Beethoven's best

String quartet presents all-Beethoven program

The Emerson String Quartet, the resident quartet of the Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center, will present an all-Beethoven concert at 8 p.m. Friday, Jan. 25, in Edison Theater.

The quartet holds performance residencies at the Smithsonian Institution, the Spoleto Festival, the Aspen Music Festival, Middlebury College and the University of Hartford's Hartt School of Music.

Selections to be performed Friday evening are Quartet in F major, Op. 59, No. 1; Quartet in E minor, Op. 95 ("Serioso"); and Quartet in E minor, Op. 59, No. 2.

The Emerson's broad repertoire embraces the complete cycles of both Beethoven and Bartok. In 1981 in New York City's Alice Tully Hall, the quartet performed an unprecedented marathon concert of all six Bartok quartets, which was hailed by The New York Times as "one of the truly important events of the season." The Bartok marathon was repeated in Germany in April 1985 as part of a 19-city European tour.

The ensemble has contributed to bringing works of 20th-century American composers to large audiences, premiering compositions by Mario Davidovsky, Maurice Wright and George Tsontakis.

Formed at the Juilliard School in the early 1970s, the quartet took the name of Ralph Waldo Emerson, the great American writer and philosopher, during the country's bicentennial year.

Tickets are $8 general admission; $5 for WU faculty, staff and area students; and $4 for WU students. All seating is reserved. Located in the University's Mallinckrodt Center, the box office is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays.

For more information, call 889-6543.

Emerson Electric pledges $2 million to WU's Alliance

The Emerson Charitable Trust, Emerson Electric Company of St. Louis, has made a five-year pledge of $2 million to the ALLIANCE FOR WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY, a $500 million fund-raising campaign, Chancellor William H. Danforth has announced.

The gift will support the plans for the advancement of the School of Business, which were developed in 1980-81 by a 27-member Task Force chaired by Charles L. Knight, chairman and chief executive of Emerson Electric.

These plans, which focused on adding to the quality of the school, include construction of a new building, increasing the endowment so as to support more effectively the work of the faculty, and adding to the scholarship and operating resources of the school.

"I am very grateful for Emerson Electric's marvelous leadership in the development of our School of Business. Support from corporations with the reputation of Emerson Electric gives a great lift to the faculty, the dean, and to me," Danforth said.

The funds sought through the ALLIANCE include $200 million for endowment and facilities and $100 million for annual operations and special program support. George H. Capps, a WU trustee, is chairman of the campaign. According to Capps, gifts and pledges to the ALLIANCE FOR WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY now total $225.2 million.

North explains relationship between politics and economics in lecture

Douglas C. North, WU's Henry R. Luce Professor of Law and Liberty, will deliver the Luce Lecture at 11 a.m. Wednesday, Jan. 30, in Graham Chapel.

The lecture, which is sponsored by the University's Assembly Series, is free and open to the public.

North, a specialist in economic organization, economic history and political economy, will discuss "Political Economy in Historical Perspective." The lecture, he says, explains the importance of studying the reciprocal relationship between economics and politics.

North is the author of numerous books, including The Economics of Public Issues, currently in its sixth edition. He collaborated with Robert P. Thomas to write The Rise of the Western World: A New Economic History, which has been translated into five languages and published in paperback in 1976.

North was last year appointed chairman of a National Research Council committee named "The Emergence of Social and Economic Political Institutions." The council is the research arm of the National Academy of Sciences.

North has lectured at almost every major American and Canadian university and at conferences and universities in Japan, South Africa, Europe and South America. In the last few months, he has lectured in Sweden, Argentina, England and Italy.

North has held the Luce professorship, which is funded by a grant from the Henry Luce Foundation, since summer 1981. The grant includes an annual lecture by the Luce professor.

Dental school joins Medical Center

The WU School of Dental Medicine recently became a member of the WU Medical Center, announced Samuel B. Gaze, M.D., president of the Medical Center.

The School of Dental Medicine has been part of WU since 1892, when it became the University's dental department. "Becoming part of the Medical Center makes us more identifiable as a source of academic involvement as well as scholarly efforts and research," says George D. Selfridge, D.D.S., M.S., dean of the dental school.

School of Dental Medicine. "It also gives us a better mechanism for communicating within the Medical Center." The Medical Center serves as a coordinating body for its member institutions and concerns itself with community welfare activities. The other members of the Medical Center are the Barnard Free Skin and Cancer Hospital, Barnes Hospital, Central Institute for the Deaf, Jewish Hospital, Children's Hospital and the WU School of Medicine.
American Indian celebration

Songs, dances and customs of Indians kept alive in powwow

An American Plains Indian powwow will be held from 12:30 to 5 p.m. and 7:30 to 11 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 26, in Room 208 Mallinckrodt Center. The event is free and open to the public.

The powwow, a demonstration-celebration of the songs, dances and customs of the American Indian, will include commentaries by both traditional tribal elders and scholars in the humanities. Participants include:

- Carter Revard — project director and WU professor of English, member of the Modern Language Associations’ Commission on the Literatures and Languages of America; and part Osage Indian, who received his Osage name, Nompewathie, in 1952.
- John Woosypiti — emcee for the powwow; an 80-year-old Comanche tribal elder, historian and teacher from Wichita, Kan.
- Evelyne Walkinney Voelker — chief liaison with singers and dancers; executive director of the American Indian Center of Mid-America; lecturer, author, and a descendant of the Comanche tribe of Oklahoma.
- Paul Galcaterra — a Plains Indian historian and craftsman; a member of the Kansa Tribe of Oklahoma; and a Gourd Dancer.

Revard has organized the event “to help keep the knowledge of the Indian alive, not only among Indians, but also among non-Indians. I want the students and community to know the beauty and vitality of the Indian ways,” he says.

Sponsored by WU’s English department, the event will provide those attending the opportunity to participate in some of the dances. The project is supported by a grant from the Missouri Committee for the Humanities Inc., the state-based arm of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

For more information, call 353-4517 or 727-9358.

Two WU psychologists have completed three years of study which indicate that several short-term behavioral and non-drug treatments relieve the symptoms of insomnia.

Psychologists find behavioral and non-drug treatments relieve insomnia

Patricia E. Lacks, associate professor of psychology, and Amy D. Bertelson, director of the Psychological Service Center and lecturer in psychology, treated 200 individuals who have trouble falling asleep or staying asleep through the night.

Improvement resulted from behavioral treatment that aims to change people’s pre-sleep and bedtime habits. Participants met in small groups for one hour a week for four weeks. Volunteer participants in the program reported a 50 to 60 percent improvement in the time it takes them to fall asleep or the sleep time lost by waking in the night. Also, since the treatment they reported having trouble sleeping only two nights per week instead of six.

Many participants have suffered from severe chronic insomnia for as long as 20 years. They have been able to maintain the sleep improvements one year after completing treatment, says Lacks.

Free registration is available for volunteers who want to participate in the program’s new phase. The research resumes in February with evaluation of more treatment methods. There is a slight charge for postage to mail sleep records.

For more information, call the Department of Psychology at 889-6586.
Harold Blumenfeld's cantata, "La factice endogène," composed on text from Rimbaud's "Illuminations," was performed Jan. 20 in New York by the contemporary music group, North/South Consonance. It also will be performed at a new music festival Feb. 9 at Memphis State University, and again in New York next fall by Musicians' Accord. The fall performance will be the premiere for the work, which was composed in 1981.

A. Maynard Engebretson, assistant director of research in engineering at the Center for the Study of American Physical Therapy (CID) and WU associate professor of electrical engineering, described the CID Digital Hearing Aid Project at the International Congress on Audiology in Santa Barbara, Calif. He and Gerald E. Purkay, an associate professor of audiology, also gave invited papers at a symposium on "Hearing Technology: Present and Future," co-sponsored by the Gallaudet Research Institute and the Deafness Research Foundation in Washington, D.C.

Robert S. Levinthal, assistant professor of German, recently participated in two international conferences. He presented a paper on "The Romantic Critique of Transcendental Philosophy" at the International Association of Philosophy and Literature at the University of Iowa, and gave a lecture on "Philo-Discourse in the 18th Century" at the Third International Conference on the History of the Language Sciences at Princeton University. The latter lecture will appear in a spring 1985 volume to be published in Amsterdam by John Benjamins. Levinthal also has been invited to give a paper at The International Herder Conference in November 1985 in Monterey, Calif.

Donald F. Mahoney has been named public relations manager for the Center for the Study of American Business. He has a bachelor's and master's degree in English from Loyola University, Chicago. He has worked as a writer and editor for Northwestern University Relations, Loyola University Press, The Chicago Sun-Times, U.S. Catholic and Today magazines.

Paul R. Manske, Fred C. Reynolds Professor and chairman of the Division of Orthopaedic Surgery, has received the Elizabeth Lanier Award from the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons. Manske was honored for his report on "Flexor Tendon Repair." He shared the award with his co-author, Richard Gelberman, M.D., professor of orthopedic surgery at the University of California, San Francisco. The Elizabeth Lanier Award is one of the most prestigious honors of the academy and carries with it a $5,000 stipend.

James D. Miller, director of research at the Central Institute for the Deaf and professor of psychology at WU, chaired a session on speech communication and spoke on "Auditory-Perceptual Correlates of the Vowel" at the Acoustical Society of America meeting in Minneapolis.

Steven J. Rose, director of the Program in Physical Therapy at the medical school, has been appointed to a special commission of the American Physical Therapy Association (APTA). Rose will serve on the APTA President's Commission on University Relations, which was formed to promote physical therapy training in higher education. Members of the commission will identify ways the association can improve communication with universities, assist in developing master's degree programs in physical therapy, and consider ways to strengthen physical therapy as a discipline within the allied health care field.

Sidore Silver, Rosa May Distinguished University Professor Emeritus in the Humanities, has accepted an invitation by Henri Weber, professor emeritus of the Université Paul Valéry, Montpellier, France, to be a member of the Comité de patronage of an international colloquium in commemoration of the fourth centenary of the death of the poet Pierre de Ronsard (1524-85). The colloquium, which will be held in Tours, Vendome and Paris in September 1985, is being organized by Weber under the sponsorship of the president of the French Republic. The Comité de patronage will include the Minister of National Education, the Minister of Culture, the Administrator of the Bibliothèque Nationale, and many other individuals in the French government and professorate, as well as international 16th-century scholars.

Have you done something noteworthy?

Have you: Presented a paper? Won an award? Been named to a committee or elected an officer of a professional organization? The Washington University Record will help spread the good news. Contributions regarding faculty and staff scholarly or professional activities are gladly accepted and encouraged. Send a brief note with your name, position, department and activity to Notables, Campus Box 1142. Please include a phone number where you can be reached.

Van Duyun receives writers' fellowship from National Endowment for the Arts

Poet Mona Van Duyun, a faculty member in the University's Writers' Program, was one of 100 writers in 30 states to be awarded a Fellowship for Creative Writers by the National Endowment for the Arts. Each award, up to $20,000, is designated for "published writers of exceptional talent" to write, research or travel. The winners, chosen from 2,000 applicants, consist of 49 writers of prose and 51 poets. Van Duyun was the only writer selected from Missouri, and the only writer selected from the Missouri Arts Council. Van Duyun was founded and co-editor with her husband, Jarvis Thurston, WU professor emeritus of English, of Perspective: A Quarterly of Literature. Educated at the University of Iowa, she has taught there and at the University of Louisville.

School receives grant for training in child welfare

The George Warren Brown School of Social Work has been awarded an $84,872 grant for "Continuum of Leadership: Management Training in Child Welfare" by the Children's Bureau, Administration for Children, Youth and Families. The grant focuses on leadership training in child welfare, with an emphasis on developing and conducting workshops and presentations for key personnel involved in the administration of child welfare services in Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa.

School receives grant for training in child welfare

Paul R. Manske, Fred C. Reynolds Professor and chairman of the Division of Orthopaedic Surgery, has received the Elizabeth Lanier Award from the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons. Manske was honored for his report on "Flexor Tendon Repair." He shared the award with his co-author, Richard Gelberman, M.D., professor of orthopedic surgery at the University of California, San Diego. The Elizabeth Lanier Award is one of the most prestigious honors of the academy and carries with it a $5,000 stipend.

James D. Miller, director of research at the Central Institute for the Deaf and professor of psychology at WU, chaired a session on speech communication and spoke on "Auditory-Perceptual Correlates of the Vowel" at the Acoustical Society of America meeting in Minneapolis.

Van Duyun receives writers' fellowship from National Endowment for the Arts

Poet Mona Van Duyun, a faculty member in the University's Writers' Program, was one of 100 writers in 30 states to be awarded a Fellowship for Creative Writers by the National Endowment for the Arts. Each award, up to $20,000, is designated for "published writers of exceptional talent" to write, research or travel. The winners, chosen from 2,000 applicants, consist of 49 writers of prose and 51 poets. Van Duyun was the only writer selected from Missouri, and the only writer selected from the Missouri Arts Council.

Mona Van Duyun

School receives grant for training in child welfare

The George Warren Brown School of Social Work has been awarded an $84,872 grant for "Continuum of Leadership: Management Training in Child Welfare" by the Children's Bureau, Administration for Children, Youth and Families. The grant focuses on leadership training in child welfare, with an emphasis on developing and conducting workshops and presentations for key personnel involved in the administration of child welfare services in Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa. The winners, chosen from 2,000 applicants, consist of 49 writers of prose and 51 poets. Van Duyun was the only writer selected from Missouri, and the only writer selected from the Missouri Arts Council.

Mona Van Duyun

School receives grant for training in child welfare

The George Warren Brown School of Social Work has been awarded an $84,872 grant for "Continuum of Leadership: Management Training in Child Welfare" by the Children's Bureau, Administration for Children, Youth and Families. The grant focuses on leadership training in child welfare, with an emphasis on developing and conducting workshops and presentations for key personnel involved in the administration of child welfare services in Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa.

School receives grant for training in child welfare

The George Warren Brown School of Social Work has been awarded an $84,872 grant for "Continuum of Leadership: Management Training in Child Welfare" by the Children's Bureau, Administration for Children, Youth and Families. The grant focuses on leadership training in child welfare, with an emphasis on developing and conducting workshops and presentations for key personnel involved in the administration of child welfare services in Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa.

School receives grant for training in child welfare

The George Warren Brown School of Social Work has been awarded an $84,872 grant for "Continuum of Leadership: Management Training in Child Welfare" by the Children's Bureau, Administration for Children, Youth and Families. The grant focuses on leadership training in child welfare, with an emphasis on developing and conducting workshops and presentations for key personnel involved in the administration of child welfare services in Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa.

School receives grant for training in child welfare

The George Warren Brown School of Social Work has been awarded an $84,872 grant for "Continuum of Leadership: Management Training in Child Welfare" by the Children's Bureau, Administration for Children, Youth and Families. The grant focuses on leadership training in child welfare, with an emphasis on developing and conducting workshops and presentations for key personnel involved in the administration of child welfare services in Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa.

School receives grant for training in child welfare

The George Warren Brown School of Social Work has been awarded an $84,872 grant for "Continuum of Leadership: Management Training in Child Welfare" by the Children's Bureau, Administration for Children, Youth and Families. The grant focuses on leadership training in child welfare, with an emphasis on developing and conducting workshops and presentations for key personnel involved in the administration of child welfare services in Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa.
CALENDAR

LECTURES

Thursday, Jan. 24

2:30 p.m. Dept. of Mechanical Engineering Seminar, "Development of Production-Scale Melt Treatment Processes for the Aluminum Industry During the Past 30 Years." Joseph A. Carpenter, senior principal scientist, Consolidated Aluminum Corp., St. Louis 100 Cupples I.

4 p.m. Dept. of English Lecture, "Generic Multiplicity and Milton’s Literary God." Barbara Lewalski, prof. of English, Harvard U. Hurst Lounge, Duncker Hall.

4 p.m. Dept. of Chemistry Seminar, "Unstable Species Generated Via Oxidation of Amine." Dalhwy White Duro, WU asst. prof. of chemistry. 311 McMillen.

Friday, Jan. 25

3 p.m. WU Moslem Students Lecture, "The Social and Political Goals of the Afghan People’s Struggle Against Russia." Fazel Rahimi, a medical doctor from Afghanistan. Graham Chapel.

Sunday, Jan. 27

2-4 p.m. School of Architecture Discussion, "A Discussion of the Steedman Competition Entries." Givens Hall, Room 120. Sponsored by the Steedman Governing Committee. For more info., call 889-6298 or 561-6624.

Monday, Jan. 28

Tuesday, Jan. 29

8 p.m. Dept. of Germanic Languages and Literatures and Goethe Institute Lecture, "Geisterfahrer: Der Hocke von Port-au-Prince." Hans Christoph Buch, West German author and writer-in-residence at New York U. Hurst Lounge, Duncker Hall.

Wednesday, Jan. 30

11 a.m. Luce Lecture, "Political Economy in Historical Perspective." Douglas North, WU Henry R. Luce Professor of Law and Liberty. Graham Chapel.

Thursday, Jan. 31

4 p.m. Dept. of Chemistry Seminar, "Aquous Hydration of Biological Molecules Computer Simulation Studies." David I. Beveridge, prof. of chemistry, Hunter College, 311 McMillen.

4:30 p.m. Dept. of Mathematics Seminar, "The Heat of the Night." S2. Brown Hall. (Also Thurs., Jan. 31, same time, and Sun., Feb. 3, 7:30 p.m., Brown.)

Friday, Feb. 1

Saturday, Feb. 2

11 a.m. Saturday Seminar, "Prolonging Life/Defying the Inevitable." Carl Wellman, WU prof. of philosophy. Co-sponsored by the Master of Liberal Arts Program and University College. Graham Chapel.

PERFORMANCES

Friday, Jan. 25

8 p.m. Edison Theatre presents the Emer- sion String Quartet. General admission is $6. WU faculty, staff and other students, $5, and WU students, $4. For more info., call the Edison Theatre box office at 889-6543.

Friday, Feb. 1

8 p.m. Holy Roman Repertory Company presents "Life and Opinions of Jean Frois- sart" at the Drama Studio. 208 Mallinckrodt. These productions, presented as ancient broughs, will be performed in the Drama Studio and aired on KWMU-FM. (Also Sat., Feb. 2, and 8 p.m., Drama Studio.) Admission is $5. Two for one discounts are available to KWMU Studio members and all students. For more info., call the Edison Theatre box office at 889-6543.

Sunday, Jan. 27

3 p.m. Dept. of Music Graduate Voice Recital with Judith Clinton. Delmar Baptist Church, 6195 Washington Ave.

MUSIC

EXHIBITIONS

"19th Century Art From the Permanent Collection," Through March 28. Gallery of Art, lower gallery, 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. weekdays. 1-5 p.m. weekends. For more hours, call 889-5490.

"Sculpture by David Nash," Through Jan. 31. Babygallery, Bixby Hall. 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. weekdays, 1-5 p.m. weekends.

"Permanent Collection," Through Feb. 24. Bixby Gallery, Bixby Hall. 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. weekdays. 1-5 p.m. weekends.

"19th-Century Art From the Permanent Collection," Through March 28. Gallery of Art, lower gallery, 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. weekdays. 1-5 p.m. weekends. For more hours, call 889-5490.

"19th-Century Art From the Permanent Collection," Through March 3. Gallery of Art, lower gallery, 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. weekdays. 1-5 p.m. weekends. For more hours, call 889-5490.

"Sculpture by David Nash," Through Jan. 31. Babygallery, Bixby Hall. 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. weekdays, 1-5 p.m. weekends.

"19th-Century Art From the Permanent Collection," Through March 3. Gallery of Art, lower gallery, 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. weekdays. 1-5 p.m. weekends. For more hours, call 889-5490.

FILMS

Sunday, Jan. 24

7 and 9:15 p.m. WU Filmboard Series, "Investigation of a Citizen Above Suspicion," $2. Brown Hall.

Friday, Jan. 25

7 and 9:30 p.m. WU Filmboard Series, "Verrigo," $2. Brown Hall. (Also Sat., Jan. 26, same time, and Sun., Jan. 27, 2 p.m., Brown.)

Sunday, Jan. 27

7 p.m. Action for Peace Ministries in conjunction with WU Filmboard Series, "Hearts and Minds." Free. Brown Hall.

Monday, Jan. 28

7 and 9:15 p.m. WU Filmboard Series, "In the Heat of the Night," $2. Brown Hall. (Also Tues., Jan. 29, same time, Brown.)

Wednesday, Jan. 30

7 and 9 p.m. WU Filmboard Series, "400 Blows," $2. Brown Hall. (Also Thurs., Jan. 31, same time, Brown.)

Friday, Feb. 1

7 and 9:45 p.m. WU Filmboard Series, "Li- quid Sky," $2. Brown Hall. (Also Sat., Feb. 2, same time, and Sun., Feb. 3, 2 p.m., Brown.)

Saturday, Feb. 2

1 p.m. Women’s Swimming, WU vs. Will- iams College at Forest Park.

2 p.m. Wrestling — WU Invitational. Field Center.

7 p.m. Men and Women’s Swimming, St. Louis Invitational. (Also Sat., Feb. 2, 1 p.m.) St. Louis Community College at Forest Park.

7:30 p.m. Men’s Basketball, WU vs. Okla- homa Wesleyan College. Field House.

SPORTS

Saturday, Jan. 26

12:30-5 p.m. and 7:30-11 p.m. Dept. of English holds "Meeting of Two Paths: American Indian Powwow," Open to the public. 208 Mallinckrodt.

Sunday, Jan. 27

7 p.m. "B’Nai B’rith Hillel Foundation Graduate Group, Incredible Dessert Party." Hillel Hill, 6300 Forsyth Blvd. Cost is $2 a person. Open to all new and old graduate stu- dents at WU. Deadline for reservations is Thurs., Jan. 24. Call 726-6177 to make reserv- ations.

Monday, Jan. 28

Noon-1 p.m. Personal Computing Educa- tion Center Short Course, "201 Using JCL," taught by the staff. Free to WU community. (Also Jan. 29, 30, 31, and Feb. 1 and 2, same time.) For registration and location, contact 889-5813.

MISCELLANY

Tuesday, Jan. 29

7:30 p.m. Women’s Basketball, WU vs. Greenville College. Field House.

11:15 p.m. Hockey, WU vs. Parks College. Cerve Cocus Rink.

Friday, Feb. 1

6 p.m. Men and Women’s Swimming, St. Louis Invitational. (Also Sat., Feb. 2, 1 p.m.) St. Louis Community College at Forest Park.

7:30 p.m. Men’s Basketball, WU vs. Okla- homa Wesleyan College. Field House.

Saturday, Feb. 2

7:30 p.m. Men’s Basketball, WU vs. Concor- dia Seminay. Field House.

Calendar Deadline

The deadline to submit items for the Feb. 14-25 calendar of the Washington University Record is Jan. 31. Items must be typed and same time, date, place, nature of event, spon- sor and admission cost. Incomplete items will not be printed. If available, include speaker’s name and identification and the title of the event, also include your name and telephone number. Address items to King McElroy, calendar editer, Box 1142.