Volunteers...

People Who Care

To put it simply, volunteers are givers. They give selflessly of their time, their energies, their talents. And they give graciously out of care and concern for a cause in which they believe.

Jewish Hospital is extremely fortunate to be blessed with a unique volunteer system, one more outstanding facet of the Hospital’s top-notch Auxiliary organization.

Volunteer programs operate in 40 areas of the Hospital. And, by the way, volunteer work is not extra work, it’s supplementary. Without the work of volunteers, some jobs in some areas just wouldn’t get done. Neither are volunteer activities a spare-time, when-the-mood-hits thing. Strict schedules must be adhered to in order to maintain a smooth-running, efficient organization.

Miss Marguerite Odell can tell you. As Director of Volunteers she has the arduous task of coordinating all volunteer activities as well as supervising them. She’s also in charge of recruiting and training. And placing, which is considerably more complicated than it appears. For in placing volunteers one must consider the volunteer’s needs as well as the Hospital’s and both must be satisfied. A compatible and effective working relationship requires fitting the person to the job and vice versa. It requires a thorough knowledge of the people and the jobs to make it work.

That’s what Marguerite Odell brought to Jewish Hospital. She’s a dynamic, industrious personality and a capable leader full of energy and interest. And she’s spent her entire career organizing, supervising and working with large groups of people.

As training administrator for a Girl Scout council, she was the point of a pyramid of 14,000 young girls. Prior to that she spent ten years as Director of Student Activities at Lindenwood College in St. Charles, where she received her degree. She’s been at Jewish Hospital fourteen months and in this short time, obvious signs of change can be seen in the entire volunteer program through the increase in activities.

Jewish Hospital volunteers do a superb job — over 66,000 volunteer hours were tallied just last year. It would be virtually impossible and much too lengthy to name and spotlight volunteers in each area, but we would like to highlight a few of the not-so-obvious groups and some of the newest volunteer programs to illustrate the scope of our versatile volunteers and all the good they do.

Mr. Arthur Yalem offers his assistance in the admitting area. Mrs. Rose Hughes donates her time to serving in the Gift Gallery.

Cooperative Occupational Education

The COE program is offered in many area high schools for class credit. It's a means through which students can test their chosen fields by doing volunteer work. Jewish Hospital has six volunteers on this program working in such varied areas as radiology, endocrinology and animal research.

Candy Stripers and Teen-Aiders

There's a distinct social consciousness and renewed awareness among today's young people and it's quite obvious by the number of Candy Stripers and Teen-Aiders who "want to get involved". After school, on weekends and predominantly during the summer months, these people provide their services purely out of interest and concern and a desire to help. After a one-day orientation they're ready to offer invaluable aid in feeding, transporting, charting and doing various chores on the nursing floors.

Torah Academy Girls

A group of students from the Torah Academy High School for Girls spend every other Friday at the Hospital through a volunteer program initiated by the Academy this year. The girls just decided to stop talking and do something. Their volunteer hours are during class time, but they receive no credit. They're getting a lot of experience, however, and they've learned that not all hospital work deals directly with patients, that there are so many things that go into the operation of a modern hospital.

Expanded Coverage

Persons in the Patient Representative Program spend most of their volunteer hours visiting patients and coping with any problems which might arise.

Those in the Visitor Hostess Program perform as information banks. Following an operation the patient goes into recovery. That's when the Visitor Hostess goes into action notifying the family, the nurses and the information desk. She deals mainly with families and in doing so provides a more personalized service.

Kinder Korner is the most recent program initiated through the volunteer office. The Hospital does not have a very large children's area, but the children here are a lot happier these days with all the books and games and company provided by this service.

And the volunteer list goes on and on. They're all over! The men and women and youth involved in the Jewish Hospital Volunteer corps deserve a salute and a special thanks...they're here because they care and they are greatly appreciated.
The dinner invitation was out and surely evoked surprise reactions in long-time employees – 20-year veterans or more to be exact. The occasion was the first annual meeting of the Twenty-Plus Club, a dinner held April 26, which Jewish Hospital has established to give special and well-deserved recognition to those employees who have given 20 or more years of service.

Congratulations to the new initiates for excellent as well as long records of service: Miss Avanelle Boyce, Mrs. Carrie Brown, Mrs. Lorraine Brown, Mrs. Margaret Coleman, Mr. Walter Coleman, Miss Sylvester Cross, Miss Ladie Franklin, Mr. David A. Gee, Mrs. Jessie Gillespie, Mrs. Hattie Brinston, Mrs. Eileen Gianino, Miss Wilma Havenar, Mrs. Bessie Henderson, Mrs. Margaret Henson, Miss Marie Kuppinger, Mrs. Mary Land, Mrs. Edna Love, Mrs. Victoria Robinson, Miss Lavera Ryder, Mrs. Ernestine Scott, Dr. Hyman Senturia, Mrs. Rosie L. Straub, Mrs. Leola Taylor, Mrs. Marie Thomas, Miss Marie Kuppinger, Mrs. Mary Land, Mrs. Edna Love, Mrs. Victoria Robinson, Miss Lavera Ryder, Mrs. Ernestine Scott, Dr. Hyman Senturia, Mrs. Rosie L. Straub, Mrs. Leola Taylor, Mrs. Marie Thomas, Miss Everliner Washington, Mrs. Lydia Woody, Mrs. Dorothy Zimmerman.

The Twenty-Plus Club members served as hosts and hostesses for the annual Service Awards Tea May 9.

Former St. Louisans Donate Six Oil Paintings

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Garden, formerly of St. Louis, have donated six original oil paintings to the Hospital in memory of Mrs. Garden’s parents, Hennie and Jack Pollak. The paintings include “Harvest of the Festival”, Balinese from Ubud, Indonesia; “Mother and Child” by Salvador Cabrera; “Boy” by H. Adler; “Kittens at Play” by Lanyung; “Ships at Sea”, and “Forest Scene”. Shown with paintings are, from left, Fran Stovall, Director, Patient Relations, Barbara Safron, Patient Relations, and Carol Kraik, Associates secretary. The Gardens moved to Beverly Hills, California, in 1961. Mrs. Garden (Bette Pollak) attended Washington University. Mr. Garden was Secretary and Board Member of Children’s Research Foundation, Board Member of Washington University Child Guidance Clinic and a member of the Washington University Council.
Dr. Ole Secher Honored
By Medical Staff Members

"It was the national policy in Denmark to aid the Jews," said Dr. Ole Secher, referring to the crisis in his country during the Nazi occupation.

He was speaking to members of the Medical Staff Association at a dinner in his honor April 9. Dr. Secher, Chairman of the Department of Anesthesiology at University Hospital in Copenhagen, came to St. Louis as the guest of the Medical Staff. He was being honored for his participation in helping Danish Jews escape to neutral Sweden during World War II.

After dinner Dr. Secher related experiences he and his friends shared in the 'underground' activities. They were medical students at the time.

Dr. Secher was 22 on April 9, 1940, the day the occupation took place. By 1943 Jews began hearing rumors and were forced into hiding. Shortly afterwards the Germans came to make arrests. They only found 200 Jews out of 7,000.

At a meeting at their Copenhagen hospital, students organized a group to coordinate a plan to get these Jews out of the country. The Danish physicians paid fishermen the value of their boats, about $2,000, to guide the "tour," as the escape plan was referred to. Dr. Karl Kaster led the movement and his organization was responsible for exporting 800 Jews from Denmark. It cost the Danish 750,000 krona to send off 25 ships during a two-week period.

"We had no information on what was going on with the Germans or our government and we didn't know if it was dangerous or not," recalled Dr. Secher. "We did a job we just thought we had to do."

Dr. Secher was "extremely touched that you honor us so many years afterward. I only represent one of the many. The sad part is that exactly the same thing is going on today," he added. And he revealed that now Denmark is involved in the plight of the Soviet Jews.
Godofredo M. Herzog, M.D., spoke on “Radiation Therapy and Surgery for Cancer of the Cervix” to the Bolivian Obstetrics and Gynecology Society in La Paz, Bolivia. Jerome S. Crosby, D.D.S., has written an editorial for the St. Louis Dental Society Bulletin titled “Hospital Dentistry — What Is It?” He has been elected chairman of the Hospital Dental Committee of the St. Louis Dental Society. Paul S. Lowenstein, M.D., attended the American College of Angiology convention at Phoenix. He has been elected president of that group.

Kenneth Michael, M.D., attended the Fifth World Congress of Psychiatry held in Mexico City. Jack R. Eidelman, M.D., spoke on “What the Layman Should Know About Psychiatry” to the Lewis and Clark Branch of the American Association of Business Women. He has been installed as President of the St. Louis County Medical Society.

Emily H. Coch, Ph.D., has co-authored a paper in Clinical Chemistry titled “Rapid Separation and Detection of Lechitin and Sphingomyelin from Amniotic Fluid by Thin Layer Chromatography”.

Louis Altshuler, D.D.S., has been elected President of the Greater St. Louis Dental Society. Norman J. Matulef, Ph.D., spoke on Careers in Psychology at the Washington University Alumni Career Day Program. Alan Morris, M.D., attended the American Academy of Orthopedics convention on Ski Injuries held at Aspen, Colorado.

Marvin Rennard, M.D., has authored a paper titled “A Study of Perinatal Mortality”. He attended the annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Infertility Society at Palm Springs, California. Jerome J. Gilden, M.D., was the panel chairman at the St. Louis Rheumatism Society meeting on Changing Scene in Orthopedic Surgery.

Gustave L. Davis, M.D., spoke on “Experimental Mouse Cytomegalovirus Infection of the Inner Ear” to the International Academy of Pathology in Cincinnati. Sidney Goldenberg, M.D., participated in the Workshop on “Vascular Disease of the Lower Extremity” at the American Diabetes Association Postgraduate Session at Miami.

Moisy Shopper, M.D., was the guest speaker at the Mid-Continent Regional Meeting of the American Association of Psychiatric Services for Children. He spoke on “The Focus of Innovation is Prevention”. He also was a panel participant in a one-day workshop for nurses and social workers on ‘The Teenage Pregnancy: A Fact of Life’. Dr. Shopper also will participate in the spring seminar series of The Psychoanalytic Foundation of St. Louis, leading the discussion on “Emphasis on Fatherhood.”

John Haddad, M.D., has had a paper published in the third issue of Biochimica et Biophysica Acta — “25-Hydroxycholecalciferal Binding Globulin in Human Plasma”. He spoke to the Midwest Section of the American Federation for Clinical Research in Chicago on “Rapid Competitive Protein-Binding Radioassay for 25-Hydroxy Vitamin D”.

Arnoldo Kuczer, M.D., became a diplomate of the American Board of Otolaryngology in November. He was also elected a member of the Ear, Nose and Throat Club of St. Louis. Dr. Kuczer recently attended a workshop of the University of Cincinnati Medical Center, Department of Otolaryngology, on maxillofacial trauma.

Morris Alex, M.D., spoke on Home Care to the Oklahoma County Medical Society, Baptist Memorial Hospital at Oklahoma City. Kenneth L. Russ, Ph.D., spoke to the B’nai Brith Westway Lodge in Creve Coeur on Modern Aspects of Psychiatric Treatment.

Franz U. Steinberg, M.D., spoke on “Gait Disorders in the Aged” to the American Geriatrics Society in New York in April.

Arthur E. Baue, M.D., was named president-elect of the Missouri State Surgical Society at a recent meeting in Kansas City. He has also authored a paper for The Journal of Trauma on “Facts, Fads and Fallacies of Activism and Apathy”.

Nathan M. Simon, M.D., is heading the discussion on “Abortion: What Does It Do to Women?” for the spring seminar series of The Psychoanalytic Foundation of St. Louis.

Medical Staff Members’ Promotions Announced At Washington University

Several members of the staff in the Department of Medicine have recently received promotions at the Washington University School of Medicine to become effective July 1.

They are: J. Russell Little Jr., M.D., from Associate Professor to Professor of Medicine; Michael M. Karl, M.D., from Associate Professor of Clinical Medicine to Professor of Clinical Medicine; I. Jerome Flence, M.D., from Assistant Professor of Clinical Medicine to Associate Professor of Clinical Medicine; Theodore J. Hahn, M.D., from Instructor to Assistant Professor of Medicine; Joseph L. Kinzie Jr., M.D., from Instructor to Assistant Professor of Medicine; Daniel Rosenblum, M.D., from Instructor to Assistant Professor of Medicine and Ronald Krone, M.D., from Instructor to Assistant Professor of Medicine.
Drs. Rosenbaum, Baue Appointed to Board

Harry D. Rosenbaum, M.D., and Arthur E. Baue, M.D., have been named to the Board of Directors of the Hospital. Dr. Rosenbaum is President of the Medical Staff Association and Dr. Baue is Chairman of the Medical Executive Committee and Surgeon-in-Chief.

Dr. Rosenbaum has been at Jewish Hospital since 1934 when he interned here. He is Assistant Professor of Clinical Ophthalmology at Washington University Medical School.

Dr. Baue was appointed Surgeon-in-Chief in 1967 and the same year was named Harry Edison Professor of Medicine at the Washington University School of Medicine and the Hospital.

Recent Additions To Medical Staff

Recent additions to the Medical Staff include the following: Ronald G. Evens, M.D., Consultant, Department of Medicine; Adolfo E. Rizzo, M.D., Assistant in Psychiatry; In Sook Chang-Sunwoo, M.D., Assistant Attending Physiatrist, Division of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation; Kenneth L. Russ, Ph.D., Associate in Psychiatry; Harvey Liebhaber, M.D., Attending Physician, Department of Medicine; Ralph Frederick Kuhlman Jr., M.D., Assistant in Medicine; Thomas H. Covey Jr., M.D., Assistant in Surgery.

David Levine
Chief Audiologist

David Levine, M.A., has been appointed Chief Audiologist of the Division of Audiology and Speech Pathology. He's been with the Hospital ten years and his experience encompasses the entire range of services for problems of communication.

Mr. Levine started in Audiology administering speech therapy and hearing tests. He has been Coordinator of Clinical Services and will retain those responsibilities.

Dr. David Rothman Honored

After 15 years of dedicated leadership, David Rothman, M.D., resigned his post as Director of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology. Dr. Rothman has been director since 1957.

His associates expressed their esteem by throwing a gala testimonial dinner in his honor. On behalf of the Board of Directors, Edward B. Greensfelder, right, President of the Hospital, presented Dr. Rothman with a bronze and walnut plaque “in recognition of his leadership and dedication to his department, his hospital and his community”. His co-workers in the Obstetrics and Gynecology Department also presented him a plaque in appreciation for his superior guidance through the years.
Dr. Hahn Receives Research Grant

Theodore J. Hahn, M.D., has been awarded a three-year grant with total funding of $72,775 by the National Institute of Neurologic Diseases and Stroke, N.I.H. This grant will provide for his further research in "Anticonvulsant Drug-Induced Osteomalacia". The purpose is to study the effect of various anticonvulsant drugs and tranquilizers on vitamin D metabolism and bone formation in humans and animals, and to determine the mechanisms whereby these drugs produce rickets and osteomalacia. Both are bone diseases characterized by deficient calcification of bone and produced by vitamin D deficiency.

Several European studies have shown that clinical signs of vitamin D deficiency occur in 20-25 per cent of drug-treated epileptics as opposed to less than one per cent in the general population. In an outpatient study recently completed, Dr. Hahn and his associates have demonstrated that blood levels of vitamin D are indeed markedly decreased in individuals on chronic anticonvulsant therapy, with the severity of the deficiency varying with the total dose of drug received dietary vitamin D intake, and sunlight exposure. His previous studies have shown an increased rate of breakdown of vitamin D in individuals on chronic anticonvulsant therapy; and animal studies localized the defect to a drug-induced increase in activity of a group of liver enzymes which increase vitamin D breakdown.

Further studies will concentrate on uncovering more about alterations in vitamin D and bone metabolism produced by these drugs, determining the incidence of vitamin D deficiency in other high risk patient groups (psychiatric patients on high doses of tranquilizers) and developing means of preventing and appropriately treating the disorder.

Cardiac Arrest Team

A new Cardiac Arrest Team is now on the job ready to respond in emergency situations. The beeper-carrying team is composed of a registered nurse and a senior and junior medical resident. Future plans call for an anesthetist to be a permanent part of the group. The defibrillator (which passes an intense alternating current through the heart muscle) is located in the Medical Intensive Care Unit.

Dr. Guttmann Talks On Spinal Injury

Sir Ludwig Guttmann, M.D., international authority on paraplegia, spoke at the Hospital in March on Spinal Cord Injuries.

Dr. Guttmann heads the National Spinal Injuries Centre, Stoke-Mandeville Hospital, Aylesbury, England, and is founder of the International Stoke-Mandeville Games, a multi-sport competition for paraplegics.

Sir Ludwig was chief of neurosurgery at Jewish Hospital, Breslau, Germany, when Nazi rule forced him to leave the country. He relocated in Oxford, England, where he founded a spinal cord injury center for the armed forces during World War II. When that proved so successful, he went on to build the National Spinal Injuries Centre, now under Britain's National Health Scheme. Dr. Guttmann was knighted for his achievement by Queen Elizabeth.

Gerold Grodsky, Ph.D.

First Somogyi Visiting Professor

Gerold M. Grodsky, Ph.D., internationally known biochemist, researcher, holds the distinction as the first Michael Somogyi Visiting Professor in Pathology and Laboratory Medicine. He is Professor of Biochemistry, Metabolic Research Unit, University of California, San Francisco.

Dr. Grodsky spoke March 27 at an open meeting on "Current Concepts Regarding Control of Insulin Secretion". Later in the day he participated in a research seminar, "The Nature of the Dynamic Responses to Insulin Secretion".

This visit provided a sort of homecoming for Dr. Grodsky as he is a native St. Louisan and has many relatives in the St. Louis area.

Dr. Grodsky received his Masters Degree in biochemistry from the University of Illinois. Following a year as a National Cancer Institute Fellow at Cambridge University, England, he completed his Ph.D. in biochemistry. Since 1955 he has been on the faculty of the University of California, San Francisco. His research and scientific efforts have contributed greatly to a better understanding of insulin secretion and action.
Dr. Covey Joins Surgical Staff

Thomas H. Covey Jr., M.D., has joined the Department of Surgery full-time staff as general surgeon and is also involved in research for the Thrombosis Center. He is Assistant Professor at the Washington University Medical School.

Dr. Covey is a graduate of West Virginia University and received his M.D. from Harvard Medical School. He was a Medical Fellow in Surgery, West Virginia University and the University of Michigan, where he took his internship and residency.

Medical Complex Renamed WUMC

In case you haven’t heard, Washington University Medical School and Associated Hospitals (WUMSAH) has been renamed Washington University Medical Center (WUMC). The new name was adopted in mid-March at a meeting of the board of directors in recognition of the increasingly important role played by the unified medical center.

In honor of the change, the McDonnell Foundation has made a gift of $156,000 to an endowment fund the family had established earlier in behalf of WUMSAH.

Edward B. Greensfelder, president of the Hospital, is also chairman of the board of directors of the Medical Center, which includes Barnard Free Skin and Cancer Hospital, Barnes and Jewish Hospitals, The Central Institute for the Deaf, Children’s Hospital and Washington University.

Colonoscope First in Area

A new instrument is providing some exciting experiences in examination of the colon as well as removal of some benign tumors from the colon.

This useful apparatus is a flexible fiberoptic tube, known as a colonoscope, which enables one to look around corners. With the colonoscope the physician can see parts of the colon never before accessible except during surgical exploration. It also allows color photographs to be taken of the interior of the entire colon. Previous to the colonoscope only a short, rigid tube was available for examination and only a small part of the colon could be seen.

Dr. Burton Shatz, Chief of Gastroenterology at the Hospital, has employed this instrument with gratifying results in a procedure to remove polyps. A wire loop is passed down the tube and snare the polyp. Then an electric current is passed down the wire which coagulates and cuts through the tissue. The instrument is then removed, bringing the polyp with it. With this technique a major abdominal operation can be avoided and the patient can be discharged from the hospital on the following morning.

Dr. Scott Presents Probstein Lectures

H. William Scott Jr., M.D., Professor and Chairman of the Department of Surgery at the Vanderbilt University School of Medicine, Nashville, presented the annual J. G. Probstein Visiting Professor of Surgery lectures in March. He spoke on “Experimental Atherosclerosis and Distal Intestinal Bypass” and “Surgical Management of Cushing’s Syndrome”.

The Probstein Visiting Professorship was established by the Leonson Foundation in honor of J. G. Probstein, M.D., Consultant in Surgery at the Hospital and former surgeon-in-chief.
Doctors' Day A Sparkling Success

Doctors' Day has come and gone, but the enjoyment of the evening still lingers on. The largest turnout to date for this event found the MAC room at the Hospital crowded and alive with animated conversation, renewed acquaintances and lots of delicious appetite-satisfiers. Doctors and wives, members of the Board of Directors, the Auxiliary, the Associates, and Hospital management turned out en masse to give a special thanks to the entire medical staff in appreciation for their continuous and dedicated service to the Hospital and the community. Mrs. M. Erwin Bry, President of the Women’s Auxiliary, presented to Dr. Harry Rosenbaum, President of the Medical Staff Association, a check for $50 to purchase books for the Medical Library on behalf of the Auxiliary. Pictures are worth more than all the words we could say to describe the delightful affair held March 28.

Scoliosis Clinic Now Open

A normal child can run, jump and do all the wild and woolly fun things that children are famous for. A child with scoliosis can't. Scoliosis or curvature of the spine is a disease of growing children which, if untreated, sometimes causes severe deformity and impairment in function. It is more common than is suspected and many adults have the problem as the result of childhood disease which has gone either untreated or unrecognized. Most children with scoliosis and some of these adults can be helped through present techniques.

The usual cause of scoliosis is unknown and only a small percentage of cases can be traced to underlying causes. The only answer to the problem of progressive scoliosis at this time is treatment with bracing, casting, surgery or any combination of the three to prevent and treat deformity.

It has been found desirable to treat scoliosis at a complete medical center where all facilities are available to treat this complex problem. Jewish Hospital will now be one of the few centers in this area completely equipped to manage this problem, with the recent opening of its scoliosis clinic. Due to the large number of scoliosis cases both in St. Louis, St. Louis County and the Eastern portion of the state, the need for an additional facility was recognized.

The clinic was started under the auspices of the Missouri Crippled Children's Service, a state sponsored and financed organization. However, cases may be referred to the clinic whether or not they are on the state crippled children's program. Pediatricians, field nurses, or for that matter, anyone can refer a patient to the scoliosis clinic for evaluation and complete care.

Dr. Robert W. Tatkow, Orthopedic Surgeon on the Hospital's staff and senior instructor in orthopedics at St. Louis University School of Medicine, is head of the Hospital's scoliosis project. Dr. Tatkow has specialized in the treatment of scoliotic children in private practice for the last eight years and is co-chief of the scoliosis clinic at Cardinal Glennon Memorial Hospital for Children and at Firmin Desloge Hospital. His associate, Dr. Jerome J. Gilden, Associate Director of the Department of Orthopedics at the Hospital and affiliate of the Hospital's brace clinic and rehabilitation programs, also participates. They are employing the same techniques used in major centers throughout the country.

All the necessary facilities and diagnostic and therapeutic equipment for the care and treatment of these cases already exists at the Hospital. The money for new equipment, as it becomes necessary, has been allocated. The clinic is on the first Tuesday morning of every month. Appointments may be made through the Department of Surgery, extension 531. Office facilities have been allotted for the clinic in the Department of Surgery on the ground floor of the Hospital.

The opening of the scoliosis clinic is another effort by Jewish Hospital to provide a total health care facility for the entire community.

Scoliosis Clinic Now Open

Dr. Daniel Rosenblum

Grant Awarded To Dr. Rosenblum

Dr. Daniel Rosenblum, the John E. Simon Scholar in Medicine, is studying specialized white blood cells—granulocytes. These cells contain tiny granules, about one millionth of an inch in diameter, which contain enzymes that aid in digestion of engulfed bacteria and other foreign matter. For over 25 years it's been known that the activity of these granules fluctuates greatly in different disease states, especially leukemia and polycythemia.

Dr. Rosenblum's research involves separating the granules from the white blood cells by specialized techniques which break up those blood cells without disrupting the granules. Using various biochemical techniques he can purify the enzymes contained in these granules, analyze them for special fats and metal ions, and define the characteristics of the proteins found in the granules. This information from leukemic and polycythemic white blood cells compared to that obtained from normal white blood cells may increase our understanding of the biochemical changes which characterize these diseases.

Aid in support of Dr. Rosenblum's work has been granted by the National Advisory Arthritis and Metabolic Diseases Council which has allocated $15,000 a year for three years for these studies. Additional support has been obtained from the Jewish Hospital's Research Support Fund.
Hospital Matches 100%, 24 Interns Appointed

Jewish Hospital has matched 100 percent in the National Intern and Resident Matching Program, filling 14 straight medicine internships and seven straight surgery internships. In addition, two more interns in medicine and one more in surgery have been appointed for a total of 24 interns for the year beginning July 1.

The matching program is the result of a cooperative effort on the part of medical students, medical schools and hospitals to match students with hospitals in the best possible combinations according to both preferences.

Highly qualified interns and residents are essential in providing sophisticated, comprehensive medical services for the community. Internship positions are difficult to fill. There are over 7,000 hospitals in the United States, but only about 1,000 of these are approved by the American Medical Association’s Council on Medical Education to conduct internship training. These hospitals offer over 14,000 intern positions annually, but there are less than half that number of medical graduates to fill the positions. Jewish Hospital’s superior showing in the matching program is testimony to its excellent teaching program.

Medical Staff Alumni Annual Dinner Held

At the annual dinner of the Medical Staff Alumni Association, May 15 at the Bel Air East Hotel, newly-elected officers were announced by Richard Sisson, M.D., outgoing president. They are: Theodore Merrims, M.D., President; Sidney Goldenberg, M.D., Vice President, and Gene Spector, M.D., Secretary-Treasurer.

Rabbi Lawrence Siegel delivered the eulogy for three medical staff members who died during the last year – Joseph Efron, M.D., B. Y. Glassberg, M.D., and Lawrence K. Halpern, M.D.

David A. Gee, Executive Vice President of the Hospital, presented an historical slide show. House staff members completed the evening with satirical skits.

May Events Scheduled to Coincide With 1972 National Hospital Week

National Hospital Week, sponsored annually by the American Hospital Association, is designated as a special time for the nation to pay tribute to its hospitals for the job they do all year long. “We Want You in the Picture of Health” proclaimed this year’s theme of the week in an effort to best illustrate the newest role of the hospital today – maintaining a healthy society.

The 52nd observance of National Hospital Week finds the American hospital in a changing role, assuming larger responsibilities and additional commitments. Today’s hospital functions as a total health care system with services available to all.

In addition to the original purpose of making the sick well, the modern hospital has broadened its scope of health care to provide a framework for keeping all the people healthy. Present-day total health care facilities, such as the Washington University Medical Center, have combined all aspects of medicine, striving toward prevention as well as cure.

A number of events, which are covered on the following pages, were scheduled to coincide with National Hospital Week to emphasize and note Jewish Hospital’s increasingly vital role in the community and some of the groups which implement this endeavor. Of great significance was the cornerstone dedication ceremony for the new $12 million Forest Park Pavilion, denoting marked improvement and progress in an effort to change and grow with the times. Two groups which provide invaluable services in support of the Hospital held their annual meetings – the Hospital Auxiliary and the Associates. The annual Medical Staff Alumni dinner also took place, bringing together the Hospital’s superior staff, past and present. And for the eighteenth year in a row the Hospital hosted the Employee Service Awards Tea to honor employees for continuous years of service.
Cornerstone for
Forest Park Pavilion Dedicated May 16

History repeated itself Tuesday, May 16, at Jewish Hospital when a Cornerstone Ceremony was held to dedicate construction on the new nine-story Forest Park Pavilion. On that same day in 1901, members of the Jewish community participated in the original cornerstone laying for the first Jewish Hospital on Delmar Boulevard. At that first dedication, a container filled with newspapers, letters, donor lists and artifacts was placed in the cornerstone.

During the 1972 symbolic Cornerstone Dedication, which was held in Steinberg Amphitheater, a titanium time capsule, 6" in diameter by 18" in length, was filled with messages, reports, predictions of future medicine and other timely items of interest. Miss Susan Sachs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis S. Sachs, assisted Edward B. Greensfelder, President of the Hospital, in placing the items in the time capsule. The predictions of future medicine are to remain a secret with a duplicate copy being placed in the Hospital Archives to be opened at 10-year milestones. The time capsule was donated for the event by Nooter Corporation.

Items placed in the capsule for the perusal of future generations include: a copy of the 1971 State of the Union message personally autographed by President Nixon; letters from the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, Elliot Richardson, Governor Warren E. Hearnes, Mayor A. J. Cervantes, St. Louis County Supervisor Lawrence K. Roos, Louis Zorensky, President of the Jewish Federation, Samuel Guze, Vice Chancellor, Washington University Medical School and Dr. William H. Danforth, Chancellor, Washington University; various Hospital brochures, reports and publications; publicity coverage of the 1972 dedication, and reports and predictions by the various department directors of the Hospital.

Edward B. Greensfelder welcomed visitors to the dedication and Llewellyn Sale Jr., M.D., gave the invocation. Dr. Sale is the grandson of Rabbi Samuel Sale who gave the invocation at the 1901 cornerstone ceremony.

David A. Gee, Executive Vice President, showed slides of the Hospital's past attainments and future aspirations as outlined by the $21.5 million Expansion Program for Excellence in Health Care. Louis S. Sachs, co-chairman of the Building Committee, and Joseph F. Ruwitch, chairman of the $18 million Expansion Fund Program, also participated in the dedication ceremony.

The Forest Park Pavilion, Phase Two of the expansion program, will house an additional 180 beds, increasing the Hospital's bed complement to 630.
Getting together after the ceremony are, from left, Dr. M. Kenton King, Dean of the Washington University Medical School, Dr. Samuel Guze, Vice Chancellor of Washington University, Dr. William H. Danforth, Chancellor of Washington University, and Dr. Marvin Levin of the Jewish Hospital staff.

The architect's rendering shows the Forest Park Pavilion's futuristic appearance.

Miss Sadie Rosenblatt, left, and Mr. and Mrs. Eli Sandperl, attend the reception after the dedication ceremony.

James Herd, General Manager of television station KPLR, presents Edward B. Greensfelder, President, with a videotape of the May 16 news of the day to be placed in the time capsule.

David A. Gee, Executive Vice President, presented slides.
The Associates planned an entertaining and informative evening for their Fourth Annual Dinner Meeting which took place May 4 at the Moses Shoenberg Memorial School of Nursing.

During the meeting nominees for the Associates Board of Directors, Class of 1975, were announced. They are: Ralph J. Graff, M.D., Harvey Harris, Jerry Hirsch, Richard Meyerhardt, Mrs. J. Ben Miller, David Pasternak and Eugene Shapiro.

Dr. Louis V. Avioli, the featured speaker, discussed "Future Shock: The Risk of 42". Dr. Avioli is Stella H. and Sydney M. Shoenberg Professor of Medicine at Washington University School of Medicine and Director of Endocrinology and Metabolism at the Hospital.

The title refers to the bone disease, osteoporosis, characterized by a loss of minerals in the bone as a result of the aging process. The risk involves greater susceptibility to fractures.

Dr. Avioli is doing research in the area of bone disease. Causes are unknown, though several factors might be involved including heredity, fluoride content in drinking water and the sex of the individual. It is known that women are more susceptible than men to osteoporosis.

Dr. Avioli stated that an individual loses about one percent of bone mineral a year after the age of 30. Ordinary x-ray techniques have been found relatively insensitive in detecting small amounts of bone loss. But now a bone mineral analyzer can measure minute differences in bone and enable the doctor to take early steps against bone destruction. Jewish Hospital has the first such machine in the area. Dr. Avioli feels that the individual 30 years or older should have a bone mineral measurement at least once a year. He recommends exercise to make bones stronger.
Donald P. Gallop, President of the Associates, welcomes members.

Julian L. Meyer, center, and Donald P. Gallop converse with Mrs. J. Ben Miller. Mrs. Miller is one of the newly elected members of the Associates Board of Directors.

Auxiliary Spring Meeting Features
Topical Discussions for the Women

It wasn’t exactly the Garden of Eden, but there were apples galore to set the stage for the “Four Phases of Eve” program at the Hospital Auxiliary’s Annual Spring Meeting April 26 at Temple Shaare Emeth.

After a complimentary box lunch, Mrs. Norman Drey installed the following officers for the 1972-74 term: Mrs. Eugene Schweig, Vice President Membership Services; Mrs. Carl Lyss, Vice President Volunteer Services; Mrs. Charles Steiner, Treasurer; Mrs. David Smith, Assistant Treasurer; Mrs. Lester Seasongood, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Lloyd Arkin, Assistant Recording Secretary. The Directors to serve for two years are: Mrs. Warner Isaacs and Mrs. Harry S. Rosenberg. Mrs. Harris Frank, Vice President Fund Raising; Mrs. Clifford Shanfeld, Financial Secretary; Mrs. Roger Scherck, Assistant Financial Secretary, will fill those one-year, unexpired terms.

The program, group discussion style, called for four groups, each led by two professionals from the Jewish Hospital Department of Psychiatry to examine four different stages of a woman’s life — “The Four Phases of Eve.” Dr. Nathan M. Simon, Director, Department of Psychiatry, was instrumental in arranging the program and participated as a group discussion leader as well.

“Women with Young Children” was led by Dr. Moisy Shopper, Assistant, Department of Psychiatry and Child Analyst, and Dr. Elizabeth Mann, Resident. This discussion was concentrated on the impressionable young child and the importance of the father in raising the child who is growing up essentially in a female environment. In dealing with the problem of working wives, Dr. Shopper stated that what’s important is the quality of time spent with children rather than the amount.

Dr. Jan T. Goff, Associate Director and Chief of Inpatient Service, and Mrs. Jacquelyn Wheeler, Social Worker, Inpatient Service, guided the “Women with Adolescent Children” discussion which centered on the emergence of development. It’s a difficult time in life presenting conflict as the adolescent is striving for independence, identity. It’s a difficult time for parents too as they find themselves needed less and they realize the children are growing toward a break from home. It’s also a time of conflict in the marriage, stated Dr. Goff.

“Normal” adolescence which consists of a fairly smooth change with some upsets and bickering, and sibling rivalry, normal at any time, were discussed. Greatest upheavals, according to the group leaders, occur in the transition from junior high to high school, into the first year of college and during the last year of college. There is no cut off age in adolescence. It’s a time when parents can do their best with understanding guidance rather than overbearing authority.

“Women in the Menopausal Years” was discussed by Dr. Norman Matulef, Psychologist-in-Chief and Director of the Psychology Training Program, and Mrs. Louise Cone, Clinical Psychologist. Dr.
Matulef stated the title of this group could well be "Women with Children who have left home." According to discussion leaders, this period, which may cover months or years, is greeted with mixed feelings. Problems at this time can affect husband and children, thus they cover a whole range of ages. Most myths that women have at the beginning of menstruation and at its end are conditioned responses picked up from the attitudes of their mothers and grandmothers, Mrs. Cone contends. During menopause women have a greater opportunity to become aware of changes, and men should be informed about what occurs during such a change, as they relate to their wives' attitudes toward them. Depression is still common as it is in all periods of change in one's life, explained the clinical psychologists.

The "Life Begins at 60" discussion group was led by Dr. Nathan M. Simon, Director, Department of Psychiatry, Chief of the Outpatient Psychiatry Clinic, and Mrs. Libby Bass, Clinical Psychologist, Associate in Psychology, who contend that life at 60 and after presents the last but not the least in the struggle for identity.

Aging is easier for women to adjust to than men, the leaders told their audience. Situational groups could be beneficial and interpersonal relationships are necessary. To make a good adjustment one should reinvest productive resources into new channels, and intellectual stimulation is essential, they explained.

The program chairman for the event was Mrs. John Isaacs III. Members of the committee were Mrs. Harry Rosenberg, Mrs. Richard Baizer, Mrs. Bernard Bornstein, Mrs. Bruce Carp, Mrs. Marvin Goodman, Mrs. Bruce Horwitz, Mrs. Robert Levin, and Mrs. David Smith.
The business is service and the employees are the people who run it. They do a terrific job in promoting good will as well as executing their varied duties with the utmost professionalism. So it was with gratitude and appreciation that the Hospital honored 125 industrious employees for five years of continuous service and at five-year intervals thereafter.

For the eighteenth year awards were presented at the annual Employee Service Awards Tea May 9 at the Moses Shoenberg Memorial School of Nursing.

In addition, this year the Meritorious Service Award was given in recognition of those employees who through extraordinary service have brought credit to the institution. Established this year, the award has been made retroactive to 1970.

The Meritorious Service Award, which will be granted annually, is based on an employee’s interpersonal relationships with patients, the community and fellow employees, as well as technical competency. The award itself is a medallion bearing the Hospital logo and the recipient’s name and may be worn at official Hospital functions and at the annual Service Awards presentation.

Employees honored for 20 years of service are: Miss Everliner Washington, Miss Ladie A. Franklin, Mrs. Carrie Brown, Mrs. Hattie M. Grinston, Miss Marie E. Kuppinger, Mrs. Victoria Robinson, Miss Sylvester Cross, Miss Wilma Havenar.

Those honored for fifteen years of service include Mrs. Gladys Manne, Mrs. Mary Graf, Mrs. Julia Bradford, Mr. Levoid Johnson Jr., Mr. Charles W. Noble, Miss Maxine Rodabaugh, Mrs. Jo Willis Jackson, Miss Grace Nabor, Mrs. Fay Gillespie, Mrs. Marta Porth, Mr. Lorenza A. Hall, Mrs. Mary E. Gotler.

The 22 ten-year employees cited for service are: Mrs. Lillian S. Brown, Mr. Jerry A. Wilson, Mrs. Velma Bogard, Mr. Willie White, Mrs. Thelma Lee Jones, Mr. Lloyd Bailey, Mr. Vincent Plassmeyer, Mrs. Faye Champlin, Mrs. Brenda Ernst, Mrs. Betty Danzie, Mrs. Ethel Johnson, Mrs. Rosemary Sens, Mrs. Luella Lewis, Mr. Isaac Pickett, Mrs. Ruth Colvin, Mr.
Annual Awards Presentation

Herman Litwack, Mrs. Louise Tidwell, Mrs. Clara A. Boyd, Mrs. Jeanette Lucky, Mrs. Sally A. O'Neil, Mrs. Chana A. Fischer, Mrs. Thelma Duff.

Completing five years are 72 employees: Mrs. Mabel Howell, Mrs. Norma Ulreich, Mr. William J. Jones, Mrs. Regina L. Pinson, Mrs. Maxine G. Hanebrink, Mr. William E. Adams, Mr. Zack Ballard, Mr. Elmer Jones, Mrs. Bassie Kreitman, Mrs. Era M. Langston, Mrs. Lee B. Matthews, Mrs. Annette McGee, Mrs. Louise Roberts, Mrs. Helen L. Anderson, Miss Sook Won Lee.

Special certificates were presented to employees who retired during 1971. They are: Miss Willie B. Cole, Mrs. Ruth E. Gates, Miss Letha McCarroll, Miss Odee Bates, Norma E. Robinson, Opal Schaep, Sylvester Valleroy, Verna Romike, Mrs. V. Mary Benson, Lillian Brown, Emily Getz.

Bo Axelrod, Director of Food Services and Master of Ceremonies, called the honorees up to receive their awards presented by David A. Gee, Executive Vice President, and Edward B. Greensfelder, President. Hosts for the affair included recently-installed Twenty-Plus Club members.
Gifts and Bequests

Jewish Hospital has received a gift of $15,000 from the estate of I. Louis Stein. The amount of $10,000 has been designated to establish the Florence and Louis Stein Unrestricted Endowment Fund, and the remaining $5,000 will be used to endow a patient room in memory of Mr. Stein who died September 26, 1971.

The Clifford Willard Gaylord Foundation has made a recent gift of $3,000 to a Nursing Endowment which they established in 1970 with a gift of $5,000 and augmented in 1971, with a $3,000 gift. The Foundation also made a general grant to the Hospital of $6,000.

Trustees of the estate of Harry Margolies have made an additional gift of $1,500 to the Harry and Fay Pasternak Margolies Cancer Fund, bringing the principal of the endowment to $11,500.

Mrs. Corinne B. Bauman who died March 25, 1972, has bequeathed $25,000 to the Hospital to establish the Alvin L. and Corinne B. Bauman Memorial Fund. The income from the endowment will be used for research in Medicine.

The Evelyn S. Wurdack Bone Research Fund has been established with a gift of $10,000 from Mrs. Wurdack. The fund will be used for studies of bone disease at the discretion of Dr. Louis V. Avioli, Director of Endocrinology and Metabolism and Stella H. and Sydney M. Shoenberg Professor of Medicine at Washington University Medical School and the Hospital.

The Hospital has received a bequest of $1,000 from the estate of Leonore W. Goldstein. Mrs. Goldstein, who died December 11, 1971, was the mother of Mrs. Helen G. Wolff.

Dr. and Mrs. Leon Fox have made a donation to the Department of Surgery in memory of their son Jeffrey Charles. The gift will be used to purchase books for the surgical house staff library.

Jos. McCarthy, M.D., Oldest Alumnus, Dies

Joseph D. McCarthy, M.D., an alumnus of the Jewish Hospital internship program, died in Pempano Beach, Florida of pulmonary emphysema and coronary artery disease. Dr. McCarthy at 77 was the oldest living alumnus of the Hospital’s internship program.

Paul Lowenstein, M.D., noted that he is now the oldest living alumnus of the program.

Otolaryngology Holds Training Session

Frank B. Wilson, Ph.D., Director, Division of Speech Pathology, and Miss Joann Lilly, M.S., Audiologist, were co-chairmen of a recent three-day training session for eight pediatric nurses from St. Louis Children’s Hospital.

The training session, held at the Department of Otolaryngology, marked the third consecutive year that the Department has provided this training.

Ben H. Senturia, M.D., Director of the Department of Otolaryngology, lectured on pediatric otolaryngology; Miss Lilly and her staff presented lectures on audiology, and Dr. Wilson and his team spoke on speech pathology.

Federation Drive Tallied at Hospital

More than $9,000 has been collected from Hospital employees for the 1972 Jewish Federation Fund Drive. As yet, the total from full-time and part-time physicians has not been reported. Last year’s donations totalled $16,834.25.

Miss Betty Danzie, R.N., and Mrs. Judi Alpert, Social Worker, headed this year’s Federation Fund Drive at the Hospital. Annually $250,000 from the Federation goes to the Hospital. Some of this is used to help offset the million-dollar-plus costs in medical bills that the Hospital incurs each year through providing free medical care to those who cannot otherwise afford it.

The Hospital also uses the Federation funds to help support the medical and surgical teaching programs, the Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation Division, the Aaron Waldheim Clinics, the Department of Psychiatry and the Home Care Division.
Beverly Kaufer...
Nurse and Teacher

Patient requests for Mrs. Beverly Kaufer, R.N., have become quite the normal thing around the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology it seems.

And with good reason. She starts something she can finish right here at the Hospital in her capacity as a staff nurse. Mrs. Kaufer, who works part time, also pursues a volunteer interest teaching a mother and baby care course under the auspices of the Red Cross. The course is offered four times a year at the University City School of Continuing Education. This in itself is not so unique, but what she has done with the course and the following she has acquired is.

Through her outstanding performance "in class", Mrs. Kaufer has gained a citywide reputation for her enthusiastic and skilful presentation and receives the highest recommendations from physicians and former students alike.

Interest in service to others, however, is not unique to the woman of the Kaufer household. Mrs. Kaufer, a Jewish Hospital School of Nursing graduate, is the wife of Harry Kaufer of the Jewish Employment and Vocational Services and their daughter teaches exceptional children.

And for seven years Mrs. Kaufer has been helping expectant parents through that often confusing, difficult time of awaiting their child. Out of that four-week relationship between parents and instructor grows a respect and admiration unique to such a situation. And it's those students, so impressed with her combination of interest and competence, who seek her out at Jewish Hospital. They simply want Mrs. Kaufer's encouragement and reassurance, the follow-through.

The course itself covers that critical period from conception through the first year, encompassing every aspect of maternity care — pre-natal care, preparation for the hospital, labor and delivery and baby care. A movie on labor and delivery is routine for the class. When the baby comes home, Mrs. Kaufer's students are well equipped with all the necessities and armed with information concerning amounts, procedures and techniques.

A highlight of the course is the bathing demonstration in which the fathers participate, rather timidly at first. Instructor Kaufer collects 'home movies' of this somewhat amusing process. She uses dolls to demonstrate, throwing them out the first night of class. Prospective fathers catch them as they would a ball. As the course progresses, she says there is a noticeable amount of learned care as the students gradually overcome their reluctance and awkwardness.

Mrs. Kaufer also introduces the members of her group to rooming-in, a procedure not offered by all hospitals but which Jewish Hospital does practice. In essence, rooming-in provides a sort of getting-used-to-each-other period as babies remain in the rooms with mothers during the day. The Hospital supplies nursing help as needed.

After such thorough instruction it's no wonder expectant mothers request Mrs. Kaufer, who is equally delighted to continue giving her support through childbirth. She finds it rewarding as she does the teaching part, and the patients appreciate that extra security they get from having her there when they need her. She's a familiar, smiling face to help relieve the strangeness of the hospital situation and she uses these opportunities to reinforce her class teaching.
For the average person going to a movie or playing pool or even acting in a play is all part of the activity of life. A handicapped person views the whole realm of recreation from a totally different angle. That's why there is a very definite need for an all-encompassing recreational therapy program — to help these people learn to function as easily and normally as possible in our society.

Recreational Therapy is part of the total rehabilitation program at Jewish Hospital — the Department of Rehabilitation Medicine — directed by Dr. Franz U. Steinberg.

And the recreational therapy program, recently expanded, has taken a notable plunge into spirited activity within the past few months under Gary Kielhofner, the aggressive, enthusiastic new director. Mrs. Sandra Leimer, Coordinator of Occupational and Recreational Therapy, supervises and is equally excited over all the new developments in her area. These two, along with therapists Molly Bauer and Walter Coleman, cook up some fun, functional activity for the patients practically every night. If it’s not a movie it may be a band or a local folksinger. Whatever the entertainment, it’s providing for these patients a basis for participation and social interaction which are no less than living a full life.

The theory behind the program is stimulation — to directly involve these patients as much as possible in normal, everyday activity. Just as the name implies, recreation IS therapy. Recreation is providing new and fulfilling experiences and, in some cases, entirely new cultural and recreational interests.

Through the program the patients are learning how to function socially as handicapped persons in society and how to overcome the self-consciousness of being “different”.

In addition to movies and visiting entertainers, some of the programmed activities in the Hospital include such cooperative efforts as parties, with hand-made decorations, plays, skits with patient-composed, original scripts, and games like pool, table tennis, bingo.

Excursions to college and professional theatre productions, movie theaters, the symphony and professional sports place the patients into a “real” social environment. Aside from the obvious
It must be party time as therapy aid Walter Coleman serves cupcakes to rehab patient Billie Harris.

Motive — enjoyment — these trips tend to minimize the difficulty of functioning in normal social situations. As summer approaches the recreational therapy staff is busy plotting some possible outings and maybe a little fishing. Plans in the works call for physical activities such as wheelchair basketball.

The therapists gear all therapeutic activities specifically to the patients, offering choices of particular interest to them. If a patient is bedridden he can be assured of some form of entertainment especially for him. Perhaps a private movie showing with friends invited.

The Recreational Therapy area has previously received its primary support from the Ben A’Kiba Aid Society which has generously donated the Ben A’Kiba Lounge, a television, stereo, movie projector, portable pool table and ping pong table.

The entire Recreational Therapy program is operated entirely on donated monies. Many of the out-of-hospital events are possible solely through the donation of complimentary tickets. Anyone connected with the Hospital who could obtain complimentary tickets for local sport, cultural or recreational events would be doing a great service for the patients.

At present, even more programs are being devised for the future entertainment of our rehabilitation patients. With people who care like Sandra, Gary, Molly and Walter running the show, these patients are indeed able to develop a new outlook on their lives, a renewed sense of belonging and a greater ability to function in a society in which they can be a productive part.
Mrs. Sue Wallach, R.N., watches as Mrs. Betty Klaitman recites the blessing over the Sabbath candles. Six sets of Sabbath lights have been made available to the Hospital by the Jewish Center for the Aged. Patients may use the lights upon request.

The Main entrance of the Hospital has been moved and is now located at the Parkview entrance on the ground floor of the Steinberg building. The main information desk has also been moved to that location. Maxine Gruchalla, Patient Information Clerk, is the Hospital’s main source for patient information.

Every month the Eleanor Roosevelt chapter of Hadassah tours some facility in the St. Louis area, and in March it was Jewish Hospital. Following a slide presentation of the Jewish Hospital story, they toured some of the facilities including the blood bank, chapel, and the Obstetrical Division. Seated are, from left, Mrs. Sylvia Tessler, Mrs. Bobbie Ring, Mrs. Natalie Rosen. Standing, from left, Mrs. Sherry Neeter, Mrs. Marie Cuttler, Mrs. Sarah Katz, Mrs. Ann Greenstein, Mrs. Sandi Lieberman.

Mrs. Harry Lichtenfeld lights the candles at the first-night Passover seder conducted by Rabbi Lawrence Siegel for patients at the Hospital.
