DR. MOORE RECEIVES GOLDBERGER AWARD

Dr. Carl V. Moore, Physician-in-Chief of Barnes and Affiliated Hospitals and Busch professor of medicine at Washington University School of Medicine, was awarded the eighth Goldberger Award in clinical instruction during the recent annual meeting of the American Medical Association. The honor was bestowed upon Dr. Moore for his work in advancing knowledge of the role of iron in the prevention and cure of iron-deficient anemia.

The award, consisting of an engraved gold medal and $1,000, was presented to Dr. Moore by Dr. Gunnar Gunderson, AMA past president, at the opening meeting of the House of Delegates. The award is given by the AMA's Council on Foods and Nutrition, and is provided by Nutrition Foundation, Inc.

Dr. Moore delivered the annual Goldberger lecture before the scientific session of the annual meeting. Dr. Moore was one of the first persons to use radioactive iron to study iron absorption from foods. He has also done extensive work on blood disorders, including the metabolism of phosphorus, the function of folic acid in anemias, and the metabolism of blood leucocytes in relation to leukemia.

Dr. Moore was formerly dean of the Washington University School of Medicine. He has been editor of the Journal of Laboratory and Clinical Medicine, and served as president of the American Society for Clinical Investigation in 1953.

ATTENDS CONVENTION BUT MISSES TORNADO

Dr. C. O. Vermillion, Associate Director, attended the annual Optimists International Convention in Miami Beach the week of June 15. The convention was over and Dr. Vermillion had just begun the trip back to St. Louis when the tornado which caused such severe damage struck Miami Beach. Dr. Vermillion says he missed the tornado "by a half hour or one mile." He certainly left just in time!

Immediately after his return (on Wednesday night, June 24), Dr. Vermillion was installed as president of the Webster Groves Optimist Club.
Mr. Raymond Grossman opens his presents at a going-away party given for him in the Recreation Department. Gifts included many useful items plus a few well-chosen ones which brought hilarious responses from Mr. Grossman and the Activity Therapy staff. Looking on are Mrs. Mamie Gruber, Volunteer, and Margaret L. Kelley, Occupational Therapist. Mr. Grossman, who has been Recreation Director for over three years, left the department to become an Assistant Director on the administrative staff of Barnes.

SCHOOL OF NURSING FULLY ACCREDITED

The National League for Nursing, accrediting body for schools of nursing, advised on July 15 that the Barnes Hospital School of Nursing has received full accreditation.

In a letter to Miss Ann J. Campbell, Director of Nursing Education and Nursing Service, from Miss Mildred E. Schwier, Secretary of the Board of Review for Diploma Programs of the Department of Diploma and Associate Degree Programs of the National League for Nursing, Miss Schwier stated, "The board of review wishes to commend those associated with the school for their efforts to develop and offer a sound program in nursing. It wishes you continued success in your endeavors."

According to usual policy, the Barnes Hospital School of Nursing will be included in the official NLN list of those institutions offering fully accredited programs in nursing to be published in the August issue of NURSING OUTLOOK Magazine.
"Why did this have to happen to me?" is a statement that is heard quite often. It is likely that just about every person who has reached adulthood has used this combination of words at some time in his growing up experiences. The analysis of this statement might be approached from various angles.

In the first place, this is a very good question. It can, if taken seriously, make us look back and evaluate what has gone before. In so doing we generally discover some weaknesses, some carelessness and inexcusable neglect. It has a way of causing us to realize that it is a wise thing to take stock once in a while. This is burdensome for the merchant to do, and we are very much like him in this respect. It is, however, a profitable procedure.

Some have more reasons than others to ask this question. We must admit that environmental conditions have not been the same for all of us. There is the matter of being more fortunate and less fortunate. It would be easy to leave it right here and say that life is just like that. This would hardly be fair, of course, for we do have a personal part in shaping the environment and in determining that nebulous something we call fortune. Those who feel they have more reasons than others in this respect can profit by reducing the reasons. That, by the way, is no small task.

Most of us ask this question far too often. Just about all of us possess a great ability to feel sorry for ourselves. There is actually a certain sense of satisfaction, among some people, in experiencing an unusual number of adverse happenings. We can't just say that these are morbid complainers, for every person has to guard against falling into this group.

MID-WEST AREA PERSONNEL GROUP FORMED

The first large regional association of hospital personnel directors was formed June 27 at an organizational meeting held at St. Mary's Hospital, St. Louis. C. C. Dade, Personnel Director at Barnes, was elected president of the new "Mid-West Hospital Personnel Directors Association."

Other officers elected were Sister M. Agnes Charles, St. Mary's Hospital, Vice President; C. A. Alsop, Jr., St. Vincent's Hospital, Treasurer; Edith M. Barbarick, St. John's Hospital, Springfield, Recording Secretary; and Louise M. Meadows, St. Joseph's Hospital, Kirkwood, Corresponding Secretary.

Primary objectives of the new association are the development of effective personnel practices in hospitals, exchange of information on personnel policies and practices, and the encouragement of standardization in hospital personnel methods and procedures. Membership is open to personnel representatives of hospitals, clinics, or other distinctly medical facilities, either as an active or associate member according to qualifications of the individual.

Mr. Dade is also president of the Hospital Personnel Directors Association of Greater St. Louis.
IBM SUPERVISORS ATTEND NMAA CONFERENCE

Fred J. Menendez, IBM Department Supervisor, and John F. Weissgerber, IBM Assistant Supervisor, attended the 1959 National Conference of the National Machine Accountants Association at the Chase-Park Plaza Hotels on June 24, 25, and 26. Mr. Menendez and Mr. Weissgerber were actors in a satirical film on "Office Automation" that was the hit of the conference.

Dr. C. O. Vermillion, Associate Director, presented a seminar at the conference on the application of punched card and electronic data processing systems to hospitals for medical statistics, patient accounts, and investigational projects. On display at the conference were the latest developments in the field of electronic data processing.

ANNE T. CAIN, Housekeeping, began her employment at Barnes on July 25, 1944, immediately after coming to St. Louis. She was born December 2, 1908 in Homer, Louisiana, and spent most of her life there. On vacations she enjoys visiting her four brothers and four sisters, all of whom still live on farms in the Homer area. Miss Cain is a member of the First Baptist Church, and is active in the church's Nursing Union and Bible study groups. She likes to crochet, and gives away most of her crocheted items as gifts. Annie is proud of her two paid-up insurance policies, one of which will provide monthly benefits when she retires. She says, however, that she does not plan to retire as long as she is able to work. She says that Barnes is the best place in which she has ever worked, and that she feels well rewarded in being able to do her part in providing hospital service for those who need it.

HENRY SWAN completed 15 years in the Barnes Hospital Laundry on July 26. Born and reared in Luxol, Arkansas, he played semi-professional baseball with the Danville Union Team for four years. After moving to St. Louis in 1907, Henry worked in a brickyard and packing house before coming to Barnes. Henry and his wife have no relatives in St. Louis; their only son lives in Baltimore, Maryland with his wife and three children. Henry gave up fishing, his favorite sport, about three years ago when he developed an arthritic condition. The Swans are members of the Methodist Church.

MYRTLE JOHNSON, Senior Nurse Assistant, celebrated her 10th anniversary at Barnes on July 18. Born in New Orleans, Louisi-ana, she moved to St. Louis in 1929 and worked at the Eagle Stove Foundry and the St. Louis Ordnance Plant before coming to Barnes as a Nurse Aide. The Johnsons have one daughter, who majored in education at Wilberforce University, Wilberforce, Ohio. The daughter is now married to a teacher at Central High School in Cleveland, and the couple have three children. Mrs. Johnson has a brother, sister, eleven nieces and one nephew in St. Louis, and a sister who lives in Seattle, Washington. Her sister who lives in Seattle has adopted seven children and plans to adopt more; Mrs. Johnson hopes to visit them during her vacation. Mrs. Johnson says her greatest desire has always been to care for the sick, and she is grateful to Barnes for making it possible for her to do so.

On Thursday morning, May 14, an historic step was taken by the ladies shown above as they met to create a Barnes Hospital Auxiliary. Nucleus of the Auxiliary is the old Washington University Clinics Auxiliary and the Renard Hospital Volunteers. The W. U. C. Auxiliary has been active in out-patient activities since 1954; the Renard Volunteers, serving patients in the psychiatric hospital, has been active for two and a half years. A committee appointed by the Clinics Auxiliary, with the cooperation and approval of Dr. F. R. Bradley, wrote the Constitution and By-Laws for the new Barnes Hospital Auxiliary; these were unanimously approved at the Thursday morning meeting.

Four officers of the new Auxiliary are shown at left in uniform. Left to right are Mrs. E. G. Greber, Treasurer; Mrs. G. Fred Driemeyer, President; Mrs. Karl Ganssle, First Vice President; and Mrs. Herman Brandenburger, Second Vice President. Mrs. Jane B. Pennell was elected Secretary for the coming year, was not present when this photograph was made.
Mrs. Driemeyer and Mrs. Brandenburger are shown with Mr. Raymond Grossman, Assistant Director, who will assist and cooperate with the Auxiliary in coordinating and approving activities of the volunteers with the hospital's administrative staff.

Mrs. Driemeyer and Mrs. Clark discuss with Mr. J. Wesley McAfee, Chairman of the Barnes Hospital Board of Trustees, the Auxiliary plans for a hospital wide volunteer service. All volunteers will be recruited, interviewed, and oriented to the hospital by the Auxiliary. This is the first effort to integrate volunteer activities in all areas of the medical center.
