Necessary Elements:

Disparity & Diversity Workshop Series

The Human Studies Committee, Siteman Cancer Center, Center for Clinical Studies, and the General Clinical Research Center have collaborated to develop the “Disparity and Diversity Workshop Series”.

The workshop will focus on strategies to address disparities and diversity issues, particularly as they relate to research and clinical studies. Topics include:

- Historical overview
- Community-based participatory research
- Consent issues and patient recruitment
- Cultural sensitivity

Lunch will be provided. Summer and winter sessions are offered. For further information and to register online please visit:
