On the cover......................................

Ilse Schneider, a patient in Home Care, is becoming quite a celebrity in the area. Miss Schneider, a victim of severe arthritis, was recently featured in a story in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, and provides us with our cover story for this issue. Her talents with the brush and canvas are extraordinary, as shown by her paintings.
Great artists have often overcome adversity to attain their levels of genius. Perhaps that is part of the reason for the obvious painting talent held by our “cover girl,” Ilse Schneider. Miss Schneider, who came to this country 25 years ago to avail herself of the aid available here for arthritics, has, as part of the Hospital’s Home Care program, become quite an outstanding painter, and her story (pages 2 and 3) makes interesting and informative reading.

Russia, too, makes interesting reading. Recent visits by state governors, including Warren E. Hearnes from Missouri, to that country have underlined the realities and problems facing that nation, and a look at Russia through the eyes of Dr. Arthur Baue (pages 4, 5 and 6) is quite illuminating.

Other stories abound in this, our largest ever, issue. The Dental Clinic (pages 9 and 10) is one area of the Hospital all too often overlooked, and the closing of the United Fund campaign (pages 7 and 8) marked another successful drive. Clover Ball preparations continue apace (pages 11 and 12), and the Medical Staff News (pages 13-15) is, as always, informative.

These, and many other, stories, make this an issue well worth reading, and one we hope you’ll thoroughly enjoy.

The Editor
Miss Schneider displays an ebullient nature that belies the facts of her medical condition.

She lives in great pain," explains Litwack, "and painting gives her an opportunity to forget the pain and do something she really loves. And with her talent the final results of painful weeks or months of work are well worth seeing."

Ilse is originally from Germany. She came to this country with her parents in 1949. Burdened even then with the painful movements and aching joints that are associated with her malady, Ilse nonetheless attempted to work and help support the small family.

"I started painting again seriously only about three years ago," she admits, "after Mr. Litwack (Herman Litwack, Senior Social Worker, Department of Home Care) asked me to do a portrait of his daughter."

That first effort, painful though it was, was quite obviously of professional caliber. The portrait, done from a photograph, is, in a critic's terms, "simply outstanding."

Initially Ilse worked in a shoe factory, and following that a garment factory, but even though "the people were very nice to me, and tried to help me with the work," she was unable, physically, to hold the jobs for more than a matter of months.

Finally, in 1951, she talked to Dr. Henry Rosenfeld, who at the time had a large private practice in the area. Dr. Rosenfeld referred her to the Jewish Hospital.

"One reason I came to this country was that the doctors in Germany told me that treatment and care for arthritis was much better in America. I believed them then, and found that it was true when I came to the Jewish Hospital.

Mr. Litwack (left) asked me to do a portrait of his daughter."
"If I had been in another Hospital, I'm sure that I wouldn't have had the care I received here. The people were so wonderful. I am grateful to the Hospital for everything."

Ilse has been the recipient of many of the Hospital's varying facilities. In addition to having been followed rather closely by the Hospital's Home Care Department, she has been a patient in both the Medical and Surgical Intensive Care Units, and has had lengthy stays in the Rehabilitation Department. Dr. Franz U. Steinberg, Director of the Rehabilitation Department and Long Term Care, has followed Ilse's case closely, and has also had his portrait done by the talented artist.

Ilse lives in a rundown part of the city, but she won't consider leaving it for a number of reasons.

"Here I can get up to paint, sometimes...

To begin, "it's my home, and has been for many, many years. Living here is much better than living in a 'home' or something. Here I can get up when I want to paint, sometimes at three in the morning when the pain is bad."

Herman Litwack concurs, "At times she is in such severe pain that she screams. In her home she can do that to relieve the pain and not bother anyone, and her painting, which is such a great relief to her, can be undertaken at any hour of the day or night. It's very important to her to remain in that house."

"Painting," says Ilse, "keeps me alive."

The pain, and disability, associated with advanced arthritis make it improbable for a woman to achieve any semblance of the talent expressed in the work of Ilse Schneider, but, as she says, "it keeps me alive. Waking up every morning knowing that I still have painting that needs to be done is what keeps me going from day to day."

"When she was in a foster home, briefly, about a year or so ago," explains Mr. Litwack, "she was miserable. It's just living in her own home and having that painting that keeps her going."

Ilse needs, and receives, a lot of help in her fight with arthritis. To help her stay in her neat, but small, two-story house, the Hospital sends, every week, a doctor, an occupational therapist, housekeeper, nurse, physical therapist, and the social worker, Mr. Litwack. For a visit from a reporter for a story (the Globe-Democrat recently featured her efforts and artistic skill) she may spend a whole morning getting properly dressed to receive the guest, as well as two or three days beforehand preparing her house for the interview.

"I can't do things as fast as I used to," she explains, shifting her weight in her wheelchair for more comfort. "These braces," she holds up the specially built braces that allow her to paint with a great degree of sure-handedness that would otherwise be impossible, "help me a lot, and of course I have other things around the house that help too," including a special hook that allows her to pull on her specially designed shoes, and another hook which is attached to the bottom of a cabinet, and allows her to remove the same shoes. These tools, and others, allow her to continue a fairly independent existence in spite of her handicap—an independence which she treasures, saying, "I would be just miserable if I had to go to a nursing home. I love my home, and want to stay here."
Communism is next, with the U.S.S.R. as the leading exponent of Marxist-Leninist thought. One visions men huddling furtively around a radio listening to a quiet voice on Radio Free Europe describe the news from the western world. The general consensus is that Russia has managed to supply the basic physical wants and needs for its populace, but at the exacting price of the loss of mental and social freedom that marks, for the most part, the free world.
Dr. and Mrs. Baue in front of a skyline of Moscow

Dr. Baue: This trip, sponsored by the Harry Freund Research Foundation, was made so that we might attend both the Neurohumoral and Metabolic Aspects of Injury Symposium in Budapest, and the International Conference of the Society Internationale De Chirurgie and Congress of the International Cardio-Vascular Society meetings in Moscow.

The Budapest Symposium, held as a satellite symposium of the 25th International Congress of Physiological Sciences in Munich, was held August 3-7. And the two Moscow conventions, the Surgical Convention and the Cardio-Vascular Congress, were held from August 22 and August 21 respectively, until August 28.

Editor: What were your general, overall impressions with Russian medicine?

Dr. Baue: Some aspects of Russian medicine are quite impressive. Their system of distribution of health care provides reasonably ready access to medical care for everyone, with an emphasis on preventative medicine. This is possible, however, only because of a rigidly structured state controlled system.

They have very decent, reasonable hospitals. They weren’t luxurious, but they were reasonably efficient. From what we saw they were perfectly well-equipped, but all older places. It was difficult, however, to get a true feel for results of operations and approaches to treatment there.

Editor: Why was there difficulty? Were you kept from seeing some things by your guide?

Dr. Baue: No. I should mention here that our guide, a young college student, was completely at our behest. He would call in the morning and ask if we needed his help. If we did, we went where we wanted to, not where he did. And if we didn’t need his services (he spoke excellent English), we were completely free to go on our own.

The reasons we had difficulty getting a true feel for medicine was, first, the hospitals which were open for tours had been closed to patients. The Russian surgeons told us that this was done so that they could attend the meetings. Secondly, the patients which we were shown as examples of their work had been operated upon months or years before and were brought back for demonstration. Thirdly, the Russian surgeons freely described the procedures they were doing almost in a catalogue form, but results and problems were difficult to determine.

Editor: How did you like Moscow?

Dr. Baue: The city was beautiful. We stayed in the Hotel Russia, which we jokingly referred to as the Comrade Hilton. This hotel overlooks the Kremlin, and has 6,000 rooms. The rooms were fine, but the service, as we found almost everywhere, wasn’t very good.

Editor: Service was a problem?

Dr. Baue: During the whole trip there were nuisances concerned with service. For instance, it took 1½ hours for our baggage to get from the plane to customs in Budapest. During this time period our luggage had been broken into and thoroughly searched. Also, you had to plan on four or five hours for dinner, it took that long for the waiters to get around to you once you managed to get to a table.

Editor: What things impressed you favorably about the Soviet way of life?

Dr. Baue: Well, Moscow was safe for one thing. You could go walking any time of the night and not have to worry about crime in the streets. And Moscow’s subway system is world-famous, and justifiably so. The subway is clean, efficient and comfortable. There aren’t many automobiles in Moscow, but that’s understandable, they don’t need them. You can quickly get just about anywhere in the city for four Kopeks, about a nickel.
Editor: How about those things that impressed you unfavorably?

Dr. Baue: Well, beyond the service troubles, the problems can be summed up in the four phrases we seemed to hear most while we were there. The first, Nyet, means no, and you hear that in reply to a lot of inquiries. The second was "it is impossible" and once that was said it ended the discussion. The third was "ask the Service Bureau," which meant the request was either truly difficult, or just concerned with a touchy area. The fourth was "come back tomorrow" which meant that whoever you asked didn't know the answer or was unable to give the answer.

Editor: How about the famed Moscow culture?

Dr. Baue: The operas and ballets in Moscow are truly impressive. We saw Swan Lake performed in Leningrad and it too was beautiful. Leningrad as a city, as a matter of fact, was very pretty.

Editor: Getting back to medicine, what systems or methods in medicine would you consider as good possibilities for this country, if any?

Dr. Baue: They have had for quite a while one avenue for training doctors that makes some sense. About 85 per cent of their physicians are women. One reason for this is that a young girl coming out of high school can take two years of training and become a nurse. Then, if she wants, she can take two more years and become a feldsher. A feldsher corresponds roughly to our new physician's assistant and is used extensively. If, after that, she wants to go on she can take two more years and become a doctor. It seems to be a very effective system, but I have no way of judging the quality of the product.

The Russians also have an excellent system for emergency care, ambulance and the care of the injured. Also, I have already mentioned their distribution system which provides more doctors available everywhere than we have. The question is, however, can we improve the availability of medical care throughout this country without sacrificing the high quality which exists in most communities, and without a totalitarian approach.

Freedom is a bit nebulous if you have never experienced it, and the average Russian has gone from serfdom to communism with no realization of what a free society is.
The 1971 United Fund campaign at the Hospital had a rousing finale on Friday, October 15, when the prize drawing was held in front of a packed house in the Employee’s Cafeteria.

All those who had contributed to the Fund were eligible for the drawing, which had prizes including a trip for two to the Lake of the Ozarks, an autographed Cardinal football, tickets to Cardinal baseball games in 1972, tickets to the St. Louis Symphony, and Blues hockey tickets.

Co-chairmen for the 1971 United Fund Campaign, Miss Marguerite Odell, director of Volunteer Services, and Mr. Oliver Stevenson, chief inhalation therapist, presided at the drawing, and also issued Award Certificates to all departments that had reached 100 per cent participation along with the prizes.

Napoleon Emanuel, Jr., a patient on 1 South, drew the numbers from the drum, and opened up the first winners folded chit, which listed Cheryl L. Mosley from 2 Center as the proud holder of the autographed Cardinal football, courtesy of the Big Red. The second winner was Shirley Petzold of Research Medicine, who was awarded two baseball tickets to the Cardinal game of her choice. The third winner, of two symphony tickets, was Harrison Simms of Housekeeping, followed by Maria Wright of S.I.C.U. who also won two Cardinal baseball tickets, courtesy of the Redbirds. Maxine Hatchett of the Operating Room won the two Blues tickets, followed by the grand prize winner, Sally Gotlieb. Mrs. Gotlieb from Social Work won a weekend for two at the Holiday Inn, Lake of the Ozarks.

Final figures for the year’s campaign show a total of over $12,500 contributed, with more than 1200 employees participating. A great deal of thanks is owed to the team captains for this year’s campaign, who include the following: Mr. Bo Axelrod, Mrs. Bess Arick, Mr. Freeman Burrow, Mrs. Martha Faires, Mrs. Mary Eckert, Mrs. Brenda Ernst, Mrs. Sandra Leimer, Mr. Milton Rathert, Mrs. LaVerna Rill, Mr. Pat Scheff, Mr. Richard Tureen, Mrs. Nadean Wright, Mr. Ed Gocal, Mrs. Mary Gotler, Mr. Jerry Graham, Mrs. Phyllis Jackson, Mr. Stanley Kantanie, Mrs. Margaret Napper, Miss Debbie Johnson, Mr. Levold Johnson, Mr. Roger Booth, Mrs. Rosetta Ellis, Miss Estelle Miller, Dr. David Wilson, and Miss Patra Schaffer.

A number of departments reached the 100 per cent participation mark, lead by the Print Shop, the first one to reach that goal. Other departments reaching 100 per cent were: Executive Offices, General Accounting, Communications, Purchasing, Storeroom, Community Relations, Auxiliary Office, Health Services, Food Services, Housekeeping, Laundry, Linen-Sewing Room, 1 South and 4 Steinberg Float Pool, Nursing Administration, 2 Center, 5 Center, 6
Center, Nurses Residence, Nurses Residence Housekeeping, O. R. Administration, Recovery Room, Recovery-Delivery Room, Social Work, O. B. Anesthesia, Radiation Therapy, Radio-Isotope, School of Medical Technology, Laboratory Hematology, Laboratory Urinalysis, Laboratory Serology-Immunology, Laboratory Endocrine, Laboratory Coagulation, Heart Station, Cardio-Pulmonary, Cardiac-Cath Lab, E.E.G., Otolaryngology, Central Supply, Pharmacy, Occupational Therapy, Department of Surgery, Department of Medicine, Department of Ob-Gyn, Home Care, Psychiatry Administration, Psychiatry Clinic, Retractor Holders, 4 Steinberg, Rehabilitation Administration, 1 South, Gift Gallery, Audiology Research, Surgery Research, In-service Nursing, Observation Unit, Department of Ophthalmology, Electronics Service, and Transport Pool.

Oliver Stevenson announces the next prize while Miss Odell and Napoleon Emanuel wait.

Margaret Napper, Associate Supervisor in Housekeeping, accepts her department's 100 per cent Certificate from David A. Gee, Executive Director of the Hospital.

Dental Care, like taxes, is one of those things that is often overlooked until the last minute. It is only then, perhaps in a rush to repair the damage suffered in an accident, that the patient tries in vain to find a dentist, much like attempting to fill out form 1040A late at night, April 14.

For true emergency situations, however, there is a place where the dental patient, unlike the last-minute tax payer, can receive excellent care on a 24-hour basis. The Dental Clinic at the Hospital, located in the Aaron Waldheim Clinic Building, provides a service that, surprisingly enough, "accounts for almost nine per cent of the Hospital’s total emergency visits during the average month," according to Department of Dentistry Director, Calvin H. Weiss, D.D.S.

The Dental Program at the Hospital has three interns, making this the only private, general, teaching hospital in Missouri that has dental internships (although that may be changing as more and more hospitals become aware of the needs and importance of this type of program).

"More and more impetus is being placed upon dental students taking internships," notes Dr. Weiss. "It is not only a current trend, but suggested in very positive terms by the American Dental Association and the Office of Health, Education and Welfare."

One of the three interns (they are Dr. Robert E. Hagle, Dr. Martin A. Dettmer, and Dr. Steven C. Elcock) is always on call as part of his training program. A staff member is available to assist the intern should the situation arise.

With many of the cases being children who have met their match in falls from bicycles, porches, open windows or other hazards, the emergency room experience serves to acquaint the intern with some first-hand psychology in dealing with the younger set, as well as handling the strictly dental portion of the emergency.

"That is one reason the program is able to offer so much," points out Dr. Weiss. "This is the kind of practical experience that these interns could not receive from their regular dental education."
Emergency room medicine is just one part of the overall dental internship offered at the Hospital, adds Dr. Weiss, noting that "many people aren't aware of the scope and magnitude of the Department of Dentistry at the Jewish Hospital."

The interns twice a week visit County Hospital as part of their training, and there is an extern dental training program that operates in cooperation with Washington University, under the guidance of Jerome Grosby, D.D.S.

The Department of Dentistry also provides care for the United Cerebral Palsy Association, under the guidance of Dr. Earl Woerner, and provides care to the Jewish Center for the Aged, under the direction of Dr. Simon Baumgarten. The Department has also been actively involved in a cleft palate program, and provides dental care for the state training school for the retarded in North St. Louis.

One important aspect of the services offered by the Department of Dentistry is the operating room facilities. When dealing with retarded or handicapped patients a general anesthetic must be used, necessitating the use of an operating room. At the Hospital there has been an on-going program for a number of years that provides this care. The facilities, outgrowths of a $300,000 grant from the Office of Health, Education and Welfare in the early 60's, are both important centers of care and providers of valuable learning experiences for the interns.

"The Department of Dentistry and the emergency dental care service are part of the whole medical team at the Hospital," says Dr. Weiss. "At the Jewish Hospital the patient can be given total health care, with the realization that oral health is an integral part of total health. There is an obvious need for dental care for the chronically ill, aged and handicapped patients who can only be treated by an on-going and active Dental Department."
Clover Ball Approaches

The weather hasn’t always shown it this fall, but winter approacheth. Along with the cold wintery winds and the freezing rain that typifies the dark months in St. Louis, however, comes this year a brief but bright respite, in the form of the 1972 Clover Ball.

The Clover Ball, held just once every five years by the Auxiliary of the Hospital, features a classic theme for the gala festivities to be held January 22. The Ball’s purpose is to establish an Observation Unit that will become an important and integral portion of the new, expanded Emergency Room of the Hospital. The two previous Balls, in 1967 and 1962, provided for a 16-bed Medical Intensive Care Unit and increased facilities in the Division of Adult Psychiatry respectively.

The 1972 Ball will be held in the Khorassan Room of the Chase-Park Plaza, and will feature a cocktail hour with music provided by Artie Schieler and his “Strolling Trio,” and a sumptuous full course dinner with dinner and dance music provided by Lester Lanin and his Society Orchestra.

Lanin, known as the “King of High Society Dance Music,” has played for the Fords, the Rockefellers, the du Ponts, the Meltons, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor and the Cox-Nixon wedding. He carries a 127-year musical tradition in his family.

Excitement for the gala has already built to a high pitch, and will continue through late January. Coming just once every five years, the Ball holds a great deal of importance and prestige in the St. Louis community. Hundreds of patrons at $300 each, have already contributed, and tickets, at $75 per person, may soon be rare ducats indeed. Publicity co-chairman Mrs. Sue Seagonood has already noted that, “We receive so many reservations we go on a first-come-first-serve basis because the room could never hold that many people. Last time we had to check the postmarks on the letters to know who to send the tickets to.”

The Committee Members for the 1972 Clover Ball include: Mrs. Joseph F. Ruwitch, General Chairman; Mrs. Norman W. Drey, Mrs. Irving M. Goldstein, and Mrs. Edwin G. Shifrin, Vice Chairmen; Mrs. Charles H. Yalem and Mrs. Ben H. Senturia, Patrons; Mrs. Roswell Messing, Jr. and Mrs. Al Serkes, Ticket Sales; Mr. Courtney Gould and Mr. Robert Wegusen, Men’s Advisory Committee; Mrs. Charles J. Steiner, Reservations; Mrs. Ralph Lowenbaum, III and Mrs. Milton Jasper, Seating; Mrs. Donald J. Dickler, Telephone; Mrs. David A. Gee, Secretary; Mrs. Leonard M. Burstein, Invitations; Mrs. Joseph Berger, Addressing/Mailing; Mrs. Al S. Loeb, Souvenir Program; Mrs. Earl Susman, Souvenir Selection; Mrs. Harry Lesser, Jr., Souvenir Delivery; Mrs. Robert Levinsohn, Printing; Mrs. Ruby Cohn and Mrs. Marvin W. Goodman, Room Decor-Decorations Coordinator; Mrs. Samuel Lerman, Table Decorations-Decorations Coordinator; Mrs. Frank P. Wolff, Table Souvenirs; Mrs. Kenneth Poslosky and Mrs. Edwin Levis, Jr., Clover Surprises; Mrs. S. Charles Baer and Mrs. Richman Bry, Cocktail Hour/Dinner Hour; Mrs. Willard L. Levy, Cigars/Cigarettes; Mrs. Richard G. Sisson, Hostesses; Mrs. Lester Seagonood and Mrs. Jerome M. Greenblatt, Publicity; Mrs. Harris J. Frank, Treasurer; Mrs. Arthur Scharff, Jr., Coordinator (orchestra-arrangements).

The Steering Committee for the Ball includes Mrs. M. Erwin Bry, Jr., Mrs. Stanley M. Cohen, Mrs. Harry W. Loeb, Mr. Ralph Lowenbaum, III, Mrs. Donald Quicksilver, Mrs. Ben H. Senturia, Mrs. Edward F. Schweich, and Mrs. Sydney Shoenberg, Jr.

Dr. Levenson
Spoke at Hospital

Robert M. Levenson, M.D., Clinical Associate Professor of Medicine, University of Washington Medical School, Seattle, spoke on "Rehabilitation of the Patient with Heart Disease" recently in the Mark C. Steinberg Memorial Amphitheater.

Dr. Levenson is a Fellow of the American College of Physicians and the American College of Cardiology, as well as the Council on Clinical Cardiology of the American Heart Association.

He is also a past President of the Washington State Heart Association and the Seattle Academy of Internal Medicine, and a past Vice-President of the American Heart Association.

Currently a member of the American Heart Association's Sub-Committee on Work Evaluation Units and the Association's Rehabilitation Committee, as well as the Washington State Medical Association and the Advisory Committee—Regional Medical Program, and Alpha Omega Alpha, Dr. Levenson is a recognized authority on heart disease and the rehabilitation of the heart patient.

Adler, M.D., and John Gladney, M.D., attended the annual meeting of the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology held in Las Vegas, Nev., September 16-24. Dr. Senturia, as First Vice-President, took part in all the deliberations of the Council of the Academy and presided at two of the general sessions. Dr. Senturia was also Chairman of the Committee of Otolaryngic Pathology of the Academy. In addition, he participated in a course on Treatment of Nonsuppurative Otitis Media, and was the final discussant on a panel dealing with Chronic Secretory Otitis Media.
S. A. Berson, M.D. Named Beaumont Visiting Professor

Solomon A. Berson, M.D., has been named the Beaumont Visiting Professor for the Department of Medicine from November 20-24. Dr. Berson is Director of the Department of Medicine at the Mt. Sinai Hospital of New York.

A member of the Association of American Physicians, the American Society for Clinical Investigation, the American Physiological Society, a Fellow of the New York Academy of Sciences, a Fellow of the New York Academy of Medicine, and numerous other societies, Dr. Berson has also received numerous honorary memberships, including Diplomate of Pan American Medical Association, Alpha Omega Alpha, Phi Beta Kappa, the Peruvian Society of Endocrinology, the British Association of Clinical Biochemistry, the Argentine Society of Endocrinology and others.

Dr. Oliver Awarded Grant

George Oliver, M.D., has been named a principal investigator of research on the onset of acute heart attacks and sudden cardiac death by the Myocardial Infarction Program of the National Heart and Lung Institute, National Institutes of Health, DHEW.

Dr. Oliver will work with J. R. Cox, Jr., M.D., in studying premature ventricular contractions as a risk factor in sudden cardiac death, employing a computerized arrhythmia-recognition system capable of analyzing continuous, long-term electrocardiographic recording in high-risk individuals.

The research project is one of 12 new projects totalling $1,000,786 that have been awarded in support of research in this area. The new projects complement six other contracts awarded last year and continued during the current fiscal year.

Robert M. Senior, M.D., Stanford Wessler, M.D., and Louis V. Avioli, M.D., co-authored a paper “Pulmonary Oxygen Toxicity” in the Journal of the American Medical Association. The paper was Number 33 in “Therapeutic Grand Rounds” portion of the journal.

Robert S. Simon, D.D.S., attended the Academy of General Dentistry Convocation in Atlantic City, N. J. October 9, Dr. Simon was inducted as a Fellow in the organization at that time.

Bernard Schwartzman, M.D., was named Assistant Professor of Clinical Pediatrics at the Washington University School of Medicine.

Carlos A. Perez, M.D., gave a speech titled “Metastic Cervical Carcinoma — Unknown Primary” to the American Society of Therapeutic Radiologists during the Society’s October 29-31 meeting in Phoenix, Ariz. Dr. Perez also spoke at the Radiation Therapy Teachers’ Conference in Palo Alto, Calif., October 14, on “Role of Research in Radiation Therapy Training.”

Sidney Goldenberg, M.D., gave speeches titled “Vascular Disease in Diabetes Mellitus” and “What Does the UGDP Report Mean?” to the Tottori University School of Medicine, August 14 in Yonago, Japan. Dr. Goldenberg was presented by invitation of Dr. Jukimass Hirata, Chief, Department of Medicine, Tottori University School of Medicine and former Fellow in the Institute of Experimental Pathology of the Jewish Hospital. Dr. Goldenberg’s address was presented while he was in Japan as Troop Leader for the XIII International Jamboree, Boy Scouts of America.
Virgil Loeb, Jr., M.D., Attending Physician at the Hospital, served as co-chairman for a symposium on recent advances concerning treatment of Hodgkin's Disease held in St. Louis October 7-9.

Louis V. Avioli, M.D., chief, Division of Metabolism, and Shoenberg Professor of Medicine, Washington University, has just been elected to membership in the Association of American Physicians. Dr. Avioli has received a research award from the Atomic Energy Commission. In May 1970 he was invited to present a paper at the First International Symposium on Magnesium Deficiency held in Vittel, France.

Stanley J. Birge, M.D., member of the Division of Metabolism and Assistant Professor of Medicine, Washington University, has received a 5-year fellowship award as an Established Investigator of the American Heart Association to facilitate his studies in calcium metabolism.

Carl V. Moore, M.D., Consultant in Medicine at the Hospital, spoke on "Survey of the Clinical Aspects of the Disease" at the Hodgkin's Disease Symposium October 7-9, in St. Louis.

Jacob G. Probstein, M.D., was re-elected President of the medical staff of the New Faith Hospital.

Alan Londe, M.D., had a paper titled "Correlation of the Prognosis of Obstructing Colorectal Carcinoma with Clinical and Pathologic Variables" in the American Journal of Surgery. Dr. Londe co-authored the paper with Jerry Ragland, M.D., and John Spratt, M.D., in Vol. 121 of the journal. Dr. Londe also attended the American College of Surgeons convention in Atlantic City, N. J., October 18-24, and was named a Fellow in the American College of Surgeons October 20.

Arnoldo Kuczer, M.D., attended the American Rhinologic Society convention in Kansas City, Mo., in August. The theme of the meeting was the Ninth International Post Graduate Course.

Norman J. Matulef, Ph.D., Psychologist-in-Chief, was recently appointed Consulting Editor for the section on clinical psychology of the new Journal Supplement Abstract Service of the American Psychology Association. This publication will cover all areas of professional and academic psychology and provide faster and more complete dissemination of research data.

Martin M. Calodney, M.D., has been named Assistant Professor of Clinical Pediatrics at Washington University effective July 1.

Dr. Steinberg Edits Book

Franz U. Steinberg, M.D., Director of the Department of Long Term Care, is the Junior Editor of the Fourth Edition of the book The Care of the Geriatric Patient, published by the C. V. Mosby Company. Senior Editor for the book is E. V. Cowdry, Ph.D., Sc.D. (hon.), Consultant to the Hospital and Emeritus Professor of Anatomy at the Washington University School of Medicine.

Although Dr. Steinberg had written a chapter in the third edition of the text, this is his first appearance as co-editor. In this edition Dr. Steinberg wrote chapters on Home Care (Ch. 30), and Rehabilitation and Therapeutic Exercise (Ch. 31).

Ben H. Senturia, M.D., Director of Otolaryngology at the Hospital, and Rabbi Lawrence Siegel, M.A., S.T.M., Jewish Federation of St. Louis Chaplain at the Hospital, were also involved in the writing of the book, as was Samuel D. Soule, M.D., Consultant, Obstetrics and Gynecology at the Hospital, and Frank B. Wilson, Ph.D., Director of Speech Pathology at the Hospital.

The following are new appointments to the Hospital Medical Staff: Gilbert S. Unatin, D.D.S., Assistant in Dentistry, Department of Dentistry; Michael E. Suden, D.D.S., Assistant in Dentistry, Department of Dentistry; and Diane Rankin, M.D., Assistant in Psychiatry, Department of Psychiatry.
Hospital Auxiliary in the News

Fashion Show
At Fall Meeting

A Dessert Tea and Fashion Show Preview of the Clover Ball Collection was the highlight of the Hospital Auxiliary’s annual Fall Meeting, which took place Wednesday, October 27, at the Westwood Country Club.

The Fashion Show, with Stix, Baer and Fuller Fashion Director Miss Jackie Block serving as commentator, presented a fabulous courtier showing of exclusive ball gowns in anticipation of the Auxiliary’s Clover Ball, to take place January 22, 1972.

The Clover Ball, a gala attraction which takes place just once every five years, will be held in the Khorassan Room of the Chase-Park Plaza, with the proceeds going to establish an Observation Unit in the remodeled Emergency Room of the Jewish Hospital.

A highlight of the Fashion Show was a personal appearance by Mr. Finn Birger Christensen of Copenhagen. Mr. Birger Christensen presented a preview-showing of his new fur collection.

The House of Birger Christensen was established in early 1869. Handed from father to son, the business is now owned and directed by Finn Birger Christensen. He has, by Appointment, for many years been Furrier to the Royal Danish Family, and recently received the singular honor of being named Furrier to both the Royal Greek and Royal Swedish Courts. Among his clients are Her Majesty, Queen Ingrid of Denmark; Her Majesty, Queen Anne Marie of Greece; Her Majesty, Queen Frederika, the Queen Mother, Her Royal Highness, Princess Benedikte and Her Royal Highness, Charlotte of Luxembourg.

The House of Birger Christensen also numbers among its clients such internationally fashion conscious women as Maria Callas, Anna Moffot of the Scala, Shirley Maclaine, Mrs. Victor Borge, Mrs. William Holden, Mrs. Danny Kaye, Dina Merrill and numerous other stage and screen personalities. Over the past few years Finn Birger Christensen’s collections have been shown in most European and Middle Eastern capitals, such as Reykjavik in Iceland, Paris, London, Berlin, Zurich, Monaco, Teheran, Beirut, Sydney and Melbourne in Australia, and New York, Washington, Los Angeles, and St. Louis in this country.

Conclave
Sponsored

Early this month the Jewish Hospital Auxiliary held a Conclave of hospital auxiliaries at the Hospital, the Bel-Air West Motel, and the home of Mrs. M. Erwin Bry, Jr., President of the Auxiliary.

The purpose of the conclave was to fill the need for a forum through which ideas could be exchanged with Auxiliaries sharing common problems and goals.

The members of the Hospital’s Auxiliary felt they were not accomplishing this aim through existing national and state organizations, which, because of their broad memberships, were forced to deal with generalities and theories. By restricting their conclave to other hospital auxiliaries similar in size and scope to that of the Jewish Hospital, more meaningful information was obtained and ideas exchanged.

In response to invitations from the Hospital’s Auxiliary more than 20 delegates from hospitals in Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Cedar Rapids, Des Moines, Chicago, Evansville, Detroit, Oklahoma City, Indianapolis, and Cleveland were in attendance at the conclave, as well as ten delegates from St. Louis Hospitals of the same size and requirements including Barnes, St. John’s Mercy, St. Mary’s and Deaconess. In most cases the meetings were attended by Presidents of the various auxiliaries, along with President-elects or Directors of Volunteers.

The three-day agenda of the conclave included an evening get-together Tuesday night, November 2, an Auxiliary oriented tour of the Hospital Wednesday, and discussion Wednesday and Thursday on Volunteer Programs, Fund-Raising Projects, Membership Services, and other topics.
Medical Technologists Given Awards

The Hospital School of Medical Technology recently awarded Certificates to six young technologists for completion of a year’s study under the program, approved by the American Society of Clinical Pathologists, held at the Hospital.

Mrs. Mabel Howell, Associate Director of the Hospital, awarded the certificates to Carmen Bodino, University of Santo Tomas, Manila, the Phillipines; Susan Clement, Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville; Sharon Crowley, University of Missouri-St. Louis; Jane Merz, SIU-Edwardsville; Judi Rubin, University of Missouri; and Lana Oelheim, SIU-Edwardsville. All of the students with the exception of Lana Oelheim have passed the National Registry Test and scored above the National Mean. Miss Oelheim will take her test this month.

Miss Carmen Bodino, from Manila, was named the recipient of the Henry L. Ettman Award for Excellence in Clinical Pathology. The award, presented by Mrs. Ettman, is presented for the best paper submitted during the year in Clinical Pathology. The paper’s title was “Evaluation of Reagent-Impregnated Strips.” The work on the paper was done in Microbiology under the direction of Alex Sonnenwirth, Ph.D.

Donations are needed for the Psychiatry Department. The Department is looking for either a piano or the money with which to purchase one. Anyone wishing to donate money or a piano should contact station 571.
Dr. Jacob G. Probstein presents a trophy to Bob Plager of the St. Louis Blues Hockey Club for being named the best defenseman of the year for the Blues last season. The trophy was named in honor of Dr. Probstein through the courtesy of Sidney Salomon, II and Sid Salomon, III.

Father's Hour

To Begin

Fatherhood has taken a step forward at the Hospital with the announcement of a Father's Hour in the Obstetrics Department.

Under the new program fathers will be allowed on the maternity floor during the evening infant feeding hour (8:30 - 9:30 p.m.), and the fathers may handle the baby and feed it if the infant is receiving a bottle.

The fathers will be asked to wash their hands and don a long-sleeved gown. Only fathers will be allowed on the maternity floor at this time. Other visitors will be required to leave the area. The father's hour privileges are granted after the newborn is 24-hours old, since before this time the baby is fed in the nursery.

Delores Biggins, R.N.

Elected Trustee

Delores Biggins, Staff Anesthetist at the Hospital, was elected a Trustee of Region 4 of the American Association of Nurse Anesthetists at their August 24 meeting.

Miss Delores Biggins, R.N.

Miss Biggins is a graduate of Washington University School of Nursing and Johns Hopkins School of Anesthesia. She has been at the Hospital for 16 years. In the past she has held the offices of Trustee, Vice-President, and President of the Missouri Association of Nurse Anesthetists, and served in the Mid-South Assembly of Nurse Anesthetists. In 1965 she was chosen "Woman of Achievement" by the Business and Professional Women's Club of Collinsville, Ill.
Chapel Holds High Holy Day Services

Rabbi Lawrence Siegel, the Jewish Federation Community Chaplain for the Hospital, recently held Jewish High Holy Day Services. Beginning with Rosh Hashanah on Sunday, September 19, through Shabbat Shuvah and Yom Kippur, services were held in the chapel.

Fifteen days after Rosh Hashanah, five days after Yom Kippur, Succoth started at the Hospital, and students from the United Hebrew Temple built a Succoth booth near the main entrance to the Hospital. The colorful booth livened the days of many patients, staff, and visitors alike.

A wedding in the chapel made it possible for the bridegroom’s mother to attend.

A number of recent donations have been made to the Jewish Hospital Chapel. Rabbi Lawrence Siegel announced that Mr. and Mrs. H. Goldfader, Mrs. Hyman Goldstein, Mrs. Dela Kurtz, Mr. J. L. London, and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Parkman have made donations. The Hospital Medical Staff Society has also made a donation in memory of Benjamin B. Berman, M.D., Joseph Efron, M.D., and Michael Somogyi, Ph.D.

A student from the United Hebrew Temple helps prepare the Succoth Booth.
David A. Gee, Executive Director of the Hospital, spoke at an Instructional Session of the American Hospital Association's 73rd Annual Convention Meeting in Chicago. Mr. Gee spoke on “The Place of Home Care in Health Care Corporations and Health Maintenance Organizations.”

Mr. Donald J. Williams has been named Director of Housekeeping at the Hospital returns to a hospital-managed housekeeping department.

Mr. Williams, who comes to the area from Immanuel Medical Center in Omaha, Neb., was Executive Director of Housekeeping at Immanuel, and prior to that Assistant Director of Housekeeping at St. Joseph's Hospital in Omaha, before assuming his duties here, effective November 1.

Mr. Stanley Kantanie is the Administrative Resident for the 1971-1972 year.

Mr. Kantanie, a graduate of the University of Buffalo, in Buffalo, N. Y., is serving his nine-month residency at the Hospital as part of the 21-month Masters Degree program in Health Care Administration at Washington University.

Married, and the father of a two-year old baby girl, Mr. Kantanie spent four years in the Medical Service Corps of the Air Force prior to his enrolling at Washington University. Three of those years were spent at the Air Force's base at Myrtle Beach, S. Carolina, and the final year was spent in Saigon, S. Vietnam.

Miss Helen Wohlert, R.N., has been named the new Assistant Director of Nursing for Obstetrics. Miss Wohlert fills the vacancy left by Miss Marie Kuppinger, R.N., who has become the Head Nurse in Post Partum.

Mrs. Helen Smith, Ph.D., has been named Assistant Director of the School of Nursing.
Candy Striper Picnic Held

Summer is gone, and the teenage volunteers who brightened the Hospital hallways during the months when school was out have all returned to their classes, but the warm mid-September days allowed the Hospital Auxiliary to throw a final fling for the Candy Stripers. A swimming party and picnic was held at the home of Auxiliary President Mrs. M. Erwin Bry, Jr., and the young volunteers in attendance attested to the popularity of the event by devouring mounds of potato chips and fried chicken, while drinking the soda-well dry and garnishing the main courses with salad and rolls.

Once again this year the Candy Stripers provided much-needed volunteer assistance to the regular Hospital staff — and once again the Hospital owes these teenagers a sincere “thank you, and come again next summer.”
Mrs. Barbara Weitkamp holding new daughter Wendy Ellen. Wendy, born recently at the Hospital, is the fifth living generation of the Weitkamp family. Mrs. Weitkamp is 17 years old, the same age that her great grandmother (Wendy Ellen’s great, great grandmother) was when she had her first child.

Student Nurses
In Action

The Hospital’s School of Nursing Softball Team recently received a trophy at the Third District Student Nurses Meeting in late September. The girls’ team, which did not lose a single contest throughout the season, received the trophy at St. Mary’s Hospital.

At the same meeting Kathy Shea, Senior Class President for the Student Nurses, represented the school in the Student Nurse Contest for Student Nurse of St. Louis. Kathy gave an excellent address on the theme “If You Don’t, Who Will?”

Just two days after that meeting 22 Nursing Students attended and participated in a “Legislative Institute” sponsored by the Third District Missouri Nurses Association at St. John’s Mercy Hospital.

E. B. Greensfelder
Re-elected to WUMSAH Board

Edward B. Greensfelder, President of the Board of Directors of the Hospital, was recently re-elected Chairman of the Washington University Medical School and Associated Hospitals (WUMSAH) Board of Directors. Edwin G. Shifrin, Vice-President of the Hospital’s Board of Directors, was re-elected Secretary of the WUMSAH Board.

Edward B. Greensfelder

Joseph F. Ruwitch, Life Member of the Board of Directors of the Hospital and a Past-President, was appointed to the Board of Directors of the Alliance for Regional and Community Health (ARCH).
