GENERAL STATEMENT

HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION

On the 22nd of February, 1853, at the instance of Wayman Crow, Esq., a member of the State Senate, the Legislature of Missouri granted a charter to an educational institution to be located in the city of St. Louis, and to bear the name Eliot Seminary, in honor of the Rev. William G. Eliot, of St. Louis.

The charter was to be perpetual, and no limitations were imposed, excepting those which forbade any sectarian or partisan instruction. The first meeting of the Corporation named in the charter of incorporation was held on the 22nd of February, 1854. In deference to the wishes of the Rev. Dr. Eliot, the name of the institution was changed. Since the charter had been granted on the 22nd of February, the birthday of Washington, and since the meeting of the Corporation for organization had also occurred on this same anniversary, the name of the institution was changed from Eliot Seminary to Washington Institute, which in 1857 became, by a change in the charter, Washington University. It seemed to the founders that the name was significant of the character of the institution which they sought to found. The first Board of Directors was composed of seventeen well-known, public-spirited citizens of St. Louis, who were named in the charter, and who were given the power to fill vacancies in their number caused by death or resignation.

The first educational work done under the charter of 1853 was the opening of an evening school for boys, in a building on Sixth Street, during the winter of 1854-55. This school was called the "O'Fallon Polytechnic Institute," in honor of Colonel John O'Fallon, for years one of the University Directors, and was in charge of Messrs. Jeremiah D. Low and Nathan D. Tirrell. This evening school, and a day school which had been in operation for some time before this period, were carried on together by the same teachers until, in September, 1856, a building on Seventeenth Street was completed and occupied by the day school. The evening school was sustained for several years by the University, until by special arrangement the entire care of this school was assumed by the Public School Board. This school on Seventeenth Street, the forerunner of Smith Academy, formerly a secondary school conducted under the charter of the University, was the real beginning of Washington University.

The formal inauguration of the University took place on the 23rd of April, 1857. The leading feature of its exercises was an oration by the Hon. Edward Everett, of Massachusetts, upon "Academic Education," delivered in Mercantile Library Hall. Later in the year a building was erected for the chemical laboratory. In the next year the organization of the College was completed, and the first College degrees were granted in 1862.

The east wing of the main building on Washington Avenue and Seventeenth Street, of which the academic building formed the south wing, was erected in 1858 and used for College classes; the west wing was added in 1871 and devoted to the uses of the Polytechnic School.

In the meantime the University had been growing, adding new departments, and receiving additional endowments. The Law School was organized in 1867; the Polytechnic School, now known as the Schools of Engineering and Architecture, in 1870; the School of Fine Arts in 1879; the School of Botany in 1885. The St. Louis Medical College, founded in 1842, was admitted as a department of the University in 1891, and the Missouri Dental College in 1892. In 1899 the Missouri Medical College, which was founded in 1840, was united with the St. Louis Medical College to form the Medical School of Washington University. In the autumn of 1909 the St. Louis School of Philanthropy was taken over from the control of the University of Missouri, and affiliated with Washington University as the School of Social Economy; in February, 1913, it was made a department of the University. By action of the Corporation on February 5, 1915, this School was discontinued as a department of the University at the close of the academic year 1914-15. The Division of University Extension was formally organized with both Evening and Saturday Courses in the fall of 1915. The School of Commerce and Finance was organized March 30, 1917, and formally opened in September, 1917. July 1, 1926, the name was changed to the School of Business and Public Administration. By act of the Corporation on April 25, 1918, the terms, the School of Law, the School of Medicine, the School of Dentistry were adopted as the official names of what were previously known as the Law School, the Medical School, the Dental School. While graduate work leading to the master's and doctor's degrees had been effectively done for many years in a number of the University's departments of instruction, a graduate school was not officially organized until June 6, 1922, at which time the Corporation passed an ordinance creating The School of Graduate Studies and providing for its government and administration. By act of the Corporation, March 2, 1923, there was established a separate Graduate School of Economics and Government, with a Residence Foundation in the city of Washington for the third or thesis year students in order that they might take advantage of the facilities offered at the National Capital for the investigation of the problems involved in their subjects. After a year's experience it became evident that, through the importance and development of this work and the difficulties of administration at a distance, it would be advisable that the School should be organized as a separate institution. This was accomplished in 1924, under the name "The Robert Brookings Graduate School of Economics and Government," which accepts second year graduate students in Economics, and Social and Political Science. The first session of the Summer School was held in the summer of 1924. The School of Nursing, which was started in 1905, was established by vote of the Corporation as a degree conferring school, on April 10, 1924.

In 1879 the Academy, which was the first school in operation under the charter, was transferred from the old building on Seventeenth Street and Washington Avenue to a new building on Nineteenth Street and Washington Avenue, erected by funds which came to the Chancellor from James and Persis Smith, and the school was known as Smith Academy, in their honor. Mary Institute, a school for girls, was organized in 1859, and the Manual Training School in 1879. By action of the Corporation on February 5, 1915, the Smith Academy and the Manual Training School were united under the name Smith Academy-The Manual Training School. This action took effect July 1, 1915. On March 30, 1916, the Corporation voted to discontinue Smith Academy on June 30, 1917. The Corporation also voted that.
beginning with the fall semester, 1917, instruction in manual training be confined to the undergraduate department, and be conducted in the shops on the main campus.

In 1894 a tract of land, of which the University now owns about 155 acres, was purchased just outside the city limits, northwest of Forest Park. The generosity of the citizens of St. Louis made it possible to adopt plans for building and to begin work at once. Twenty-two buildings and eight fraternity houses have been erected and the new site has been in the possession of the University since January 30, 1905.

In 1910 the Corporation of the University, appreciating the valuable service which a medical school can render to the community, with the coöperation of the Medical Faculty, reorganized the School in all departments and appointed heads of departments and instructors in anatomy, physiology, biological chemistry, pathology, medicine, surgery, and pediatrics, who devote themselves to teaching and research, and associated with this staff clinical instructors chosen from the medical profession of St. Louis.

In 1914 the Washington University School of Medicine moved from its old location on the corner of Eighteenth and Locust Streets to the new buildings facing Forest Park on the corner of Kingshighway Boulevard and Euclid Avenue. The three buildings of the School of Medicine form a part of a medical group which includes in addition the Barnes Hospital, the St. Louis Children's Hospital, the St. Louis Maternity Hospital, the McMillan Eye, Ear, Nose, and Throat Hospital, the Oscar Johnson Institute for Research in Ophthalmology and Oto-Laryngology, and the Mallinckrodt Radiological Institute. The McMillan Eye, Ear, Nose, and Throat Hospital, the Oscar Johnson Institute, and the Mallinckrodt Radiological Institute are owned by the University. The Barnes Hospital, the St. Louis Children's Hospital, and the St. Louis Maternity Hospital have entered into an affiliation with the School of Medicine by which the Faculty of the School of Medicine constitutes the medical staffs and supplies laboratory service, and the hospitals permit the School of Medicine to use their wards for teaching and investigation.

Construction of the Mallinckrodt Radiological Institute was begun in the fall of 1929 and will be finished during the year 1930. This Institute will provide the radiological service for the hospitals of the University group. The Institute will also contain laboratories for research in the physics and biology of radiation. The combined building of the McMillan Eye, Ear, Nose, and Throat Hospital and the Oscar Johnson Institute will be finished during the year 1930. The Oscar Johnson Institute will contain five floors devoted to research and teaching in the fields of Ophthalmology and Oto-Laryngology.

In 1919 the Department of Pharmacology was organized; in 1924 the Department of Bacteriology and Immunology; in 1927 the Department of Obstetrics was placed on a full-time basis; and in 1929 the Departments of Ophthalmology and Oto-Laryngology were reorganized on a full-time basis. The Mallinckrodt Radiological Institute, now under construction, will accommodate the Department of Radiology.

These developments have been made possible by the generous gifts of citizens of St. Louis and the General Education Board.

Graduates of the St. Louis Medical College number 2,125; of the Missouri Medical College, 2,915; and of the Medical Department of Washington University, 1,468.

THE BUILDINGS OF THE SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

The four buildings of the School of Medicine are connected by corridor and tunnel with the Barnes Hospital, the St. Louis Children's Hospital, the St. Louis Maternity Hospital, and the McMillan Hospital and Oscar Johnson Institute. They are the Building for the Dispensary and Hospital Laboratories, the North Laboratory Building, the South Laboratory Building, and the Mallinckrodt Radiological Institute.

In the Building for the Dispensary and Hospital Laboratories, the Dispensary occupies the first floor and basement, the Laboratory of Internal Medicine the second floor, and the departments of Pathology, and Bacteriology and Immunology the upper two floors, together with a western extension of the building connecting it with the Barnes Hospital, and containing the mortuary and the autopsy amphitheater.

The North Laboratory Building contains the administrative offices of the School of Medicine, the Assembly Hall, the Library, and the Departments of Experimental Surgery and Anatomy.
THE SOUTH LABORATORY BUILDING accommodates the Departments of Biological Chemistry, Pharmacology, and Physiology.

NURSES' RESIDENCE

This building is located on Kingshighway facing Forest Park. It is of concrete construction and fire-proof. On the first floor are reception rooms, a class room, and administrative offices. The upper floors are arranged to accommodate 377 nurses.

CLINICAL FACILITIES

The affiliation of the Barnes Hospital, the St. Louis Children's Hospital, the St. Louis Maternity Hospital, the McMillan Eye, Ear, Nose, and Throat Hospital, and the Oscar Johnson Institute for research in Ophthalmology and Oto-Laryngology, with the Washington University School of Medicine makes these institutions for teaching purposes integral parts of the School of Medicine. These hospitals offer opportunities for study and observation in every important branch of medicine, and are closely connected with the Dispensary conducted by the University, which serves as the Out-Patient Department of the hospital. This assures to the student unusual advantages in clinical work. The attending staffs of the University Hospitals consist of the heads of the University Departments of Medicine, Surgery, Obstetrics and Gynecology, Pediatrics, Ophthalmology, and Oto-Laryngology, with their associates and assistants.

Free and pay patients may be admitted to all of the hospitals in the University group, but every effort is made to prevent the pauperization of the individual, and patients who are able to pay are expected to meet the nominal rates in force.

In the hospitals there is adequate laboratory equipment for the investigations necessary in diagnosis. In addition to the ward laboratories, there are special laboratories in all departments with facilities for research workers.

THE BARNES HOSPITAL

The buildings of the Barnes Hospital are situated on Kingshighway facing Forest Park on the south and west.

With the space in the private pavilion the capacity of the Barnes Hospital is approximately 300 beds.
In the summer of 1929 demolition of the three-story surgical ward of Barnes Hospital was begun in order to make way for a new surgical pavilion, the Rand-Johnson Memorial Building. This will be completed during the year 1930, and will provide for nearly 300 additional beds. During construction, rearrangements within the hospital have made it possible to care for 90 per cent as many patients as normally.

The Hospital contains numerous class rooms, laboratories, lecture rooms, and examining rooms, in addition to the accommodations usually found in general hospitals.

The Hospital is supported by income from endowment and from patients, and by funds derived from outside sources. It is not a municipal institution.

The Hospital admits patients fifteen years of age or over, suffering from general medical or surgical diseases. Contagious patients are not admitted. In the admission of patients, no distinction is made as to color, race, or creed. During the year 1929, 6,025 patients were admitted for treatment and care.

THE ST. LOUIS CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

The St. Louis Children's Hospital is located on Kingshighway Boulevard facing Forest Park, and is connected by corridor to the other hospitals of the University group of the School of Medicine. The total bed capacity is 143. The Hospital is supported by income from endowment and from patients and by voluntary contributions. It is not a municipal institution.

Infants and children of all ages up to fifteen years are admitted without distinction. Special wards are provided for private patients, negro patients, and children suffering from contagious diseases. During the year 1929, 3,040 patients were admitted for treatment and care.

The Hospital houses the research and routine laboratories of the Department of Pediatrics.

The St. Louis Children's Hospital also maintains a country department at Valley Park, Missouri, twenty miles from St. Louis. The capacity of the Country Department is 75 patients. Children suffering from malnutrition, surgical tuberculosis, or those who are convalescent from acute illnesses are admitted. Patients with pulmonary tuberculosis are not admitted. Instruction to limited group of students is offered at the Country Department.

THE ST. LOUIS MATERNITY HOSPITAL

The St. Louis Maternity Hospital is at the corner of Kingshighway Boulevard and Euclid Avenue, facing Forest Park, between the Barnes and McMillan Hospitals. The Hospital has accommodations for 103 women and an equal number of newly born babies. Forty-three beds are for private patients.

One floor is reserved for colored patients who have their own delivery rooms and separate entrance.

One floor of this hospital is set aside for the research laboratories of the Department of Obstetrics.

During the year 1929, 2,030 cases were admitted to the St. Louis Maternity Hospital.

THE McMILLAN EYE, EAR, NOSE AND THROAT HOSPITAL AND THE OSCAR JOHNSON INSTITUTE FOR RESEARCH IN OPHTHALMOLOGY AND OTO-LARYNGOLOGY

Construction of the McMillan Hospital and the Oscar Johnson Institute will be completed during the fall of 1930. The Hospital and Research Institute are housed in a single eleven-story building which is owned by Washington University. The Hospital, when completed, will have 150 beds divided equally between ophthalmology and oto-laryngology. One floor is reserved for private patients, one for semi-private, and one for colored patients. The hospital is located at the corner of Euclid Avenue and Kingshighway Boulevard, and faces Forest Park. The basement is continuous with that of the building of the Washington University Dispensary.

The Oscar Johnson Institute for Research in Ophthalmology and Oto-Laryngology occupies the upper five floors of the building and houses the departmental offices and research laboratories of the Departments of Ophthalmology and Oto-Laryngology.
WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY DISPENSARY OUT-PATIENT DEPARTMENT OF THE BARNES, ST. LOUIS CHILDREN'S,
ST. LOUIS MATERNITY, AND MCMILLAN EYE, EAR, NOSE AND THROAT HOSPITALS

The Washington University Dispensary is an organic part of the School of Medicine and is entirely controlled by the Corporation of the University through the Medical Faculty. It functions as the out-patient clinic of all of the hospitals in the University group. The Dispensary is housed in the basement and first floors of one of the medical school buildings and of the McMillan Hospital. The Heads of the various departments in the School of Medicine direct the corresponding departments in the Dispensary and the Dispensary is staffed by the same group of men as the University Hospitals.

During the year 1929 there were 129,580 visits of patients to the Dispensary.

SERVICE OF THE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF MEDICINE IN THE CITY HOSPITALS

At the invitation of the authorities of the Hospital Division of the City of St. Louis, Washington University has assumed control and has become responsible for the medical care of one-half of the patients in the St. Louis City Hospital, and for one-half of the patients in the City Infectious Disease Hospital, and has further agreed to render such professional service in the other municipal institutions as the Hospital Commissioner might request.

The physical equipment of these hospitals is such that this service can be used to advantage for both undergraduate and graduate teaching, and the addition of these units to the clinical facilities of the University greatly broadens the opportunities for teaching. By this cooperation, it is also possible for the University to render a distinct service to the community and to the sick poor. The number of beds made available by this arrangement is approximately 500.

The general plan of organization of the Washington University units in these hospitals is the same as that in operation in the University Hospitals. Each unit is organized with a Chief of Staff who is held responsible for the work of the department and for the proper assignment of work to his associates.

SCHOOL OF MEDICINE LIBRARY

The Library contains (October 1, 1929) 43,226 bound volumes and receives 489 of the most important medical periodicals, selected with reference to the needs of students and investigators. Of these 421 are in complete series. Including obsolete journals, there are 701 complete sets.

The Library is open week days from 8:30 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. In summer vacation the hours are 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

The stacks are open to readers. In the stack rooms every other stack has a table at the window end. There are also three study rooms and four cubicles where books can be placed for investigators. A large reading room provides ample table space and open shelves for current publications.

The Library has been enriched by the acquisition of several private collections. Among these are the library of the late Julius Pagel, Professor of the History of Medicine at the University of Berlin, the gift of the late Mrs. Benjamin Brown Graham of St. Louis. This comprises about twenty-five hundred titles, including many works on the history of medicine, medical biography, bibliography, terminology, medical sociology, and ethics. There is also the fine collection of the late Dr. John Green of periodicals and books relating to ophthalmology; that of the late Dr. W. E. Fischel, on internal medicine, and the library of the late Dr. Frank J. Lutz, Clinical Professor of Surgery, containing many valuable works on anatomy, surgery, medical history, and biography. The latest additions are the Dr. J. B. Shapleigh collection on Otology, the library of the late Dr. Elsworth F. Smith, Professor of Clinical Medicine and Pathological Anatomy, the Dr. Greenfield Sluder collection on Laryngology and Rhinology, the Ophthalmological library of Dr. M. H. Post, and the Dr. Malvern B. Clopton gift of incunabula, as follows: Leonicenus, Libellus Epidemia, Venice 1497, Mesue, Opera, Venice 1491, Gordon, Lilium Medicina, Venice 1498.

The Beaumont Room, adjoining the main reading room, contains manuscripts, letters, and other valuable material of the pioneer American physiologist, William Beaumont, presented to the University by his granddaughter, the late Lily Beaumont Irwin. The original notes made during the investigations on the stomach of Alexis St. Martin form part of the collection. Here also may be seen the portrait of Beaumont by Chester Harding.

Other libraries in St. Louis containing literature relating to medicine, which are available to students, either directly or through the Library of the School, are the following:

- The Library of Washington University, Skinker Road.
- The St. Louis Medical Library, 3839 Lindell Boulevard.
- The St. Louis Public Library, Olive and Fourteenth Streets.
- The Library of the Missouri Botanical Garden, Shenandoah and Tower Grove Avenues.
- The Mercantile Library, Broadway and Locust Street.

A loan service is maintained with various medical libraries in the country, notably the Library of the Surgeon General in Washington, and the John Crerar Library in Chicago.

MUSEUMS AND COLLECTIONS

In the Department of Anatomy there is a museum for teaching and a collection of material for investigation.

The museum is combined with the class laboratories in order that it may be used for reference at all times. It comprises specimens and models of adult organs and organic systems, variations, and preparations illustrating development. Recently a valuable collection of anatomical specimens prepared with unusual skill and care by Bohumil Hochmann has been purchased for the museum. The collection contains a series of skeletons, of known race, sex and age, Indian crania and other material for anthropological study; microscopical sections, embryos, and models, and materials for the study of comparative anatomy.

The Museum of Pathology contains specimens prepared and catalogued for use in the teaching of pathological anatomy. Specimens needed by any department of the School for demonstrations or lectures may be obtained from the museum under regulations similar to those in force in the Library. The Departments of Surgery and Obstetrics have aided in the collection of material suitable for the teaching of these subjects and other special departments have the opportunity to cooperate in making similar collections. Diseases of bones are well illustrated.
by a large number of specimens collected during the early history of the School by Dr. Charles A. Pope and Dr. John T. Hodgen. A section of the museum contains experimental pathological lesions.

WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY MEDICAL SOCIETY

The Washington University Medical Society is conducted to promote the advance of medicine in the University and in the hospitals affiliated with it by the report and discussion of investigations undertaken in the laboratories and hospitals. The meetings are open to students of the School. Physicians of St. Louis and visiting physicians are welcome.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND ATHLETICS

Equipment. The David R. Francis Gymnasium is situated at the extreme western part of the campus. It is a massive structure, 100 by 180 feet, three stories high, with a main exercising hall measuring 75 by 107 feet. The building is completely equipped with the most modern kinds of apparatus. There are thirty-six hot and cold shower baths, a trophy room, wrestling, fencing, and handball rooms, offering every convenience for the student. Accommodations for indoor track and baseball are provided, and in the main hall is a suspended corked running track, eighteen laps to the mile.

The Wilson Swimming Pool was presented by Mrs. Newton R. Wilson, a friend of the University, whose interest in Physical Education and Athletics is expressed by this splendid gift to the University. The pool is housed in a building to the north of Francis Gymnasium, with which it is connected by a corridor. The pool itself is 75 feet long and 36 feet wide. The depth of the water runs from 3½ feet at the shallow end to 9 feet at the deep end. The pool building is provided with the best and most modern equipment obtainable. It is constructed with women's quarters at one end and men's quarters at the other, making it possible for both the men and women of the University to use the pool. The building provides seating capacity for nearly 1,000 persons, thus furnishing ample space for the spectators who will attend swimming meets and exhibitions.
The Field House, completed in January, 1926, is connected by passageways with Francis Gymnasium and the Wilson Pool and with them forms the largest single gymnasium unit in the country. The Field House was built primarily for intercollegiate basketball and when used for this purpose has a seating capacity of 8,000. It has a removable stage at one end of the building and when used as an auditorium the seating capacity is 10,000. There are three basketball courts, a ten-lap track, several jumping pits, and a baseball cage in the building. The Field House is so constructed that it may be enlarged to twice its present size.

Francis Field is well known as one of the finest athletic fields in the country. The concrete grand stand has a seating capacity of 10,000. Excellent tennis courts adjoin the field.

McMillan Hall contains the women's gymnasium. It is equipped with the most modern kinds of apparatus, lockers, and baths.

A splendid athletic field is provided for women's athletics, and the entire work is given out of doors, when the weather permits. Intramural tournaments are held in field-hockey, soccer, basketball, tennis, track, baseball, volleyball, and swimming.

UNIVERSITY HEALTH SERVICE

All students in degree-conferring departments are required to take a medical examination to be made by the Resident Physician and representatives of the Washington University School of Medicine.

Consultation, diagnosis, and treatment for injuries and acute or emergency conditions will be provided by a Resident Physician and Resident Nurse on the campus. Treatment for such conditions will be furnished without charge on the campus and at the Dispensary of the Washington University School of Medicine. Vaccination for smallpox, typhoid and other diseases will be offered.

For the Health Service thus outlined a charge of $2.00 per year for each student registering in degree conferring departments will be required, payable at time of registration for the first semester.
REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION TO SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

The first year class is limited to eighty-two students. Since the number of applicants considerably exceeds the number who can be accommodated, those applicants are selected for acceptance who, on the basis of scholarship and other qualities, appear best fitted to take up the study of medicine. Applications for admission should be filed at as early a date as possible, and under all circumstances before June 10th of the year during which admission is sought. An applicant acceptable to the faculty is required to make a deposit of fifty dollars, which shall be in the hands of the Registrar within two weeks after notification of acceptance. This deposit of fifty dollars will be applied toward the first payment of tuition, and will not be returnable.

If a new student does not register on one of the days set aside for that purpose his place in the class may be given to some other applicant.

Students may be admitted to the first-year class on compliance with the following requirements:

1. The completion of college courses equivalent or approximately equivalent to those given in leading colleges or universities, leading to a Bachelor's degree. The college work must have included not less than the equivalent of 6 semester hours of English, 10 of German or French, 15 of Chemistry (including elementary quantitative analysis and 4 in organic), 8 of General Physics and 8 of Zoology.

2. The completion of college courses in an acceptable college or university of a total equivalent to not less than 90 semester hours, and including not less than 6 semester hours of English, 10 of German or French, 15 of Chemistry (including elementary quantitative analysis and 4 in organic chemistry), 8 of General Physics and 8 of Zoology.

1 In the case of students who present high school credits in French or German for entrance to college, the following college credits will be accepted, provided the college courses are in continuation of and do not duplicate the high school work:

Eight semester hours following one high school unit, six semester hours following two high school units, and four semester hours following three high school units.
Students accepted on this basis may receive the degree of Bachelor of Science in Medical Science after satisfactory completion of all required courses of the first and second years in the School of Medicine, and after the satisfactory conduct of an investigation in one of the medical sciences, and the preparation of an acceptable thesis which must be presented to the head of the department concerned by May 1st of the year the student is a candidate for the degree. Compliance with the last requirement for this degree will not usually be attained before the end of the third or fourth year.

Beginning with the session 1931-32, a Bachelor's degree will be required, except that a limited number of applicants who have completed less than four years of work in an acceptable college may be admitted if they show exceptional aptitude for the study of Medicine.

The college courses pursued by students intending to take up the study of medicine should include the following:

English. One year of English covering composition and rhetoric.

German or French. It is highly desirable, if not essential, that students of medicine have such acquaintance with French and German as to enable them to read medical and scientific publications in these languages. Courses extending through two years are usually necessary to acquire a reading knowledge of either language.

Physics. A course in general physics, including laboratory work, which should be largely quantitative in character.

Chemistry. General inorganic chemistry, elementary quantitative analysis, and organic chemistry are required.

Zoology. Courses in general zoology, covering a study of the structure, functions, and life history of selected types of animal life. Unless these courses include embryology, a separate course in this subject is extremely desirable.

Elective Courses

It is recommended that students preparing themselves for the study of medicine so arrange their courses as to acquire a more extensive knowledge of the subjects which are the foundation of the medical sciences than can be obtained in the courses included in the minimum requirement. The field covered by the practice of medicine and by the medical sciences is so broad that those whose special interests and capabilities lead them to an intensive study of either physics, chemistry, or biology are sure to find an application for the skill they acquire.

Chemistry has the greatest number of applications and students will therefore find it to their advantage, wherever possible, to add other courses in chemistry, particularly physical chemistry, to those previously mentioned.

Mathematics should be included as early as possible among the courses selected because it furnishes concepts fundamental to the other sciences. The necessary mathematical experience can be gained in a college course in mathematical analysis, supplemented by one in the elementary principles of the calculus.

Courses in psychology, general physiology, and general bacteriology will prove useful, but in general it is advised that the college period be devoted to the basic sciences and to the humanities. Those preparing to enter the medical profession should possess a liberal culture such as is gained from a thorough acquaintance with English literature and from a knowledge of history, the social sciences, and the classics. Special effort should be directed toward the acquirement of facility in English composition.

Formal application blanks will be furnished upon request. After supplying all information called for therein, the applicant should return the blanks, and, in addition, should request the college which he has attended to send directly to the Registrar a statement of honorable dismissal, and complete official transcripts of high school and college credits, including the names and dates of all courses in which he has been enrolled, with the grades and credit received in each course. To aid in judging the fitness of an applicant, personal letters to the Dean from the student's science instructors, giving estimates of his ability, character, and personality, should also be submitted.

ADMISSION TO ADVANCED STANDING

Applications for advanced standing will be considered only insofar as there are vacancies in the advanced classes. Applications for advanced standing should be filed at as early a date as possible, and under all circumstances before June 10 of the year during which admission is sought. Only those students who have unconditional standing in the medical schools from which they seek to be accredited will be accepted for admission to advanced classes. An applicant acceptable to the faculty is required to make a deposit of fifty dollars, which shall be in the hands of the Registrar within two weeks after notification of acceptance. This deposit of fifty dollars will be applied toward the first payment of tuition, and will not be returnable.

Applicants for admission to advanced standing (1) must furnish evidence that the foregoing terms of admission in regard to preliminary training have been fulfilled; (2) must show that courses equivalent in kind and amount to those given in this School, in the year or years preceding that to which admission is desired, have been satisfactorily completed; and (3) must satisfactorily pass examinations in those subjects in the work for which they have asked credit. These examinations may be waived at the discretion of the instructor in charge of the corresponding course. The applicant must have studied as a matriculated medical student in an acceptable medical school for a period of time at least equal to that already spent by the class to which admission is sought.

(a) Students who have received from an approved medical school credit for courses equivalent to those of the first year of this School in anatomy, chemistry, and physiology may be admitted to the second year class without examination, but, at the discretion of instructors, may be examined in these subjects at the end of the second year. (b) Students who have received from an approved medical school credits in anatomy, chemistry, physiology, bacteriology, clinical chemistry and microscopy, pathology, and pharmacology may be permitted to enter the third year class, but no student may enter with a condition in any of these subjects. At the discretion of instructors, such students may be examined in any of these subjects at the end of the third year. (c) Students who have received credit from an approved medical school for all required courses given in this school in the first, second, and third years may be admitted to the fourth year class without examination, but all such students at the end of the year may be required to pass examinations covering any or all of the courses of the first, second, or third, as well as of the fourth year.

Graduates of other medical schools, who are permitted to enter this School with advanced standing as candidates for the degree, are required (a) to pay the fees charged for the years in which they are in attendance, and (b) to fulfill the requirements for graduation, as stated in this announcement.

Applicants for advanced standing are required to furnish, in addition to the credentials required for admission, credentials from the medical school in which they have studied, enumerating all medical courses pursued and grades obtained, and stating the dates of their registration as matriculated medical students.

ADMISSION OF GRADUATES IN MEDICINE

Graduate students may be admitted to the School on the following basis: (1) Those who may be qualified to participate in definite investigation, under the direction of a member of the staff, may, upon the written recommendation of the instructor in charge, endorsed by the head of the department, be accepted by the Faculty as volunteer research assistants and will not be charged fees. (2) Visiting graduates may, with the consent of the heads of the departments concerned, take special work in one or more departments without paying fees. (3) A limited number of graduate physicians, or others who may be qualified, may be admitted to courses with the undergraduate classes subject to the consent of the instructors and the head of the department. Fees for special courses, individual instruction, or material will be determined in each case by the Dean, in conference with the head of the department in which the work is done. (4) A number of special courses are being offered concerning which full information will be given upon request. (See pp. 118 ff.)

STANDING AND PROMOTION

To enter any course, the student must have fulfilled the prerequisites of that course, as announced in the catalogue.

Examinations to determine standing and promotion will be held at the close of each academic year.

Students who at the end of the first or second year have recorded against them failures in any two of the following subjects, dissection, histology with neurology, physiology, biological chemistry, medicine 4 (clinical chemistry and microscopy), pathology, or bacteriology, will be required to withdraw from the School; or, under exceptional circumstances, the student may be allowed, instead, to pursue during one, two, or three trimesters additional work in the subjects in which he is deficient before being admitted to the next class.

To enter the third year, a student must have received credit for all of the courses named above.

A student who at the end of the third year has failed in any two of the following subjects, physical diagnosis, medicine 5, pharmacology, surgery 2, surgical pathology, surgery 3, or obstetrics 1, will be required to withdraw from the School, or may be required to do additional work as above stated.

To enter the fourth year, a student must have received credit for all of the subjects named above.

A student who, because of poor quality of work in courses or for any other reason, is judged by the Faculty as unfit for the practice of medicine, will be required to withdraw. A weighted average in any one year of less than 75 ordinarily will be regarded as indicative of unsatisfactory work. The registration of a student may be canceled at any time, if in the opinion of the University authorities his further attendance is deemed undesirable. In that case a pro rata refund of the tuition will be made.

The minimum time in which the courses required for the degree of Doctor of Medicine can be taken is four years.

Graduates of Washington University School of Medicine are exempt from the first and second examinations of the Conjoint Board of the Royal College of Physicians of London and the Royal College of Surgeons of England.

REQUIREMENTS FOR GRADUATION

The candidates must be more than twenty-one years of age and of good moral character. They must have attended not less than four annual courses of medical instruction as matriculated medical students, the last of which has been in this School. They must have taken all obligatory courses offered here, or their equivalent, and have received a satisfactory grade in the work of the entire four years. They must have discharged all indebtedness to the School, and must be present when the degree is conferred.

At the end of the fourth year every student who has fulfilled these requirements will be recommended for the degree of Doctor of Medicine.

HOSPITAL APPOINTMENTS

In the first trimester of the year, internes for the Barnes Hospital, St. Louis Children’s Hospital, and the St. Louis Maternity Hospital are selected by the School of Medicine.

Except in the Department of Medicine, the services begin July 1st and are for one year. For 1929-30, these services are as follows:

- Barnes Hospital
  - Medical Service, six positions.
  - Surgical Service, seven positions.
  - Oto-Laryngological Service, two positions.
  - Ophthalmological Service, three positions.

- St. Louis Children’s Hospital
  - Pediatric Service, five positions.

- St. Louis Maternity Hospital
  - Obstetrical Service, 6 positions.

In the Department of Medicine the service is for eighteen months. Three internes are appointed for July 1st and three for January 1st.

Appointments to these positions are in general made from members of the fourth year class of the School of Medicine on the basis of class standing, but occasionally students from other medical schools are appointed. Appointees to the St. Louis Children’s Hospital are required to complete one year’s internship in an approved hospital, or at least a year in other acceptable clinical or scientific work before beginning service in the hospital.

About seventy other appointments are made each year to internships in the various hospitals of St. Louis not connected with the University. The fourth year students and graduates of this School may compete with those of other schools for these positions, which are filled upon the basis of examinations conducted by the respective boards of the hospitals.
PRIZES

Two George F. Gill Prizes are offered to the students of the School, viz.:

1. One prize of fifty dollars to be awarded at the end of the first year to the member of the class who shall have made the highest grade in anatomical work.

2. One prize of fifty dollars to be awarded to a member of the graduating class, of high general standing, who shall have done especially good work in the Department of Pediatrics.

A prize of twenty-five dollars is offered by the Alpha Omega Alpha Fraternity, to be awarded at the end of the second year to the member of that class who shall have made the highest general average for the first two years.

FELLOWSHIPS, STUDENT ASSISTANTSHIPS, AND SCHOLARSHIPS

A Surgical Fellowship has been established in the Department of Surgery for special neurological work. The income of this fellowship is $1,200.00 per year. Candidates for this fellowship must be graduates in medicine. Applicants who have had one year's internship are preferred.

Student Assistantships are open in a number of departments in the school. Information concerning these can be obtained from the heads of the departments concerned.

The George F. Gill Scholarship, instituted in memory of the late Dr. George F. Gill, Clinical Professor of Pediatrics, entitles the holder to remission of the tuition fee to the amount of the scholarship, namely, $100.00. Applications should be filed with the Dean.

The Alumni Scholarship Award of $100.00 to be applied on the payment of the tuition fee is given for excellence in work during the scholastic year on the recommendation of the Committee on Loans and Scholarships of the School of Medicine and the President of the Medical Alumni Association. Applications should be filed with the Dean.

The Dr. John B. Shapleigh Scholarship. Through the bequest of the late Dr. John B. Shapleigh, supplemented by contributions of Mrs. John B. Shapleigh and Miss Margaret Shapleigh, the annual income from $7,000.00, amounting to $350.00, is used to pay the tuition of students who may be in need of assistance while attending the Washington University School of Medicine. The selection of the students to receive the benefit of such sum and the amount awarded such students are determined by the Chancellor of the University on the recommendation of the Dean and the Executive Faculty of the School of Medicine. Applications should be filed with the Dean.

The Jackson Johnson Fund. Under the will of the late Jackson Johnson the sum of $250,000 was donated to the School of Medicine, the income of which is to be used to aid worthy and desirable students in acquiring and completing their medical education. The method of making such awards and the selection of the students to receive such assistance is determined from time to time by the University. Information regarding the assignment of aid from the Fund may be obtained by addressing the Dean of the School of Medicine.

The David May Loan Fund. Through the bequest of the late Mr. David May, the annual income from the David May Loan Fund of $20,000.00 is available for loans for deserving students in the degree-conferring divisions of the University, including the School of Medicine, where application is made to the Dean. Awards are made by the Chancellor.

The Eliza McMillan Student Aid Fund. Through the bequest of the late Mrs. Eliza McMillan, $350.00 provides a scholarship for a deserving woman student in the School of Medicine. Application is made to the Dean of the School of Medicine. The award is made by the Chancellor.

The Daniel and Blanche Bordley Loan Fund. Through the gift of Mrs. Blanche Bordley, the income from the Daniel and Blanche Bordley Loan Fund of $25,000.00 is available for loans to deserving women students, in certain divisions of the University. In the School of Medicine applications are made to the Dean. The awards are made by the Chancellor.

The Washington University Students Loan and Scholarship Association. The purpose of this Association is to provide scholarships in all degree-conferring departments of the University for worthy students. The award covers tuition only and does not include fees such as matriculation, laboratory, and other charges. The grant is in the nature of a loan and the student is asked to repay the sum awarded at some later date when it can be done without serious burden. It is expected that the funds of the Association will be perpetuated in this way, and be continually available to aid deserving students. Application for aid from the fund should be made to the President of the Association. Awards may be granted both at the beginning of the year and at mid-year. Information may be obtained through the Alumni Office at the University.

The Washington University Medical Alumni Association Loan Fund. The Washington University Medical Alumni Association has a loan fund and awards are made to worthy medical students upon application to the Chairman of the Committee on Loans and Scholarships of the School of Medicine or to the President of the Medical Alumni Association.

The T. Griswold Comstock Scholarships. Through the bequest of the late Mrs. Marilla E. Comstock, the annual income from $12,000.00 is used for two scholarships for students who otherwise would be unable to obtain a good medical education and who desire and intend to follow the practice of medicine and surgery. Application is made to the Dean of the School of Medicine. Awards are made by the Chancellor.

The LaVerne Noyes Scholarships. The Trustees of the estate of LaVerne Noyes have assigned five scholarships to Washington University, which are available to deserving students. Applicants for these scholarships shall be citizens of the United States of America and either—

First, shall themselves have served in the Army or Navy of the United States of America in the war into which our country entered on the sixth day of April, 1917, and were honorably discharged from such service; or Second, shall be descended by blood from someone who has served in the Army or Navy of the United States in said war, and who either is still in said service or whose said service in the Army or Navy was terminated by death or an honorable discharge.

Application should be made to the Chancellor.

MEN'S DORMITORY OF THE SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

A dormitory building containing rooms for about sixty students is located on Forest Park Boulevard, in close proximity to Forest Park, one of the most attractive localities in the city. There is a tennis court in the rear of the building, and there are public golf links, tennis courts and baseball grounds in Forest Park. Each room is furnished with the following articles: a bed and mattress, one pillow, one table, two chairs, one chifforobe, costumer, toilet cabinet, student's lamp, two small rugs. Each occupant must furnish his own bed covering, consisting of sheets, pillow cases, counterpanes, and blankets.

The rental of a room is $120.00 an academic year, payable in two instalments in advance, at the beginning of the first trimester and on February 1. Reservations are made upon the express understanding that the applicant agrees to occupy the room reserved until the close of the ensuing academic year. Application for reservation should be made to the Registrar of the School of Medicine, and must be accompanied by a reservation fee of $10.00. This fee will be returned, should the room not be assigned, but it will not be refunded for any other reason. If a room is assigned, the fee will not apply on the room rent, but will be held by the University to cover losses resulting from possible damage to the room or to the furniture. Any portion not so used will be refunded.
GENERAL PLAN OF INSTRUCTION

Instruction in the School of Medicine is given to candidates for the degree of Doctor of Medicine and to graduate students who may or may not be candidates for higher degrees. Courses which are open to students in the University, not candidates for the degree of Doctor of Medicine, are listed in the announcements of the College of Liberal Arts and of the School of Graduate Studies.

The course of study required of candidates for the degree of Doctor of Medicine extends over a period of at least four academic years, and is designed for students who have already received certain preliminary training. As stated in detail on pp. 67 ff., the student on entering the School must have completed at least three years of college work, which includes a knowledge of chemistry, physics, biology, English and either German or French.

The academic year, extending from the last week of September to the first week in June, is divided into either semesters or trimesters. The required work keeps the student occupied for about thirty hours each week, and demands outside preparation. As far as possible the work is so arranged as to leave free several half days each week, during which time those students who profitably can are encouraged to take extra work in the subjects of their greatest interest. To meet this demand, suitable optional courses are offered by each department in the School.

The curriculum, covering four years, is divided into two distinct periods.

The first period includes the first and second years. During this time the student studies the fundamental sciences of anatomy, biological chemistry, physiology, bacteriology, pathology, and pharmacology. For this first period, the whole interest of the student is concentrated on the scientific basis of medicine, and every effort is made to train the faculty of critical and independent observation. Anatomy and biological chemistry are studied during the first year. In the second semester of this year, the study of physiology begins. During the first trimester of the second year physiology and bacteriology are completed; and during the remainder of the year the major portions of the courses in pharmacology and pathology are given, and physical diagnosis, medical observation, clinical chemistry and microscopy, and surgical technic are introduced, in preparation for the clinical work of the second period.

The second period, extending through the last two years, is devoted primarily to clinical work. For the first half of this period, the student receives practical clinical instruction in the out-patient departments of medicine, surgery, and obstetrics, and attends clinics, lectures, and recitations in the clinical subjects. The work in the out-patient departments occupies from 6 to 8 hours per week. Patients are examined by the student and treated under the direction of the attending staff. During the second half of this period, the students are assigned to the various wards of the hospitals, and each section of the class serves a full trimester in the wards of medicine, surgery, and obstetrics and pediatrics, respectively. During the second period courses are given in neurological pathology, surgical and gynecological pathology, and operative surgery on animals. Special emphasis is placed upon diagnosis and treatment of patients. There are few purely didactic lectures. Instruction is given at clinics and at the bedside. Clinical work in the specialties is confined to the second half of the second period.

In addition to the prescribed studies, the student is required to acquire during the course of the four years credit for three hundred hours in elective work. This credit may be acquired at any time, but the schedule of the fourth year is so arranged as to make its acquisition possible without undue crowding during that year. Students may devote this time to clinical courses in the out-patient department or avail themselves of the opportunity to further any special interests they may have in any one of the fundamental sciences or clinical subjects. For detailed statement and schedule of elective courses, see page 132.

With the approval of the head of the department concerned, a limited number of well qualified students may be allowed to complete their clinical clerkships, dispensary work, or other required courses during the summer months.

PHYSIOLOGY

Joseph Erlanger, M.D. . . . Professor of Physiology
George H. Bishop, Ph.D. . . . Associate Professor of Physiology
First and Second Years

2. Physiology. Lectures. This course is designed especially to meet the needs of students of medicine, but is open to properly prepared graduate students. It consists of lectures, demonstrations and recitations covering systematically the field of human physiology. As far as practicable the lectures are descriptive of experiments demonstrated in the lecture room. Free use is made of charts, models, lantern slides, and records for the purpose of bringing to the attention of the student the experimental basis of those phases of the subject that do not lend themselves readily to experimental demonstration. Weekly recitations are held upon the subject matter of the lectures. The lectures begin in the second semester of the first year and are continued during the first trimester of the second year. Properly prepared graduate students and, under exceptional circumstances, medical students, will be permitted to begin the course at the opening of the college year. The course is so arranged that students are enabled to acquire some knowledge of anatomy, embryology, histology, neurology, and biological chemistry before the physiological aspects of the related topics are considered. The following subjects are covered in the lectures: muscle and nerve, central nervous system, senses, blood, circulation, respiration, secretion, digestion, nutrition, and reproduction. Only those students will be admitted to the course who have completed or have begun the study of anatomy and biological chemistry. 110 hours.

Professor Erlanger, Professor Bishop, Professor White, Professor Gilson

Second Year

3. Physiology. Laboratory Course. This course must be taken in conjunction with Physiology 2. The experiments are so arranged as to serve at one and the same time to illustrate fundamental principles of physiology and to familiarize the student with the more important bio-physical methods employed in experimental physiology and medicine. The class works in groups of two. Each group has its individual table, which is supplied with all the apparatus necessary for the performance of the general experiments. To the groups is assigned in rotation the apparatus needed for the performance of special experiments. As far as practicable the students serve as subjects of the special experiments and study upon themselves by quantitative methods certain phases of the physiology of muscle and nerve, and of the circulation, respiration, central nervous system, and sense organs. The instruction in the laboratory is largely individual. Weekly conferences are held for the discussion and correlation of the experimental data. First trimester. 138 hours.

Professor Erlanger, Professor Bishop, Professor White, Professor Gilson

Elective Courses

4. Demonstration Methods. This course is designed primarily for students preparing to teach physiology, and who may desire a wider experience in experimental physiology than can be gained in Courses 2 and 3. It consists mainly of experiments demonstrated in Course 2. The time and the amount of work are not limited, except that assistance must be arranged for by definite engagements.

5. Research. The facilities of the laboratory will be offered to qualified students for the investigation of their own problems or of problems which the department is prepared to suggest.

6. Journal Club. The Journal Club, conducted conjointly by the Departments of Biological Chemistry, Physiology, and Pharmacology, discusses papers of physiological interest appearing in the current journals. This course is open to properly prepared students only. Once a week throughout the year.

Second Year

1. Pathology. Prerequisite courses for pathology are represented by the required work in anatomy, biological chemistry, and bacteriology. Students in the School of Graduate Studies whose major work lies in biology may elect pathology as a minor at the discretion of the department concerned. The course is subdivided as follows:

(a) Lectures and Laboratory Work. Instruction includes lectures, demonstrations, recitations, discussion of recent literature, and work in the laboratory. General pathology will be taught by lectures and demonstrations given in association with the study of the gross and histological characters of lesions together with experiments performed by the student. Pathological histology will be studied by means of sections stained for microscopic examination by the student, supplemented by specially prepared specimens which are loaned; students are urged to describe and to draw the lesions they find. Some familiarity with the literature of pathology will be obtained by reports upon special topics made by members of the class during one hour each week in the second trimester. Lectures and laboratory work, eleven hours a week in the second trimester and thirteen hours in the third trimester. 256 hours.

Professor Loeb, Professor McCordock, Professor Siebert, Professor Smith

(b) Recitations. The work of each week is reviewed by recitations, in which effort is made to determine how accurately the student has grasped the subjects studied in the laboratory. Two hours a week in the second trimester and one hour a week in the third trimester. 33 hours.

1 July 1, 1928, to January 1, 1929.

Professor Loeb

(c) Conduct of Autopsies. Students are instructed in the methods of postmortem examination, and in small groups attend autopsies, participate in the microscopic study of the specimens and prepare records of the autopsies.

Professor McCordock, Professor Siebert, Professor Smith

Second and Third Years

1. (d) Gross Pathology. Fresh pathological tissues are demonstrated to the class divided into small sections, and students study by personal contact the lesions which occur. Fresh material is supplemented by organs preserved as museum specimens. By means of sections prepared by freezing, the relation of gross to histological changes is defined. Two hours once a week during the third trimester of the second year and two hours once a week during the first trimester of the third year. 44? hours.

Professor McCordock, Professor Siebert, Professor Smith

Third and Fourth Years

2. Clinical and Pathological Conference. The clinical history and treatment of patients who have died is discussed before the class by the physicians and surgeons of the departments concerned. The specimens and microscopical slides from the corresponding autopsies are reviewed with reference to the clinical histories. The important gross and microscopical lesions are illustrated by lantern slides. One hour a week during five trimesters. 55 hours.

Professor McCordock, Professor Siebert, Professor Smith

Elective Courses

3. Research. The laboratory offers facilities for research in pathology. Specialists and students with adequate training who desire to extend their knowledge of pathology will be admitted.

4. Seminar of the Staff for the discussion of Research. A limited number of students can be admitted. Two hours weekly.

Second and Third Years

1. Pharmacology. (a) Lectures, recitations, and demonstrations covering the general field of pharmacology. The action of each of the chief medicinal drugs on the individual organs or functions of the body is studied in detail, the subject matter of the lectures being correlated with the work of the laboratory. Attention is given to the methods of diagnosis and treatment of poisoning by the commoner drugs. The application of pharmacological principles to clinical medicine is emphasized. Students are required to familiarize themselves with prescription writing and the dosage of the more important preparations. Prerequisite, Anatomy, Biological Chemistry, and Physiology 2 and 3. Courses (a) and (b) are required of medical students, but course (a) may be taken alone by special students. Four hours a week during the second trimester of the second year and two hours a week during the second trimester of the third year. 66 hours.

Professor Gasser, Professor Gruber

(b) Laboratory Course. Students work in small groups and complete sets of apparatus for the individual experiments are supplied to each group of students. The course is arranged to demonstrate the pharmacological action of the more important drugs, and at the same time to familiarize the student with methods and processes used in experimental pharmacology. The chemical reactions of groups of drugs and important compounds are studied briefly. Complete records of each experiment, giving all the data which do not lend themselves readily to graphic methods, are kept by the students and filed together with the tracings in permanent note books. Six hours a week during the second trimester of the second year. 66 hours.

Professor Gasser, Professor Gruber

Elective Courses

2. Advanced Work. This is arranged to suit individual needs. Opportunity is offered for the extensive study of any special group of drugs desired. In addition students may elect work in toxicology. Hours and details of the work to be arranged.

3. Research. The facilities of the laboratory are available to those who wish to carry on original investigation, on problems of their own or on those the department is prepared to suggest.

Attendance on these cases is required during the five and one-half weeks' period that the student is assigned to Obstetrics during his fourth year. Twelve cases are required for each student. Students are urged to volunteer for obstetrical out-patient duty during the summer vacation between the third and fourth years, as the required number of cases cannot be obtained during the assigned five and one-half weeks' period.

Military Science and Tactics

Robert M. Hardaway, Jr., M.D.,
Major, M. C., U. S. A. . . . Assistant Professor of Military Science and Tactics

A Medical Unit of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps is maintained and instruction is given as a part of the regularly scheduled school work by an officer of the Medical Corps of the Regular Army detailed to the School for the purpose. The work is divided as follows:

(a) Basic Course—first and second years.
(b) Advanced Course—third and fourth years.

Summer Training Camp—six weeks.

Enrollment for both the (a) and the (b) sections is optional and does not obligate the student to any military duty except to complete the course undertaken.

The instruction is designed: (1) to give the student a clear understanding of the Constitution, the Federal Government, Military Law, and our National Defense Policies, past and present; (2) to teach Hygiene and Sanitation as it is practiced in the Regular Army; and (3) to give a practical working knowledge of the Medical Department. In short, the instruction prepares the student for a commission in the Medical Section, Officers' Reserve Corps.

The Summer Training Camp is an essential part of the Advanced Course and may be attended after the second or third year.

From those students whose records in the Basic Course are satisfactory will be selected those to be enrolled in the Advanced Course. Those so enrolled have, in fact, obtained a scholarship of a value slightly greater than $200.00—for during the third and fourth years the student is paid commutation of rations at the prescribed rate, approximately thirty cents per day, except for the period of the Training Camp, when he receives seventy cents per day and is furnished shelter, rations, clothing, and equipment. He is paid five cents per mile travel allowance to and from camp.

A student, upon completion of the courses, will be presented, at graduation, with his choice of a commission as First Lieutenant Medical Section, Officers' Reserve Corps, or a certificate of eligibility for such commission.

Appointments as Internes in a few of the larger Army Hospitals are open to a limited number of graduates who are commissioned. Those appointed serve as First Lieutenants (Reserve) and receive the pay and allowances of the grade.

Appointments in the Medical Corps of the Regular Army will be offered to Internes whose work is of high standard and who manifest the other necessary qualifications.

ELECTIVES

Students are required to obtain credit for at least three hundred hours of elective work. This may be acquired entirely in the fourth year or at any time during the four years course. See page 81. To obtain credit for an elective course the student must have formally registered in that course with the consent of the instructor concerned. A partial list of available courses follows:

Ophthalmology: A minimum of four periods of 2 hours each per week for one-half trimester in groups of not more than one-sixth of the class. 44 hours.\(^1\) (2 to 4 p. m.)

Dermatology: A minimum of four periods of 2 hours each per week for one-half trimester in groups of not more than one-sixth of the class. 44 hours.\(^1\) (2 to 4 p. m.)

Gynecology: A minimum of four periods of 2 hours each per week for one-half trimester in groups of not more than one-sixth of the class. 44 hours.\(^1\) (2 to 4 p. m.)

Oto-Laryngology: A minimum of four periods of 2 hours each per week for one-half trimester in groups of not more than one-sixth of the class. 44 hours.\(^1\) (2 to 4 p. m.)

Pediatrics: A minimum of four periods of 2 hours each per week for one-half trimester in groups of not more than one-sixth of the class. 44 hours.\(^1\) (2 to 4 p. m.)

Genito-Urinary Surgery: A minimum of three periods of 2 hours each per week for one-half trimester in groups of not more than one-sixth of the class. May be taken in the morning by the Pediatrics-Obstetrics group. 33 hours.\(^1\) (10 a.m. to 12 m.)

Medicine: Diagnosis and Treatment of Diseases of the Digestive Tract. (2 to 4 p. m.)

Obstetrics: Pre-Natal Clinic. Hours by arrangement.

Neurology: Neurological Clinic. Hours by arrangement. (10 a.m. to 12 m.)

Neurology: Psychiatry. Two and one-half hours per week during the second trimester. 28 hours.

\(^1\) Additional hours by arrangement.
Surgery: Advanced Operative Surgery. One two-hour period per week during the first trimester. 22 hours.

Anatomy: Topographical Anatomy. Hours by arrangement.

Medicine: Applied Immunology. Hours by arrangement.

Surgery: Principles of Roentgenology. Three one-hour periods per week for one-half trimester. 16 hours.

Medical Ethics: Seven one-hour lectures during the second trimester. 7 hours.

Physical Therapeutics: Hours by arrangement.

Other elective courses in any department. Hours to be arranged.

Research in any department. Hours to be arranged.

In computing the number of hours elected, one hour a week for one trimester, or two hours a week for one-half trimester, amounts to 11 hours. The total of 300 hours may be obtained by electing ten hours a week throughout the year in some one department, or by combining smaller amounts of credit in a number of subjects.

The chart on the preceding page indicates how each student may elect all out-patient specialties if he so desires. It exemplifies a possible working schedule for each group throughout the three trimesters. Each group is divided into two sections, and each trimester into halves.

A student may elect these courses at other than the times indicated, provided the section with which he desires to work has not its full quota of students.
