Nursing School Admits 53 Students; Nursing Lab Completely Remodeled

By CATHY BLOMES of the Nursing School Staff

September 7th marked the beginning of a new school year for the Jewish Hospital School of Nursing as 53 students comprised this year's class (one of the largest classes in the School's history). As students arrived from far and wide, they found the School had undergone a complete remodeling. The Nursing Arts Laboratory, which has always been an important part of the School's curriculum, has been remodeled.

One of the most noticeable changes is the addition of concrete mix to hi-lift machine in activity in front of the building. Concrete is poured into the holes to form a part of the new addition's foundation. Caster photos temporarily stow away.

Dr. S. Sherry New Director of Division of Medical Services

Dr. S. Sherry, assumed direction of the Division of Medical Services on September 1. His assignment replaces that of Dr. Raymond Charnas, who retired in June 1954. Dr. Sherry's appointment as Senior Physician was recently approved by the Board of Directors. He succeeds Dr. Harold Smith, whose promotion to Senior Physician was not long ago announced. Since the front of the building facing Kingshighway, will house the School of Medical Services, for administration of the division, for professional supervision over the ward and private services in medicine. A temporary office has been established in the Medical Laboratory for the Division of Medical Services. Dr. Sherry is the first St. Louis hospital to be accredited by the American Medical Association, and to have a full-time resident in internal medicine. He is the first to have an assistant, to have a full-time resident in internal medicine. He is the first to have a full-time resident in internal medicine.

All of the departments where they worked would have been hard pressed had they not had the extra hands of the Junior Volunteers. These Department Heads had greatly expressed their appreciation for these girls. With only a day's vacation, all were working with a reduced force during the summer months.

The Junior Volunteers were assigned regularly to some departments, where the need was great. Each day the Volunteer reported signed in at the Volunteer Office. After the work was done, they went directly to the department assigned. At least once a week they came to the Volunteer Office to be sure that the work was going well, such as running errands, training new patients, or in doing some

The Situation Is Critical

By MRS. KAY KIRSTEN
Auxiliary Publicity Chairman

What's going to happen to the volunteer program at The Jewish Hospital now that the staunch little juniorites go back to school? Auxiliary president Mrs. Robert Ahern, and volunteer chairman, Mrs. Theo Lending, say that the situation is "critical" and that only with the aid of the junior volunteers has the hospital volunteer program continued to function this summer. Few of the senior volunteers have been invariable. Unlike many of their peers, they could always be depended upon. They did every job cheerfully and efficiently. They were models of decorum. A number of them worked over 100 hours. Fighting about the hospital in models of decorum. A number of them worked over 100 hours. Flitting through the halls, no take-home worries. With the sound of school bells ringing louder our Junior Volunteers for the first week and will look forward to having them again.

We Need Auxiliary Volunteers To Help Us While We Grow

- Will you play a game of checkers with an elderly convalescent?
- Will you read a story to a child with a broken leg?
- Can you be a gracious receptionist?
- Is yours the "voice with a smile" over the telephone?
- Can you do typing or filing?

If The Answer Is "YES"

CONGRATULATED

for their active work in the summer teen-age volunteer program by Miss Imogene Laswell, director of personnel and volunteers. These girls have filled a great need in the hospital. They have conducted themselves with decorum, have been willing to do any task asked of them no matter how tiresome or boring. They have not failed to come in even unprepared and have willingly filled in for those who were unable to keep appointments because of emergencies.

These girls had at least two girls assigned each morning. Including Saturday, here they helped technicians,

Exciting October Auxiliary Meeting

An unusual and thrilling annual luncheon meeting has been planned by the Jewish Women’s Auxiliary for Thursday, October 22. The meeting will be held at eight o’clock in the beautiful newoksen Boice Building in the city. The program has been arranged to present an exciting musical drama entitled "Through These Doors," a review of the College of St. Louis: best amateur dramatic, and slug. The musical numbers by Mrs. Susan S. Bricker, Mrs. Harry Loelj, Mrs. Harry Koenigsberg, and others will be both of whom are well known for their music. Simon Marcus, chairman, Mrs. Harry Loelj, Mrs. Max Tanne, David Cohen, Aikman Friedman, and Mrs. Sam Viniberg will serve as a chair of the auxiliary’s membership committee.

For the 2015-2016 academic year, the committee named new members to the auxiliary's membership committee. The names of new members included Mrs. Susan S. Bricker, Mrs. Harry Loelj, Mrs. Max Tanne, and David Cohen. Simon Marcus was named chairman of the Auxiliary’s Membership Committee.

Favorable Vote Urged On Earnings Tax

Dr. David Luitz, Executive Director of the Jewish Hospital, has urged a favorable vote on the earnings tax.

The future of employment in the country is in the ‘Ye’ vote, in the earnings tax question.

On that date the voters will decide the fate of the financial securities and progress of the economy. The vote to take the route to near-bankruptcy has been made.

The nation is experiencing a rise in the number of business and industry, and in fewer and fewer jobs.

New Nurse's Service Committee Group

Eight appointments have been made to the Auxiliary's new nurse's service committee group. The announcement was made by Mrs. Harry Frane, who is chairman, and Mrs. G. Pinel, who is co-chairman.
