WILLIAM PULS RETIRES

WILLIAM PULS (Polly) retired from Barnes' services on October 15th. Last month he had been employed in Maintenance as a carpenter for 25 years. He is surrounded by a very sizeable family—his wife, four children, and eight grandchildren. At one time his brother-in-law, Chester, was the head of Barnes' laundry, and his grandson, Richard Puls, is a third-year medical student at Washington University. Association with the medical field seems to be prominent in Polly's family.

Mr. Puls has a brother who is 89 years old. His sister died Oct. the 18th at the age of 86. Polly was born in Hillsborough 81 years ago. In spite of 81 years behind him he still retains his vitality. He had many occasions to climb ladders, only recently the administration requested that he steer clear of this activity. He snickered, "I've been grounded".

His main characteristic to those associated with him in the Maintenance Department was the undistinguishable tune he used to whistle constantly. Everyone in the hospital knew Polly and one can tell that many miss him.

LILLIE VINTON HERE 25 YEARS

MRS. LILLIE VINTON, Private Pavilion Cook, marked a big red circle on her calendar on Oct. 10th for being employed by Barnes for 25 years.

Her first position in the Dietary Department was that of a Diet Helper. In April of 1944 she became Private Pavilion's Cart Girl. In January 1945 she was promoted to Private Pavilion Cook in the kitchen.

Many thanks to Lillie for her loyalty.

FIREFIRE!
On Wednesday, October 6, the Fire Prevention Program of the Greater St. Louis Safety Council held a competitive exhibition at the Hadley Technical High School. Entered into this event and representing Barnes Hospital were DILLON TRULOVE, Head Orderly, and ROY BUTLER, Maintenance Electrician. These two men were furthering the Fire Prevention Program of the hospital. The competitive meet was entered by such corporations as the Chevrolet Division of General Motors Corporation, Shell Oil Company, Falstaff Brewing Corporation, Statler Hotels and St. Louis Star-Times. There were approximately 500 persons watching the competition. Barnes was the only hospital to participate in the competition. Out of 100 possible points in the five events, Barnes received a 90% rating.

BARNES ADMINISTRATORS ATTEND CONFERENCES

DR. F. R. BRADLEY and MR. HARRY PANHERST are attending the 27th annual Hospital Standardization conference in Los Angeles, Oct. 16th to 22nd, in conjunction with the 34th annual Clinical Congress of the American College of Surgeons. DR. BRADLEY will preside over two panel discussions, "Nursing the Patient," and "Trends in Hospital Administration," while MR. PANHERST one of ten young administrators chosen by Dr. W. T. MacEachern, Associate Director and Chairman of the Administrative board, to give papers, will present "Twenty-four hour Administrative Coverage in a Large General Hospital." A galaxy of hospital authorities from all parts of the United States and Canada will participate as speakers and discussion leaders in the five-day program.

DR. BRADLEY will return to St. Louis by way of Washington, D.C., where he will attend a meeting of the Federal Medical Services Committee, a section of the Commission on the Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government, which is headed by Herbert Hoover.
MR. RALPH HOLLERORTH, was born in Jefferson City, Missouri, on April 25, 1916. The two story, eleven room home rang with boyish laughter and the sound of various animal noises—housing a dog, a chicken and a rabbit besides the growing boy. A stumbling block in young Ralph's life was the spelling of his last name. He used to abbreviate it, "Holly", until one of his grade school teachers refused to pass him unless he could spell his last name.

At Jefferson City Senior High, Mr. Hollerorth excelled in the orchestral and choral clubs. Being a two instrument man he was very much in demand. His two instruments were the piano and bass fiddle. Mr. H. liked languages. His favorite subjects at Jefferson City Junior College were French, Spanish and Physics, (now the last slipped in I'll never know). He is a true learner. He confided in me he would like to resume his study of Spanish in the State Insurance Department and has been a supervisor for Curtiss-Wright.

His secret ambition is to be a chef. His favorite foods are T-bone steak, French fries and cherry pie.

ROSE GADESI, Accounting, has been walking around with her nose in the air since she attended the Veiled Prophet Ball. It seems to have been what she expected—elegant, eh, Rose?

FINNUS HOYD, former employee in the Dietary Department, visited Barnes on October 8th to make a graphic study of the Dietary Department. She is in her junior year at Lincoln University. Her major is in Nutrition and Dietetics.
