HOSPITAL MANAGEMENT SALUTES DR. BRADLEY

Dr. F. R. Bradley, Director of Barnes and affiliated hospitals, is saluted in the current issue of "Hospital Management" magazine.

"Hospital Management acknowledges with this salute the debt that the public owes Frank Bradley and the gratitude of hospital patients everywhere, whose sojourn has been made a little easier because of his work," says the article.

As professor of hospital administration and director of the course at Washington University School of Medicine, Dr. Bradley has trained many hospital administrators, HM points out.

He was a prime mover in establishing the Joint Commission for the Improvement of the Care of the Patient, and was its first chairman, in 1948, laying the foundations for better understanding among the fields of medicine, nursing and hospital administration, HM recalls.

A past president of the American Hospital Association and of the American College of Hospital Administrators, Dr. Bradley is "a dedicated man who does not spare himself and naturally expects the same of others who work under him."

The article mentions the little-known fact that Dr. Bradley worked his way through college and medical school, first as a brakeman on the L. & N. and then as a night switchman for the Terminal Railroad.

"With this background, his achievements are not surprising," HM declares.

CHAPLAIN’S CORNER

It is a wonderful thing to know that “security” is one of the great watchwords of our time. Around it gathers some of the most productive thinking and activity that we can imagine. Without a longing for this element there would be a temptation to shift with the crowd and become very complacent about high values and treasured results. There are many ideas about it, some of which are very flimsy. Others are most challenging.

Most of us have some lofty objectives that grow out of a desire to have a sense of well-being and to be secure. Almost in spite of our best strivings we accept some secondary compromises. The original lusters seem to fade away. In plain language, we get tired and quit - or nearly so. We fail to keep faith with ourselves and others. The fault is not with the goals, but with ourselves.

Great and good things rarely happen unless we make them happen. So-called luck is not responsible for many of the great achievements and discoveries. The great scientific world in which we live, and from which we benefit, has not really been developed by people who were seeking material security. It has come from those who have been discouraged and defeated over and over again, yet determined to establish new benefits for others. When we think of the health benefits that add to our security, we are frightened to know that Pasteur and others could have given up too soon. Every person who does a worthy task is adding to the security of someone.

THE GOSPEL OF LABOR

But I think the King of that country comes out from His tireless host
And walks in this world of the weary, as if He loved it the most:
For here in the dusty confusion with eyes that are heavy and dim
He meets again the laboring men who are looking and longing for Him.

He cancels the curse of Eden and brings them a blessing instead,
Blessed are they that labor for Jesus partakes of their bread;
He puts His hands to their burdens, He enters their homes at night:
Who does his best shall have as his guest the Master of life and light.

And courage will come with His presence, and patience return at His touch,
And manifold sins be forgiven to those who love Him much;
And the cries of envy and anger will change to the songs of cheer,
For the toiling age will forget its rage when the Prince of Peace draws near.

This is the gospel of labor, ring it, ye bells of the kirk,
The Lord of Love comes down from above
to live with the men who work;
This is the rose that He planted, here in the thorn-cursed soil--
Heaven is blessed with perfect rest, but the blessing of earth is toil.

DORIS KENNEDY RESIGNS FROM CNO

It is with regret that the hospital accepts the resignation of Doris Kennedy, Central Nursing Office secretary.

Doris Spangle (she became Mrs. Gordon Kennedy in 1953), began her employment as floor secretary in Maternity Hospital in 1945. In 1947 she became secretary in the Nursing Office, and later assumed the responsibility of time-keeping for all nursing personnel. Her efficiency, interest in personnel, and pleasant personality will be missed by all.

While reluctant to leave St. Louis and her many friends at Barnes, Mr. Kennedy’s business affairs call them both to San Bernadino, California as of May 1.

Everyone here joins in wishing the Kennedys the warmest and brightest future in sunny California.
For the last twenty-one years of her life she was a faithful employee, and as she grew older she gave up personal activities to devote all her energy to her duties as Registration Clerk in Maternity Hospital. On Good Friday she became ill while at work, and was sent home. She passed away on Easter morning.

Her only near relative was a brother, Mr. Eads Mills of Bloomfield, Nebraska. The family home was originally in Lynn County, Missouri, but before her death Mrs. McDonnell requested that she be cremated since no family remained to carry on its traditions.

A Memorial Service for Mrs. McDonnell was held in the Danforth Chapel of Barnes Hospital on Friday, April 11.
