BARNES HOSPITAL HISTORY

The Trustees in 1911 entered into the following agreement with Mr. Brookings:

'The trustees have become satisfied, after a thorough examination conducted by them, that the efficiency of a hospital depends, in large part, upon the ability of its medical staff, and that a hospital can render better service to its patients when it has associated with it an organized medical school and staff, laboratories, and dispensary. . . . and the University realizes from actual experience that a medical department of a University is greatly benefited by having a hospital connected with it in which it can teach its students, from actual observation of the sick and injured at the bedside and in the operating room.'

The Trustees agreed to build a hospital, and the University agreed to build a medical school and a clinic and to supply the staff to treat the sick and injured. The Trustees further agreed that members of the teaching staff shall 'have the interest and exclusive possible right consistent with the welfare of the patient to use the ward patients in the hospital for medical research and clinical instruction to the students of the University and the medical staff of the hospital.'

A similar agreement was made between the University and the trustees of Children's Hospital in July, 1912.

Within a year, construction of the medical school and of the hospital was under way, and on October 11, 1912, the cornerstone of Barnes Hospital was laid. Among articles placed in the cornerstone were photographs of those who had made possible the erection of the hospital - Mr. Barnes; Mr. Smith P. Galt, Mr. Richard M. Scruggs, Mr. Samuel M. Kennard, original Trustees named by Mr. Barnes, Mr. Samuel Cupples and Mr. Murray Carleton (who replaced Mr. Galt and Mr. Scruggs) and Mr. Lon V. Stephens (who replaced Mr. Cupples as trustee), the last 3 appointments having been made by the Methodist Bishop presiding at the St. Louis Conference, in accordance with the stipulation in Mr. Barnes' will.

The cornerstone address was made by Bishop E. R. Hendrix, an intimate friend of Mr. Barnes and one of his close advisors in planning the trust. In his address, Bishop Hendrix said, 'Too much praise cannot be given to the original trustees and their successors for their conscientious administration of this great trust, their wise investment of the funds, their patience in waiting to secure the most eligible lots in the city, fronting some 1200 feet west and south on Forest Park with its 1400 acres. It is needless to say that they serve without remuneration and that they give without stint of their time and ripe business experience to the wise administration of this great trust. . . . During the 20 years since the original appointment of the trustees under the will of Mr. Barnes, by personal visits to the great hospitals in this country and in Europe both on the part of the chosen architect and by some of the Trustees, the greatest care has been taken to secure an ideal plant and ideal management.'

Also placed in the cornerstone were a Bible, photograph of Bishop Hendrix, copy of Endowment Statement, copy of cornerstone addresses, statement of Trustees to College of Bishops of M. E. Church, and newspaper reports of the cornerstone laying ceremony. (to be cont’d.)

KNOW YOUR STAFF

Third in a series of KNOW YOUR STAFF, we present a brief sketch on Dr. E. B. Quarles, the ‘B’ being for Bryan.

As anyone who has heard him talk can guess, Dr. Quarles was born in Virginia - on the last day of 1912. He left Virginia in 1937 after graduation from the Medical College there for an internship at Nassau Hospital on Long Island. Following this, he went into private practice in Alabama, and in 1941 came to Barnes Hospital as Assistant Director.

In November, 1942, Dr. Quarles joined the Army, and when discharged as a Major in 1946, he was on the administrative staff of the Army Surgeon’s Office at Denver.

While an intern at Nassau Hospital, Dr. Quarles met and married a nurse employed there. They have two sons, Bryan who is 6 (cont’d. next page)
IWe're rooting for you, Mary.
Ihave some teeth removed soon,
|Now a patient in Barnes, she will recovered within a few days.
IWe have arrived at Dr. Lloyd Roberts.
CAfeteria's Menu Board, its list of new baby daughters, Dr. Ralph Rogers of Barnes Accounting are.
P- perhaps by the time this goes to print, we met here, and in Fort Smith, Ark.
Mr. Quarles' office suggests romance is entirely a hospital phenomenon.
XStein, is about to learn more about anesthesia subjectively.
Xis a sports enthusiast, preferring golf, swimming, tennis and baseball - the latter as a spectator only.
Dr. Quarles' office suggests that no sketch of him would be complete without mentioning his talents at consuming chocolate candy!
ON THE SCENE
MC MILLAN WEDS BARNES - At least Methel Ann Teagarden of McM. Admitting, and Leon Rogers of Barnes Accounting are being married on March 27 at St. John's Methodist Church. This romance is entirely a hospital phenomenon - the couple met here, and both are returning to work after their honeymoon.
Cupid has been busy. CAROL STOBIE, nurse on 600 McM., was married on March 16, RUTH STEIN, nurse on 500 N McM., is leaving April 6 to be married on April 11. She will then make her home in Ft. Smith, Ark. MURIEL CARLSON, former nurse on 600 McM., was married March 20, and MARY PIMLOTT, nurse on 3400, became MARY RAY last week and is now on her honeymoon. Best wishes to the brides.
In the New Baby Dept., it's girls two to one. Dr. RALPH WOOLF and Dr. BEN EISEMAN have new baby daughters; Dr. ARTHUR HASKINS, a new son. Perhaps by the time this goes to press, the over-due stork will have arrived at Dr. Lloyd Roberts' house and allow him, too, to start distributing cigars.
MARTHA SPENCER, Personnel was a patient in Barnes last week. We hope to see her completely recovered within a few days.
MARY KUYKENDALL, Anesthesia Secy., is about to learn more about anesthesia subjectively.
Now a patient in Barnes, she will have some teeth removed soon. We're rooting for you, Mary.
MARY ELLEN BRUNS, Head Nurse at Maternity, is now recovering at home after an illness.
ALMEDA SCOTT and SARAH CALVIN of Housekeeping are ill at home. We hope to have them all back with us soon.
Substitution of a smile of relief for a look of tension on student nurses' faces is undoubtedly due to the fact that State Board Exams were completed on March 11.
FAMOUS FIRST WORDS - II BILLY, son of Dr. Chas. Eckert, and DANNY, son of Ed Kutzgar, Surg. Path., and JOY, daughter of Alberta Passanante. Dr. Bradley's office, were to get together, their only conversation would be this: BILLY: Tractor. JOY: Pretty. DANNY: NO.
Mae Martin, Credit office, celebrates her sixth wedding anniversary on March 22. She has already received from her husband a lovely purse to mark the occasion.
Mr. Holleroreth, Accountant, is considering renting out son John Stanley as an alarm clock to those who want to get up at 6 a.m.
Florence Cherikos, Credit Office, spent her P.M. buying a blouse that is guaranteed to stop lobby traffic.
Clinics Record Room reports that they have been working so hard they have had no time to make news.
The first new-look cottons are being worn by Laboratory employees. Remember when the approach of spring used to be heralded by the appearance of robins?
We extend our sympathy to RUTH HAYES, Main Kitchen, on the sudden death of her brother.
If a year old played with the Cafeteria's Menu Board, its list of fruits and vegetables might look like this. Could you straighten it out? Answers in next issue.
