Said the Founder of Our Country

Speaking of a Cherry Tree,
I'll never forget the time when father
   Nearly put me across his knee;
But when he spied my bright-edged Hatchet,
   He said, "Sonny, none can match it;
It's the Simmons' KEEN KUTTER,
   And it stands for Quality."

Upon Honesty—honest dealings and honest goods—rests the reputation of the KEEN KUTTER HATCHET, one of a long line of high-grade tools and cutlery bearing the name of the Simmons Hardware Company.

By insisting upon the best grade of materials and labor to put into its KEEN KUTTER products, the Simmons Hardware Company is able honestly to advertise—

"The Recollection of QUALITY Remains Long After the Price is Forgotten."
"Trade Mark Reg. in U. S. Pat. Off.—E. C. Simmons."

Think This Over!

Suppose someone should say to you to-night: "I want you to become a partner in my business the first of the month. If you will put $1,000 in the firm as an evidence of good faith, the partnership is yours." Would YOU be in a position to accept? Could you show a savings account that would permit of such a move? If not, turn your attention at once to some systematic plan of saving.

Hundreds of young men have gone upwards to success simply because they were ready when just such a call came. They had money as well as ability. Ability is a mighty valuable asset, but "many a genius has starved in a garret." Start a Mercantile Savings Account today in the Mercantile Trust Company and you are on the road to independence. $1 will do that, but a larger sum will make you feel that your account is worth while.

Let Tests on Roughest Roads Decide Which Car Excels

Will you accept this proposal to make a practical comparison of the Marmon 34 and any other comparable car? You to name the car, and the roads on which we will demonstrate the Marmon in competition with it.

Pick out the roughest ground you know, and have the demonstrator for the second car drive you over it at any touring speed. Try it at several speeds, up to that car's limit.

Then let us take you in a Marmon 34 across the same rough stretches at identical speeds. Or, if you prefer, do the driving yourself in both demonstrations.

In addition to that, have the gasoline measured at the start and finish.

The performance of the Marmon in tests like this has surprised experienced motorists. It will bring home to you the lesson in advanced engineering this car has taught.

Observe the ease in starting and stopping, the quick acceleration—and how this light-weight car adheres to the road at speeds up to 55 miles an hour without the least side-sway.

Observe the luxurious riding comfort due to the low-hung body, low center of gravity, perfect balance front and rear, extra long wheelbase and Marmon special spring suspension.

This light-weight car omits a half-ton extra load that you do not have to pull when you start and you do not have to carry on your tires while you're going.

Marmon not only reduces personal exertion, but saves from 40 to 50 per cent in tire expense, and from 50 to 75 per cent in gasoline.

All we ask is a chance to prove these facts in comparison with any other car of this size and power.

ROBINSON—A very peculiar biped, which has characteristics of man, bird, beast, and fish. It talks like a man, looks like a fish, and acts semi-annually like a beast. As to the bird connection, this is probably where the animal gets its name. Whenever spoken to or generally approached by a woman, its face turns the color of the breast of the bird known as the Robin.

CONANT—A species of bug. Authorities, however, have failed in their attempts to associate the Conant with the generally known domestic ant, or in fact even with the African ant, which is of much greater stature. The Conant hibernates in Massachusetts statutes. It was first found in Bawston.

HELLER—(Deriv.) Hell from the Phoenician “hell,” meaning hell, and “er” from the Teutonic “er,” meaning “err;” hence, Heller—to err like hell. This is particularly noticeable in latter January and early June, when the Heller passes opinion on its various unfortunate captives.

DOUAY—A fossil. It was brought over to this country from France. Unlike the sponge and coral, it retained life after being transplanted. Has strange hirsute erections on face.

LIPPINCOTT—(Rarum genus) An animal of male species. Mentioned here because of eccentricity. Despite masculinity seems to prefer association with female animals. Otherwise is quite regular in traits and habits.

Some writers remind us of a drunken man on his homeward journey. He starts at a given point, staggers to a lamp post, then crosswalks to a fence, then to a telephone post.

In fact, his trail reminds us of one of the old-fashioned extension hat racks.

Of course, you get our point. It is the way that some fools write.

Now we are different. We told you that (Continued on page 375)

To draw you aside as we have done and interest you as we have tried to do, and then to have you leave disappointed would be liable to compromise your belief in our integrity.

Thanks, dear reader; we are at our ease now and can think better. For a while we thought that you would refuse to give us a chance to think the matter out and redeem ourselves.

A SERIOUS DISLOCATION

Even the lowly comma, when misplaced, may be the cause of disaster. Of this no better instance can be found than that where the typo, setting up a little story, asserts: "The two young men spent the early part of the evening with two young ladies; and after they left, the girls got drunk!"—Ex.

Harvard Student: "Can I obtain the key to your heart?"

The Love of a Man

The love of a woman is sweet;
In life I have fondled a few,
Have felt the red blood as it beat
The uttermost arteries through.
Yet, God in His wisdom divine,
Yet, God in His infinite plan,
Made nothing as holy and fine
As the love of a man for a man.

There was one with the dark in her hair;
There was one with the dawn in her eyes;
There was one who had kisses to spare—
For never a memory dies.
But, maids, you were nothing but maids;
You passed as the waters ran;
For what are the angels or jades
By the love of a man for a man.

The love of a woman is warm,
Her kisses are hot as the south;
And glorious battle to storm
The road to her amorous mouth.
But what is the nectar you drink,
The fragile and beautiful span,
By one indestructible link,
The love of a man for a man.

For when she has thrown you aside,
Has passed from embraces and sight;
And all of the noonday has died,
And left but the stars and the night,
You feel on your shoulder a hand,
For comfort you come where you can,
And deep in your heart understand
The love of a man for a man.

He'll go with you over the trail,
The trail that is lonesome and long:
His faith will not falter or fail,
Nor falter the lift of his song.
He knows both your soul and your sins,
And does not too carefully scan;
The highway to heaven begins
With the love of a man for a man.

HAT the 1920 Hatchet may be of service to those interested in the welfare of the University is the sincere wish of the staff.

Service, as the motto of all during the past trying year, has been first in the minds of men. May this spirit of serving, whether country or University, remain with us all, and may this book, in which we have tried to picture some of the life of Washington University, serve as a reminder of “Those days of youth which all of us spent with thee.”
