The proposed building for the new School of Commerce and Finance will be erected at the northwest corner of the first Quadrangle, sometime during the coming summer. It will be a long structure, similar in construction to the buildings on each side of it, Eads Hall and Cupples 2. The School of Commerce and Finance will extend on the eastern extremity to the Sophomore wall, which lies between Cupples 1 and Ridgley Library. Space in the building will be devoted to large lecture halls, modern library facilities, and professors' offices. The cost will approximate $80,000.
