9 to 0, will indicate that it was the hardest fought battle of the year. The Pikers for the first time since the Missouri game showed a smooth running, finely conditioned machine which was powerful to score a touchdown and a goal from the field and to hold the Billikens in check the only time they became dangerous. The outstanding feature of the game was the all-round play of retiring Captain Busiek. "Bon" not only smashed the opposing line at will on the defense, but scored the lone touchdown after gaining a hundred yards himself in the fourth quarter. "Buddy" Kling, Captain for 1917, more than earned that honor by his brilliant defensive play and a beautiful field goal from the 38 yard line. More than ten thousand rooters packed Francis Field.

The 1916 Basketball Season may be classed neither as a success, nor a failure. True the Pikers won but one out of twelve games played in the Conference, but on the other hand they won the city collegiate championship for the third straight time from St. Louis U; and defeated the C. A. C. quintet, one of the best teams in this section. And it must be remembered that Fricke’s men were continually handicapped by serious injuries at most critical times, a lack of substitutes of high caliber; and what is probably most potent, a “green” team. The Pikers, nevertheless, were always a dangerous opponent, and never failed to put up a hard scrap, being usually deprived of the fruits of victory by superior stamina in the final moments of play.

The two St. Louis U. games were won in handy fashion. The first game at Francis Gymnasium resulted in victory by a score of 33 to 20, due to the great work of Duncker, who caged eight field goals. The second game at Muegge’s was a rough and tumble affair with the Pikers completely outplaying their opponents by a score of 41 to 24.

Rolla called for two games at Francis Gymnasium and took home the short end of both, 33 to 9 and 27 to 11. The Pikers were too much for the inexperienced Miners, only a tendency to loaf preventing two overwhelming scores.

The first game of the season resulted in a defeat at the hands of C. A. C. by a score of 45 to 21. The Tangled C men were too strong.
and experienced for their "green" rivals, consequently the defeat. The bright spot of the game was Kamp's guarding of Von Dach and the all-round play of centerman, Thomas. The Pikers gained ample revenge two weeks later by whipping the same team at Francis Gym in the best and most exciting game of the season. The Piker guarding was so close that C. A. C. obtained only five baskets, thirteen fouls by Hodge alone keeping them in the running.

Washington lost the first two encounters to Missouri because of a bad attack of stage fright.

All hopes of success on the trip to Lawrence and Manhattan were ruined by the injury to Kamp, and the consequent disruption of team play when "Toddy's" knee cracked the first night against the Aggies, the Piker defense went to pieces, giving the Aggies two easy games, 34 to 17, and 46 to 17. At Kansas a braver stand was made, but the reserve strength was not there and the result was two more defeats.

The first game at home resulted in a victory over Kansas, 23 to 16. The next night saw Kansas turn the tables, overwhelming our exhausted boys in the last minutes of play.

The Pikers played real basketball against the Aggies, but it might be added that the Aggies played considerable ball themselves. Although defeated the Pikers fought to the last ditch and gave the clean playing Farmers a great run for their money. Only the fact that they were playing champions, deprived the Piker brand of play from winning.

The two final games against Missouri were a combination of basket ball-wrestling-football. For excitement these games could not be beaten. The Tigers nosed out a 23 to 19 victory the first night due to the great work of Williams, who scored seventeen points. The second night's play resulted in a 31 to 22 defeat for the Pikers, but it might be added that a student of Missouri U. was refereeing, the Tigers refusing to play if he did not referee. This game was featured by the brilliant guarding of Williams by Kamp, each getting two field goals. The games were replete with circus shots by Benway, Duncker and Kamp.

1916 Track Season

More men responded to Coach Edmund's call for track practice this spring than ever before. These men also came out regularly all during the season, and give promise of forming a highly successful track team next spring. The 1916 season was a success, although the records may not seem to bear this statement out, because it brought out many good men with several years of competition left, and it stirred up a promising interest in track athletics.

A Dual Meet with Knox College came on May 6th, which did not result so favorably for Washington. Several of the men who were counted upon to score heavily failed signally and consequently Knox took home the long end of a 58 1-3 to 49 2-3 score.

On May 13th, Washington easily captured a three-cornered meet from McKendree College and the Southern Illinois Normals. The feature of the meet were two splendid runs by Brady and Rawlings. Brady set a new Washington record in the half mile when he ran the distance in 2:02 2-5.

Rolla won the dual meet on the following Saturday by a score of 69 to 52. While offering no alibis it must be said that we were without the services of Marsh and Stites, which reduced our possible total a good bit. The feature of the meet was the two hairline finishes of Imlay and Pemberton in the dashes. Each time, the speedy Miner beat "Pete" by an eyelash. This meet ended the 1916 track season at Washington.

Washington loses such excellent men this year as Leuking, Bubb, Kammerer, Leopold, and Brady, all of whom have been hard and consistent workers on the track for the Myrtle and Maroon.

Women's Athletics

An increased interest was shown in athletics this year by the women of Washington. The activities were, as usual, the tennis matches, the hockey, basketball and baseball interclass games, the swimming and the indoor meets. The new events of this season were the series of outdoor basketball games and the field meet. A get-together luncheon, which over a hundred women attended, was given at the beginning of October to arouse interest in athletics.

This year, a new plan concerning dress was adopted. A navy blue uniform for outdoor sports was required of all students who took the compulsory gymnasium work, and also of those who participated in all games on the athletic field.

Another new factor was the course in playground management. This was for the benefit of girls who do summer work in the city playgrounds, as well as for those who expect to teach in the grades or small town high schools. Besides this, an excellent course in anatomy at the Medical School was open, especially to women interested in playground work or in physical education.

The first activity was tennis. The singles were won by Jessamine Price, who will have her name engraved on the Brookings cup. Helen Johnston and Jessamine Price, of the class of '18, won the doubles.

Next came the hockey season which was a great success. Each class played every other in a preliminary series; then the two winners, the Seniors and Juniors, competed for the championship in a series of three games. The Class of '18 was victorious for the second consecutive year.

Basketball began just before the holidays. Games were played the last week in February and the first in March. The plan of playing each other class in a preliminary series and a series of three games for the championship was adopted. The Juniors proved themselves worthy of the championship for 1917. A few weeks after this, basketball games were played on the new out-door courts by a fresh set of teams.

Besides arousing an interest in athletics at Washington, we have been able to show a broader outlook in athletics for women by sending a delegate to the First Conference of Western College Women's Athletic Associations, held at Madison, Wisconsin, on March ninth and tenth.
