Washington University Record, April 16, 1987

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.wustl.edu/record

Recommended Citation

http://digitalcommons.wustl.edu/record/408

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Washington University Publications at Digital Commons@Becker. It has been accepted for inclusion in Washington University Record by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons@Becker. For more information, please contact engeszer@wustl.edu.
Good reading

$1 million pledged to library system

A $1 million commitment to Washington University, in conjunction with the ALLIANCE FOR WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY, a $300 million fund-raising campaign, has been announced by Chancellor William H. Danforth.

The commitment was made by Carl Neureuther, a 1940 graduate of Washington University, for the University's library system to encourage and stimulate good reading by Washington University students and to help the University's library system to encourage good reading on our campus.”

Chancellor Danforth said, “Carl Neureuther has written extensively on politics and includes JFK and LBJ: The Influence of Personality Upon Politics. The commitment was made by Carl Neureuther, a 1940 graduate of Washington University, for the University's library system to encourage and stimulate good reading by Washington University students and to help the University's library system to encourage good reading on our campus.”

Tom Wicker, syndicated columnist and associate editor of The New York Times, will deliver the fifth annual Omicron Delta Kappa (ODK) University Honors Assembly Lecture at 11 a.m., Wednesday, April 22, in Graham Chapel.

The lecture is part of the University's Assembly Series and is free and open to the public.

Tom Wicker, author of the syndicated column “In the Nation,” has written several best-selling novels and non-fiction books. Two of his books include A Time to Die, for which he won the Edgar Award from the Mystery Writers of America in 1976, and JFK and LBJ: The Influence of Personality Upon Politics.

Former chief of The New York Times Washington bureau, Wicker has written extensively on politics and the economy, civil liberties, the prison system, transportation and the press.

The ODK University Honors Assembly seeks to recognize undergraduate students who have displayed extraordinary leadership potential through participation in student government, journalism, sports, the performing arts, service groups, honors and other student organizations.

The honors assembly is organized by Alpha Kappa Circle, Washington University's Assembly Series, Omicron Delta Kappa and Student Union.

For more information on the lecture, call 889-5285.

New York Times editor, columnist to deliver honors assembly lecture

Tom Wicker, syndicated columnist and associate editor of The New York Times, will deliver the fifth annual Omicron Delta Kappa (ODK) University Honors Assembly Lecture at 11 a.m., Wednesday, April 22, in Graham Chapel.

The lecture is part of the University's Assembly Series and is free and open to the public.

Tom Wicker, author of the syndicated column “In the Nation,” has written several best-selling novels and non-fiction books. Two of his books include A Time to Die, for which he won the Edgar Award from the Mystery Writers of America in 1976, and JFK and LBJ: The Influence of Personality Upon Politics.

Former chief of The New York Times Washington bureau, Wicker has written extensively on politics and the economy, civil liberties, the prison system, transportation and the press.

The ODK University Honors Assembly seeks to recognize undergraduate students who have displayed extraordinary leadership potential through participation in student government, journalism, sports, the performing arts, service groups, honors and other student organizations.

The honors assembly is organized by Alpha Kappa Circle, Washington University's Assembly Series, Omicron Delta Kappa and Student Union.

For more information on the lecture, call 889-5285.

St. Louis Mayor Vincent C. Schoemehl Jr. signs a proclamation noting April 12 as “Year of the Reader.”

The “Year of the Reader” concept was established as the result of a resolution introduced in Congress and signed into law by President Reagan last October.

Chancellor Danforth said, “Carl Neureuther's pledge to Washington University's library system will foster clear expression and plain enjoyment. His magnificent commitment will do much to encourage and stimulate good reading on our campus.”

Danforth made the Neureuther gift announcement at a Bookmark Society meeting held Sunday, April 12, in Simon Hall Auditorium. The Bookmark Society, which is the community auxiliary of the Washington University Libraries, sponsored a panel discussion Sunday on “Book Reviewing at the Daily Paper: Its Impact, Its Audience.”

St. Louis Mayor Vincent C. Schoemehl Jr. signs a proclamation noting April 12 as “Year of the Reader” Appreciation Day in honor of alumnus Carl Neureuther’s $1 million commitment to Washington University’s library system. Looking on is Bernard D. Beams Jr., acting dean of the Washington University Libraries.
Cervantes' comedies, Japanese poet represented in double bill

The double bill will be featured at 8 p.m. Thursday through Sunday, April 23-26, in the University's Drama Studio, Mallinckrodt Center. A matinee will be presented at 2 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, April 25-26.

"Komachi," based on the life and works of the ninth-century Japanese poet, is a combination of storytelling, dance, acting and music. Through these mediums the story of Komachi and her most faithful yet sparsely endowed lover, Kamakakusa, is told.

Created by Mary Jean Cowell, Ph.D., associate professor in the University's Performing Arts Department, "Komachi" features Cowell, Edith Taylor Hunter, a St. Louis actress and HRRC guest artist, and Hollis Huston, artist-in-residence at the University and a founding member of the HRRC.

"The Wonder Show" is directed by Huston and Tom Jaeger, a Washington University performing arts major. The play is Cervantes' tale of a theatrical manager who comes to a sleepy Spanish town and promises, for a fee, a series of remarkable spectacles. Music for both productions is provided by Jeffrey Noonan, a member of the HRRC.

Tickets are $5 to the general public and $3.50 for students and KWMU Studio Set members. They are available in the University's Performing Arts Department office (Room 315, Mallinckrodt Center). For more information, call 889-5574.

Family in year 2000 program topic

"The American Family — Year 2000" will be discussed by a panel of six experts in the fields of government, medicine, media, medicine, ethics/religion and computer science during a daylong program on Friday, April 24, in the business school's John E. Simon Hall Auditorium.

The program marks the 10th anniversary of The Morris Wortman Institute on Marriage and Family Education sponsored by the George Warne Brown School of Social Work at Washington University.

The free program, which runs from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., is designed for professionals in mental health settings, schools and family service agencies. The panel of experts will lecture on the impact that community institutions and family health care will have on family life in the near future.

Harpsichord teacher holds recital

A harpsichord recital by Charles Metz, Ph.D., a 1981 graduate of Washington University, will be presented at 8 p.m. Monday, April 27, at The Sheldon, 3648 Washington Ave. The program is co-sponsored by the Washington University Department of Music, where Metz teaches harpsichord, and By Koettig Associates, where he practices optometry.

Metz will perform 17th-century music on an Italian replica harpsichord and 18th-century music on a French replica harpsichord. The recital will include contrasting styles of works by Froberger, Bull, Duphly, Bach, Handel and Scarlatti.

Metz, who has built seven harpsichords, is a former student of the internationally recognized harpsichordists Igor Kipnis and Trevor Pinnock. He has taught at Washington University since 1981 and is a member of the Missouri Arts Council and the CAMELOT Fund of Greater St. Louis.

Barnett memorial fund established

The Department of Economics has established a memorial fund to honor Harold Barnett's teaching and research activities. Barnett, professor emeritus in economics at Washington University, died Feb. 11, 1987. He joined the University faculty in 1965 as professor and chairman of the economics department.

Contributions to the fund should be made payable to Washington University and sent to: Chairman, Barnett Memorial Fund. c/o Department of Economics, Washington University, Campus Box 1208, One Brookings Drive, St. Louis, MO 63130.

A memorial service was held for Dr. Barnett on April 6 in Steinberg Auditorium.
Deirdre Boden, Ph.D., assistant professor of sociology, gave an in- \nvisible lecture titled "Organizations in Action: Time, Talk, and the 'Enacted Environment'" at Cornell University. While the East Coast was in the midst of a large blizzard, Boden presented her research at the Discourse Analysis Semi- \nnar at M.I.T. as the guest of Hayward Alker of the Department of Political Science.

Warren T. Brinckwirth, a practi- \ncum instructor at the George Warren Brown School of Social Work, and five students from the school have created a sociodrama concerning the homeless in the United States. The five students are Maria Laskey, Childress, Lori Ahrens, Peggy Duffield, Lori Mcclain and Sara Zatarov. They will present 'The Central Connection: A Sociodrama of the Homeless' at 7 p.m. on April 20 at the business school's Simon Hall Auditorium. On April 11, they presented the sociodrama during the 15th annual meeting of the American Society of Group Psychotherapy and Psychoanalysis. The musical score was done by Jerry Fochtman, a 1966 Washington Uni- \nversity MBA graduate. Brinck- \nwirth was a co-creator of the play.

Barbara R. Cole, M.D., \nprofessor of medicine, has been appointed to serve on the American Heart Associa- \ntion's Council on the Kidney from 1987 to 1989. The council's major responsibility is reviewing grant applications.

Michel Rybalka, Ph.D., professor of French, gave a talk on "Sarthe With Simone de Beauvoir" during a Sarthe colloquium at Har- \vard University and then he lectured on "Félix Vian: du gastrophorique" at New York Universi- \ty. Rybalka contributed a paper on the importance of overall NCAAs policy and interdivision interests. Schaal, whose four-year term will end in January 1987, will serve as a Division I rep- \resentative. Prior to becoming a member of the council, Schaal serv- \ned in the Division I oversight Committee from 1983 to 1986.

John Schael, director of athletics, is one of eight new members elected to the 13-member National Collegiate Athletic Association Council, a group that acts as one body to deal with matters of overall NCAA policy and interdivision interests. Schael, whose four-year term will end in January 1987, will serve as a Division I rep- \resentative. Prior to becoming a member of the council, Schael serv- \ned in the Division I oversight Committee from 1983 to 1986.

Martin Storandt, Ph.D., professor of psychology and neurology, was named a "1967-87 Chancellor's Distinguis- \hed Lecturer at the University of Cali- \fornia at Berkeley. She gave talks on "Healthy Aging Versus Senile Dementi- \a," "Mental Health and Aging" and "Methodological issues in Longitudi- \nal Research." E. Thomas Sullivan, J.D., professor of law, delivered the luncheon speech at a February meeting of the Anti- \trust Steering Committee of the Bar Association of Metropolitan St. Louis. His topic was "The Antitrust Division as a Market Regulator." Robert L. Thorp, Ph.D., associate professor of art history and archae- \ogy, has published an essay, titled "The Qin and Han Imperial Tombs and the Development of Mortuary Architecture," in "The Quest for Eternity: The catalog of an exhibition of Chinese tomb figurines organized by the Chinese Ministry of Culture and the Los Angeles County Museum of Art. The exhibition opened in Philadelphia on March 22, and later moved to Houston, Los Angeles and Cleveland.

Martha Storandt, Ph.D., professor of psychology and neurology, was named a "1967-87 Chancellor's Distinguis- \hed Lecturer at the University of Cali- \fornia at Berkeley. She gave talks on "Healthy Aging Versus Senile Dementi- \a," "Mental Health and Aging" and "Methodological issues in Longitudi- \nal Research." E. Thomas Sullivan, J.D., professor of law, delivered the luncheon speech at a February meeting of the Anti- \trust Steering Committee of the Bar Association of Metropolitan St. Louis. His topic was "The Antitrust Division as a Market Regulator." Robert L. Thorp, Ph.D., associate professor of art history and archae- \ogy, has published an essay, titled "The Qin and Han Imperial Tombs and the Development of Mortuary Architecture," in "The Quest for Eternity: The catalog of an exhibition of Chinese tomb figurines organized by the Chinese Ministry of Culture and the Los Angeles County Museum of Art. The exhibition opened in Philadelphia on March 22, and later moved to Houston, Los Angeles and Cleveland.

Don Coursey, Ph.D., associate pro- \fessor of clinics, was invited to speak to the American Society of Nephrology in Washington, D.C., on her studies on the renal effects of atrial natriuretic peptides (anpeptin). She has been appointed to serve on the scientific advisory council of the National Kidney Foundation from 1987 to 1989. The council's major responsibility is reviewing grant applications.

Sol L. Garfield, Ph.D., professor emeritus of psychology, visited the University of Tuba Feb. 25-27 to consult with members of the faculty and administration on their doctoral program in clinical psychology. He also presented a colloquium lecture on "Changing Emphases and New Developments in Psychotherapy" during March 11-13, he lectured on the same topic at the Veteran's Ad- \ministration Hospital, Salt Lake City, at the University of Utah, and Bingham Young University. On March 20, Garfield attended an Advisory Group Meeting for the NIH Collaborative Study of Depression in Rockvi- \lles.

Barry J. Linder, M.D., resident in ophthalmology, has been selected as a student assistant for the American Joint Com- \mission's Accreditation of Ophthal- \mology. The American Joint Committee on Accreditation for Ophthal- \mology will help spread the good news. Contributions regarding student scholarly or professional activities are gladly accepted and encouraged. The annual publication will feature student work, including research and clinical cases, as well as a case study. The student will receive a copy of the publication in addition to the student's report.

Have you done something noteworthy? Have you: Presented a paper? Won an award? Been named to a committee or elected an of- \ficer of a professional organization? The American Joint Commission on Accreditation for Ophthalmology will give you a complimentary copy of the publication in addition to the student's report.

Have you done something noteworthy? Have you: Presented a paper? Won an award? Been named to a committee or elected an of- \ficer of a professional organization? The American Joint Commission on Accreditation for Ophthalmology will give you a complimentary copy of the publication in addition to the student's report.

The clinical education program at Washington University's law school has received the 1987 Emil Gumpert Award for Excellence in Teaching Trial Advocacy from the American College of Trial Lawyers. The award carries a grant of $25,000.

According to an American Col- \lege of Trial Lawyers' report, "Was- \thington University has exceptional- \al programs to further lawyering skills. The school is second to none in its Client Counseling, Mock Court and Mock Trial Competition programs. The success of the Washington Uni- \versity teams speaks for itself," Karen L. Tokarz, L.L.M., professor of law, is director of the clinical education program.

In 1983 and 1986, the law school captured first place at the Na- \tional Mock Trial Championship. In ad- \dition to securing the national titles, the school captured the best oral advoca- \tate award both of those years. Washington has won the regional mock trial competition for the last seven years.

Washington's client counseling team won the National Client Coun- \seling Championship in 1986 and then won the first International Goglin's letters and essays on Swiss art. During his visit, Nizon teaches a graduate seminar on contemporary German writers. A native of Berne, Switzerland, he received a doctorate in art history. He lives in Paris, France.

Bayerdorfer, distinguished visiting professor in German, is a member of the faculty at the Universi- \ties of Munich. He has written exten- \sively on German literature and thea- \tre. Two of his recent books discuss German language and the role of Strindberg, a 19th-century Swedish dramatist.

A guest lecturer at universities in Australia and Israel, Bayerdorfer is also the author of a book on Heine and his work Berlin Alexanderplatz during his visit to the University.

Washington University faculty and staff make news across the globe. Following is a digest of media coverage they have received during recent weeks for their scholarly activities, research and general expertise.

What do you need to become a business success?" Liberal think- \ers say the best way to become more profitable is to earn more by being smarter, not by spending more. To do that, they suggest "scandal" (a combination of scandal and scam), and then make others up to become more profitable by doing them for the players in the affair.

What do you need to become a business success?" Liberal think- \ers say the best way to become more profitable is to earn more by being smarter, not by spending more. To do that, they suggest "scandal" (a combination of scandal and scam), and then make others up to become more profitable by doing them for the players in the affair.

The success of the Washington Uni- \versity teams speaks for itself," Karen L. Tokarz, L.L.M., professor of law, is director of the clinical education program.

- The American College of Trial Lawyers, founded in 1950, is a na- \tional honorary organization. Fellow- \ship in the college is by invitation only and is limited to outstanding American and Canadian trial lawyers with more than 15 years of trial ex- \perience. Total membership in the college cannot exceed one percent of the practicing attorneys in the state or province.

The organization has more than 4,000 Fellows in the United States and Canada. Approximately 30 living graduates of Washington's law school are members of the college.

The success of the Washington Uni- \versity teams speaks for itself," Karen L. Tokarz, L.L.M., professor of law, is director of the clinical education program.

The success of the Washington Uni- \versity teams speaks for itself," Karen L. Tokarz, L.L.M., professor of law, is director of the clinical education program.

The success of the Washington Uni- \versity teams speaks for itself," Karen L. Tokarz, L.L.M., professor of law, is director of the clinical education program.
Thursday, April 16

4 p.m. Estelle Broome Lecture, "Toward a Unified Medical Language System." Donald A. B. Edmonds, 199th Chair, NIH.

4 p.m. Dept. of Psychology Colloquium, "Forgive Us, Or Forgive Our Debrees — A Look at Bankruptcy," Gordon Broome, Federal Judicial Center. 102 Eads.

Friday, April 17

April 16-25
Thursday, April 23
8 p.m. Performing Arts Dept. and Holy Roman Radio Present "Koomchak" and "The Wonder Show." 200 Millikin Bldg. (Also April 24 at 8 p.m. and April 25 and 26 at 2 p.m.). General admission is $5. WU students, $3.50.

MISCELLANY

Wednesday, April 22
11 a.m. OKD Honors Lecture with Tom Wickler, syndicated columnist. "In the Na- tion." Sponsored by the Assembly Series, Omi- can Delta Kappa and Student Union. Graham Chapel.

 Noon. Non-Academic Personnel Advisory Committee Book Giveaway and Spring Seminar, "Debt Your Financial Options," sponsored by the campus union. Library, level 5. 8:30 am. 4 p.m. WU: Bigg Lounge.

8 p.m. English Readings by members of the Writing Program who will read their works in fiction and poetry. Hunt Lounge. Duncker Hall.

Thursday, April 23

4 p.m. Dept. of Philosophy Colloquium, "Mill’s Qualitative Theory of the Measure of Pleasure." Chris Hoffman, WU doctoral candi- date. 218 Bus.

Friday, April 24

Saturday, April 25

FILMS

Thursday, April 16
8 p.m. Student Dance Concert. Sponsored by Thrusm. Performing Arts and Student Union. 206 Millincknock Dance Studio. (Also April 17 and 19 same time, Millincknock.) Admission is $5 for general public and $2 for senior citizens and WU community.

Friday, April 17
8 p.m. Edision Theatre Presents the Acting Company in "The Gilded Age." by Mark Twaen and Charles Dudley Warner. General admission is $15. WU faculty and staff and senior cit- izens, $10. Students, $7. For more info., call 889-6543.

Saturday, April 18
8 p.m. Edision Theatre Presents the Acting Company in "Shakespeare’s Much Ado About Nothing." General admission is $15. WU faculty and staff and senior cit- izens, WU students, $7. Students free. For info., call the Edison Theatre box office at 889-6543.

SPORTS

Thursday, April 16
3:30 p.m. Men’s Tennis, WU vs. U. of Missouri- Rolla. Tao Tennis Center.

Friday, April 17
1:30 p.m. Women’s Tennis, WU vs. Emory U. Tao Tennis Center.

Saturday, April 18
9 a.m. Women’s Tennis, WU vs. College of St. Thomas Tao Tennis Center.

1 p.m. Women’s Tennis, WU vs. Kenyon Col- lege, Tao Tennis Center.

Monday, April 20

Tuesday, April 21
5:30 p.m. Men’s Tennis, WU vs. Lewis and Clark College. U. of Puget Sound, Tacoma.

Wednesday, April 22

5:30 p.m. Italian Film Series, "Ballad of a Lost Girl." Sponsor of the "Ballad of a Lost Girl." Open to children of WU interna- tional students, researchers and faculty members. 6510 For- sibvl Blvd. Reservations are required. Call 889-5190 by April 16.

Friday, April 17
6-8 p.m. Black Law Students Alumni Reception. Open to all. For more info., call the law school at 889-6400.

Saturday, April 18
9 a.m. Fourth Annual Children’s Hospital 5K Run and One-Mile Fun Run. Runs start in front of the hospital. 400 S. Kingshighway. The registration fee is $5. For more info., call 449- 6202.

1-3 p.m. Women’s Society of Washington University International Children’s Easter Egg Hunt. Open to children of WU interna- tional students, researchers and faculty members. 6510 For- sibvl Blvd. Reservations are required. Call 889- 5190 by April 16.

Monday, April 20
5:30-7:0 p.m. WU Smoking Cessation Clinic. The non-profit seven session program is spon- sored by the National Cancer Institute in associa- tion with the Missouri Department of Health and the American Lung Association. Although the program is non-profit, a $40 deposit is re- quired, which is returned at the end of the pro- gram. 115 Eads. For more info., call 889-6527.

Calendar Deadline

The deadline to submit items for the May 16 calendar of the Washington University Record is April 23. Items must be typed and state name, address, phone number, event, sponsor and admission cost. Incomplete items will not be printed. Include speaker’s name and phone number, address and time, date and place of event. All information, including name and telephone number, will be verified by the City Clerk, calendar editor. Box 5870.