Groundbreaking for new business school building

More than 700 people turned out for groundbreaking ceremonies for the new $13 million building for the School of Business and Public Administration the morning of Oct. 7. Funds for the building are being raised through the Alliance for Washington University. Groundbreaking activities began with a talk by Charles F. Knight (above, second from left) in Graham Chapel. Knight, chairman and chief executive officer of Emerson Electric Co. and a WU trustee, chaired the 27-member Business Task Force that was instrumental in developing plans for the future of the business school, including construction of a new building. When completed in 1985, the 135,000-square-foot structure will be one of the largest academic buildings on the Hilltop Campus. Above (left to right) are: Robert L. Virgil, dean of the business school; Knight; Chancellor William H. Danforth; W. L. Hadley Griffin, chairman of the board of Brown Group Inc. and chairman of the WU Board of Trustees; and George H. Capps, president of Capitol Coal & Coke Company, general chairman of the Alliance for Washington University, and vice chairman of the WU Board of Trustees.

Poet Pamela White Hadas to speak on famous and infamous women

Award-winning poet and WU alumna Pamela White Hadas will read selections from her latest book, Beside Herself: Pocahontas to Patty Hearst, at 11 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 26, in Graham Chapel. The reading, which is free and open to the public, is sponsored by the Assembly Series and the Campus Bookstore.

Beside Herself, published last June by Alfred A. Knopf, was described by Edmund Fuller in the Sept. 26 Wall Street Journal as "a highly interesting book of poems on a variety of feminist themes." Her subjects in the book include Belle Starr, Carrie Nation, Jean Harris and "the wives of Watertag.

Hadas is the author of three other books of poems, The Passion of Lilith, Designing Women, In Light of Genesis, and of a study of poet Marianne Moore. In 1980, Hadas was the first person awarded the Witter Byner Poetry Prize from the American Academy and Institute of Arts and Letters. Two years later, she received the Oscar Blumenthal Award from Poetry, a national literary magazine.

Hadas has held visiting lectureships and a visiting professorship in WU's Department of English since 1976. A Phi Beta Kappa, she graduated magna cum laude from the University in 1968, and received both her MA and PhD from WU. Hadas also has taught at Middlebury College, Webster University, the Bread Loaf School of English and the Bread Loaf Writers' Conference and the Bread Loaf School of English.

In addition to writing poetry, Hadas has written one play and translated another. Her play, "Mother's Day," was produced as a staged reading in WU's Edison Theatre in October 1979. Her translation of Chekhov's "The Three Sisters" was performed in the WU Drama Studio last March. She also wrote the libretto to an opera, "Janusz Korczak."

Hadas, who was born in Holland, Mich., in 1946, has received numerous awards and honors for her work. She received the Young Artists Award from the Interlochen Arts Academy in 1964; the Norma Lowry Memorial Award for Poetry in 1967; and the American Academy of Poets Award in 1968. In 1979, she was a fellow of the MacDowell Colony in Peterborough, N.H., and a guest at Yaddo, a working community for ACE Fellow Quillian to work with administration

Benjamin F. Quillian Jr., assistant director of University Personnel Services at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville (SIUE) and associate professor of the 1983-84 academic year as an American Council on Education (ACE) Fellow in Academic Administration.

As an ACE Fellow, Quillian will be researching aspects of senior administration in higher education. Quillian said much of his work will focus on financial analysis and the utilization of computer technology. A native of St. Louis, Quillian served as WU assistant director of admissions and financial aids from 1969 to 1970 and received his PhD in social relations in education from WU in 1977.

Quillian graduated valedictorian from Soldan High School in 1961. He received his AB degree in elementary education from Harris Teachers College in 1965 and his MS degree in educational administration from SIUE in 1970. In 1981, he was a fellow at the Institute for Educational Management at Harvard University.

He joined the faculty at SIUE in 1973 as an instructor at the Youth Development and Delinquency Study Center. He became an assistant professor at the center in 1977 and an associate professor in 1982. He is co-author of Nine Programs in Early Childhood Education and author of several more. Toward a Model of Judicial Functioning in the Juvenile Court and Dilemmas and Issues Facing Juvenile Justice.

Quillian has worked as a St. Louis elementary school teacher, a pre-college counselor at SIUE, acting director of the St. Louis Urban Corps Program, an associate researcher at the Institute for Educational Management at Harvard University, and, as a part-time instructor at Lewis and Clark Community College, Godfrey, Ill., St. Louis Community College at Forest Park, and the University of Missouri-St. Louis.

ACE Fellow Quillian to work with administration

Benjamin F. Quillian Jr., assistant director of University Personnel Services at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville (SIUE) and associate professor for the 1983-84 academic year as an American Council on Education (ACE) Fellow in Academic Administration.

As an ACE Fellow, Quillian will be researching aspects of senior administration in higher education. Quillian said much of his work will focus on financial analysis and the utilization of computer technology. A native of St. Louis, Quillian served as WU assistant director of admissions and financial aids from 1969 to 1970 and received his PhD in social relations in education from WU in 1977.

Quillian graduated valedictorian from Soldan High School in 1961. He received his AB degree in elementary education from Harris Teachers College in 1965 and his MS degree in educational administration from SIUE in 1970. In 1981, he was a fellow at the Institute for Educational Management at Harvard University.

He joined the faculty at SIUE in 1973 as an instructor at the Youth Development and Delinquency Study Center. He became an assistant professor at the center in 1977 and an associate professor in 1982. He is co-author of Nine Programs in Early Childhood Education and author of several more. Toward a Model of Judicial Functioning in the Juvenile Court and Dilemmas and Issues Facing Juvenile Justice.

Quillian has worked as a St. Louis elementary school teacher, a pre-college counselor at SIUE, acting director of the St. Louis Urban Corps Program, an associate researcher at Central Midwestern Regional Educational Laboratory, and as a part-time instructor at Lewis and Clark Community College, Godfrey, Ill., St. Louis Community College at Forest Park, and the University of Missouri-St. Louis.
The 47th Annual Conference of the Midyica College Art Association, Oct. 26-28, is expected to draw nearly 700 artists and art educators to WU and the Chase Park Plaza Hotel. Hosted by the School of Fine Arts, the conference is being held in St. Louis for the first time.

Campus organizers are James Serritt; professor of art and president of the association; J. Gregory Hollosy; lecturer in art-sculpture and treasurer; and Stanley Strenbickli, lecturer in art and history. Coochairman of the steering committee, with Serritt, is Michael D. Taylor, chairman of the art department at the University of Misso2r-St. Louis.

The association includes two-and-four-year colleges from the Gulf Coast into Canada, and from east of the Rockies to west of the Pennsyl-vanians.

Following a welcoming address at noon Oct. 27 at the hotel by Norman Champ of the National Endowment for the Arts National Advisory Committee, WU poet-in-residence Donald Finkel will deliver the keynote speech, "From the Linden to the Met: Piety and Irreverence in the Arts."

Other WU faculty members involved in the conference are: Gerald Bolas, Sherry Cohn, Roger Des-
Rossiers, Pat Eby, Kathryn Field,
David Hershey, Mark Lyman, Judith
Mann, Peter Marcus, James
McGarel, Hylarie McMahon, Jeffrey
Noonan, Jeffrey Pyle, Phyllis Platter-
er, Heikki Seppa, Robert C. Smith, Kurt Streommen, Sarantis Symglou, Anne Taussig, William Wallace and Alex Wreden.

Participants will be invited on Oct. 26 to the Undergraduate Sculpture and Ceramic Studio in the Quonsetts, and by a fashion show at the Boxy Hall, and on Oct. 27 to the Gallery of Art, and the Art and Architecture Library — both in Steinberg Hall. Nineteen School of Fine Arts fashion design students will exhibit their work in a fashion show on Oct. 28 at the Chase Park Plaza.

Internationally-known realist
painters Jack Beal and Sondra Freck-elton of New York will be featured artists at the conference. A reception for them will be held at 6 p.m. Oct.
26 at the Signet Arts Gallery, 560 N.
Skinker Blvd., where Beal's work will be exhibited through Dec. 3.
The husband-wife team also will deliver the School of Fine Arts' Anual Mr. and Mrs. Saul A. Dubinsky Lecture at 8 p.m. Oct. 27 at the Gallery of Art.

The public is invited to the conference. For registration information, call Pat Howard, 889-6515.

Donald Finkel
Eight investigators from the School of Medicine have been awarded research grants totaling nearly $190,000 by the American Diabetes Association (ADA). They are: Vivian L. Brackdale, research assistant professor of pathology; William E. Clutter, assistant professor of medicine; James R. Gavin III, assistant professor of medicine; Stephen J. Giddings, assistant professor of medicine; John C. Keohane, assistant professor of pharmacology; Peter S. Rotwein, assistant professor of medicine; John W. Turk, assistant professor of medicine; and Joseph W. Yang, research instructor in medicine (mechathrombosis). The grants are given in support of innovative new research projects in the field of diabetes mellitus.

Tilford Brooks, associate professor and chairman of the Department of Music, is the author of a recently published book, America's Black Musical Heritage. The source book, published by Prentice-Hall, Inc., identifies and discusses black music generally selected black composers, with a representative work from each, are included as well as the role of the black musician in American society. The book contains 86 photographs and a number of musical excerpts. Brooks spoke on "The Roots of the Kansas City Jazz Sound" at the 1983 annual meeting of the Missouri Folklore Society. The meeting, held at St. Louis Community College at Meramec, focused on the theme of cultural diversity in Missouri. Brooks participated in the session on black urban music in Missouri.

C. Robert Cloninger, professor of psychiatry and genetics at the School of Medicine, received an honorary doctorate of medicine and medical sciences Oct. 8 from the University of Umea in Sweden. The award was in recognition of his research contributions regarding the inheritance of psychiatric disorders. The degree was awarded at special ceremonies in Sweden. Cloninger's studies have shown how genetic and environmental factors interact in the development of many disorders, particularly alcoholism, depression, hypochondriasis and antisocial personality. He has identified subtypes of these disorders that have different genetic and environmental determinants.

David Felix, professor of economics, will speak at the International Conference on Models of Political and Economic Change in Latin America, Nov. 3-5, at Vanderbilt University. The title is: "On Financial Blow-ups and Authoritarian Regimes in Latin America."

Douglass C. North, associate professor for risk analysis at the School of Medicine, was appointed chairperson of the 1984 Publications Committee of the American Hospital Association, for Hospital Risk Management of the American Hospital Association. The society publishes a quarterly newsletter for its 1,500 members from the U.S. and Canada. The society was established to promote and enhance the professional practice of risk management in hospitals and related institutions by providing workshops, conferences, seminars, and acting as a forum for interchange of ideas, information and methodologies. North attended a meeting of the American Economic Association. North reported on current projects in Budapest. Following the presentation, a reception will be held in the grand foyer of Givens Hall, School of Architecture. Both events are free and open to the public.

Tilford Brooks, associate professor of English; and chairman of the Department of Music, was awarded an honorary degree at special ceremonies at the University of Umea in Sweden. The award was in recognition of his research contributions regarding the inheritance of psychiatric disorders. The degree was awarded at special ceremonies in Sweden. Brooks participated in the session on black urban music in Missouri.

James R. Gavin III, assistant professor of pathology; "Locating the Rational Roots of Economic Success" is being taught at Mark Twain Bank, Lindbergh Boulevard and Clayton Road, by Susan Videen (center), visiting assistant professor of Chinese and Japanese. The location and time (7:30 a.m.) were selected to be convenient to persons who live or work in west central St. Louis County. If the course is successful, says Jane Taft, assistant dean of University College, the college will consider sponsoring similar courses in other locations around the city.

HUNGARIAN ARCHITECT KEVES TO SPEAK ON CURRENT PROJECTS IN BUDAPEST

Architect Gyorgy Keves will speak on "Current Projects: Budapest" at 8 p.m. Monday, Oct. 24, in Steinberg Hall Auditorium.

Following the presentation, a reception will be held in the grand foyer of Givens Hall, School of Architecture. Both events are free and open to the public.

Jane Loevinger, professor of psychology, presided at the August meeting of the Division of Philosophical and Theoretical Psychology and delivered her presidential address, "Less is More: The Value of Low Correlations," at the American Psychological Association Convention in Anaheim, Calif. Last June, she gave an invited address on "The Structure of Personality" to a meeting of the Piaget Society in Philadelphia. Recently she has been appointed a consulting editor of two journals, Psychological Review and the Journal of Personality and Social Psychology.

Barbara M. Markus, assistant manager for risk analysis at the School of Medicine, was appointed chairperson of the 1984 Publications Committee of the American Hospital Association. The society publishes a quarterly newsletter for its 1,500 members from the U.S. and Canada. The society was established to promote and enhance the professional practice of risk management in hospitals and related institutions by providing workshops, conferences, seminars, and acting as a forum for interchange of ideas, information and methodologies. North attended a meeting of the American Economic Association. North reported on current projects in Budapest. Following the presentation, a reception will be held in the grand foyer of Givens Hall, School of Architecture. Both events are free and open to the public.

The Autumn 1983 Architecture Lecture Series is sponsored by the School of Architecture with support from the Student Union.

Jane Loevinger, professor of psychology, presided at the August meeting of the Division of Philosophical and Theoretical Psychology and delivered her presidential address, "Less is More: The Value of Low Correlations," at the American Psychological Association Convention in Anaheim, Calif. Last June, she gave an invited address on "The Structure of Personality" to a meeting of the Piaget Society in Philadelphia. Recently she has been appointed a consulting editor of two journals, Psychological Review and the Journal of Personality and Social Psychology.

Barbara M. Markus, assistant manager for risk analysis at the School of Medicine, was appointed chairperson of the 1984 Publications Committee of the American Hospital Association. The society publishes a quarterly newsletter for its 1,500 members from the U.S. and Canada. The society was established to promote and enhance the professional practice of risk management in hospitals and related institutions by providing workshops, conferences, seminars, and acting as a forum for interchange of ideas, information and methodologies. North attended a meeting of the American Economic Association. North reported on current projects in Budapest. Following the presentation, a reception will be held in the grand foyer of Givens Hall, School of Architecture. Both events are free and open to the public.

The Autumn 1983 Architecture Lecture Series is sponsored by the School of Architecture with support from the Student Union.

Jane Loevinger, professor of psychology, presided at the August meeting of the Division of Philosophical and Theoretical Psychology and delivered her presidential address, "Less is More: The Value of Low Correlations," at the American Psychological Association Convention in Anaheim, Calif. Last June, she gave an invited address on "The Structure of Personality" to a meeting of the Piaget Society in Philadelphia. Recently she has been appointed a consulting editor of two journals, Psychological Review and the Journal of Personality and Social Psychology.

Barbara M. Markus, assistant manager for risk analysis at the School of Medicine, was appointed chairperson of the 1984 Publications Committee of the American Hospital Association. The society publishes a quarterly newsletter for its 1,500 members from the U.S. and Canada. The society was established to promote and enhance the professional practice of risk management in hospitals and related institutions by providing workshops, conferences, seminars, and acting as a forum for interchange of ideas, information and methodologies. North attended a meeting of the American Economic Association. North reported on current projects in Budapest. Following the presentation, a reception will be held in the grand foyer of Givens Hall, School of Architecture. Both events are free and open to the public.

The Autumn 1983 Architecture Lecture Series is sponsored by the School of Architecture with support from the Student Union.

Jane Loevinger, professor of psychology, presided at the August meeting of the Division of Philosophical and Theoretical Psychology and delivered her presidential address, "Less is More: The Value of Low Correlations," at the American Psychological Association Convention in Anaheim, Calif. Last June, she gave an invited address on "The Structure of Personality" to a meeting of the Piaget Society in Philadelphia. Recently she has been appointed a consulting editor of two journals, Psychological Review and the Journal of Personality and Social Psychology.
October 21
7:30 p.m. Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, "God's Peace for Student Private Presses." "Graham Chapel.

November 23
10:00 a.m. Women's Tennis, "Women's Tennis vs. Illinois Wesleyan Univ. Tennis Courts.

Friday, October 21
8:00 p.m. Film Board Series, "Double Indemnity." $2. Brown Hall Auditorium.

Saturday, October 22
1:00 p.m. Soccer, "WU vs. DePaul University." USF Campus.

Wednesday, October 26
3:30 p.m. Women's Basketball, "WU vs. Notre Dame." Brown Hall.

Friday, October 27

Wednesday, November 1
11:15 a.m. Department of Music Student Recital, Tietjens Hall.

Wednesday, November 8
8:00 p.m. WU Volleyball, "WU vs. Maryville College." Women's Gymnasium.

Friday, November 9
7:30 p.m. Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, "God's Love." $2. Brown Hall Auditorium.

Saturday, November 10
1:00 p.m. Soccer, "WU vs. DePaul University." USF Campus.

Saturday, November 17
7:30 p.m. Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, "God's Love, Part II." $2. Brown Hall Auditorium.

Saturday, November 24
7:30 p.m. Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, "God's Love." $2. Brown Hall Auditorium.

Sunday, November 25
2:00 p.m. Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, "God's Love." $2. Brown Hall Auditorium.

Monday, November 26

Wednesday, December 2
3:30 p.m. Women's Basketball, "WU vs. Notre Dame." Brown Hall.

Wednesday, December 9
11:15 a.m. Department of Music Student Recital, Tietjens Hall.

Wednesday, December 16
8:00 p.m. WU Volleyball, "WU vs. Maryville College." Women's Gymnasium.

Thursday, December 17
7:30 p.m. Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, "God's Love." $2. Brown Hall Auditorium.

Friday, December 18

Lectures

Thursday, October 20

Friday, October 21

Tuesday, October 26
Noon, Department of Biochemistry Lecture, "The Structure and Function of the Nucleus." J. H.association. 4577 McKinley.

Thursday, October 29
11:15 a.m. Department of Music Student Recital, Tietjens Hall.

Friday, October 30
7:30 p.m. Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, "God's Love." $2. Brown Hall Auditorium.

Saturday, October 31
7:30 p.m. Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, "God's Love." $2. Brown Hall Auditorium.

Sports

Friday, October 21
3:30 p.m. Women's Tennis, "WU vs. Illionis Wesleyan University.

Saturday, October 22
1:00 p.m. Soccer, "WU vs. Aurora College.

1:30 p.m. Women's Tennis, "WU vs. Stephens College.

3:00 p.m. Women's Basketball, "WU vs. Maryville College.

Sunday, October 23
1:00 p.m. Soccer, "WU vs. DePaul University.

Monday, October 24
7:30 p.m. Women's Volleyball, "WU vs. University of Missouri.

8:45 p.m. Hockey, "WU Hockey Club.

Thursday, October 27
7:30 p.m. Soccer, "WU vs. Cardinal Newman College.

10:30 p.m. Hockey, "WU Hockey Club.

Certain dates are marked in bold for special events or games.

Calendar Deadline

The deadline to submit items for the Nov. 5-12 calendar of the Washington University Review is Oct. 20. Items must be typed and state time, date, place, nature of event, sponsor and admission cost. Incorrect items will not be printed. Readers are encouraged to include speaker's name and identification and the title of the event; also include your name and telephone number. Address items to McKnight, city editor, Box 1142.

"Honoring Evarts A. Graham." Through Nov. 25. Washington University Medical library annex, 615 S. Taylor Ave. Open 8:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m weekdays.

"The Tradition of Excellence: Contemporary Fine Printing from Private Presses." Through Dec. 30. Special Collections, Olin Library. 5th level. Open weekdays 8:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m.

"Spectacular Vernacular: Traditional Design from West Africa and Southeast Asia." Through Oct. 31. 1st fl. corridor. Green Hall. Open 7:30 a.m.-11 p.m. weekdays.

"The Garfield Gallery Presents: "Reflections of American Artistry." Through Dec. 30. Special Collections, Olin Library. 5th level. Open weekdays 8:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m.