The 10th Annual Guze Symposium on Alcoholism

In Memory of Samuel B. Guze, MD

Samuel B. Guze, MD, was a pioneer in the field of alcoholism research. He joined the Washington University School of Medicine faculty in 1951, served as vice chancellor and president of the Medical Center from 1971 to 1989, and headed the Department of Psychiatry from 1975 to 1989 and again from 1993 to 1997. Dr. Guze was highly respected as a researcher, an administrator and a leader in the field of psychiatry.

About the Symposium

Presenters at the symposium will include experts on research related to alcoholism, genetics and treatment. Topics will include:

- Alcoholism treatment including genetic moderators of response
- Mechanisms to target for treatment
- Impulsivity and alcoholism
- Models of ethanol drinking and reward
- Low response to alcohol as a genetic risk factor
- Neurobehavioral characteristics of adolescent drinking

Posters are displayed throughout the day and will feature the latest scientific findings.

Meeting Award Opportunities

Limited numbers of meeting awards are available to NIAAA and other pre- and post-doctoral trainees as well as community-based individuals. The awards are intended to help defray costs associated with attendance at the symposium for those who would otherwise not be able to attend. Research awardees are expected to present a scientific poster. The application and registration brochure can be accessed from our web site at www.alcoholdependence.org or by e-mailing requests to GuzeSymp@psychiatry.wustl.edu. Award applications must be received by December 31, 2009.

Midwest Alcoholism Research Center

The Midwest Alcoholism Research Center (MARC) is one of 24 Alcohol Research Centers funded by the U.S. National Institutes of Health. MARC is a multisite Alcohol Research Center, with participating investigators from two leading Midwest research universities — Washington University (the lead institution) and the University of Missouri-Columbia, and from additional collaborators, Queensland Institute of Medical Research, Brisbane, Australia; the University of Iowa, Iowa City, Iowa; and Palo Alto Veterans Administration, Palo Alto, California. Its research programs include statewide, national and international projects.

Sponsor

This activity is sponsored by Washington University School of Medicine, Continuing Medical Education.

Support

This activity is supported by grant AA013717 from the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism.

Disclosure Policy

It is the policy of Washington University School of Medicine, Continuing Medical Education, to ensure balance, independence, objectivity and scientific rigor in all its educational activities. All speakers participating in this activity are expected to disclose to the audience any financial interest or other relationship he/she has with the manufacturer(s) of any commercial product(s) discussed in an educational presentation.

Accreditation

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and Policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint sponsorship of Washington University School of Medicine, Continuing Medical Education and the Midwest Alcoholism Research Center. Washington University is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians. Washington University designates this educational activity for a maximum of 7.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits.™ Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Continuing Education Units—Please refer to the registration form for specific information regarding the CEUs offered. Social work CEUs are available. For psychologists, the Missouri State Committee of Psychologists will accept the number of credits assigned by the AMA-CME.
