Dr. Russell Little Named Acting Physician-in-Chief

J. Russell Little Jr., M.D., has been named acting physician-in-chief to fill the post vacated by Dr. Stanford Wessler.

Louis V. Avioli, M.D., director of the Division of Metabolism and Sydney M. and Stella H. Shoenberg Professor of Medicine at Washington University, will serve as acting co-physician-in-chief.

Dr. Little, director of Jewish Hospital’s Division of Oncology, Immunology and Infectious Disease, is professor of medicine and associate professor of microbiology at Washington University School of Medicine.

A committee, headed by Dr. David Kipnis, head of the Washington University Department of Medicine, is currently seeking a permanent physician-in-chief for Jewish Hospital.

Dr. Gustave Davis Appointed Acting Pathology Head

Gustave L. Davis, M.D., has been named acting director of the Department of Pathology, effective July 1, succeeding Erwin R. Rabin, M.D., acting director of Pathology since 1971. Dr. Rabin has accepted a position as pathologist with the Lattimore-Fink Laboratories, Inc., Topeka, Kansas.

Dr. Davis joined the Jewish Hospital staff in 1968 as assistant pathologist. He was later appointed associate pathologist and is associate professor of pathology at Washington University School of Medicine.

A graduate of Union College, Dr. Davis received his M.D. degree from State University of New York, College of Medicine, Syracuse. He took his internship and residency in pathology at Barnes Hospital.

Clinic Treats Immigrant Jews

In response to the needs of fellow Jews, the Jewish Hospital Dental Clinic is providing dental care for four Russian immigrant Jews who have recently come to live in St. Louis.

It was found that some of these immigrants need extensive dental work which they will receive at the Clinic. Jewish Hospital Tribute Fund support has been authorized to help defer the cost of this care, which is high primarily due to expensive equipment and outside laboratory work.

The new Americans involved in this program are Boris Levotman, Abram Inteligator, Sieman Goldsman and Eva Goldsman. At present, more than 25 Russian immigrants are being seen in the general medicine and surgery and specialty clinics at Jewish Hospital.
Dr. Kimbel Gives Grand Lecture

The second Joseph and Evalyne Grand Lecture in Rehabilitation Medicine was presented in April by Dr. Philip Kimbel, head of the Pulmonary Division at Albert Einstein Hospital in Philadelphia.

Dr. Kimbel, professor of medicine at Temple University, spoke on “Pulmonary Rehabilitation.” He is a graduate of Temple University School of Medicine and had his postgraduate training at Albert Einstein Hospital and the University of Pennsylvania.

The Grands established this lecture fund in 1969 to provide for guest speakers in rehabilitation medicine.

New Appointments to Medical Staff

New appointments to the Hospital’s medical staff include: Harry L. Kropf, M.D., assistant, Department of Ophthalmology; Diane Rankin, M.D., assistant, Department of Psychiatry; Edward Cohen, M.D., assistant, Department of Radiology; Morris Joffus, M.D., assistant, Department of Medicine. John R. McCormick, M.D., assistant attending, Department of Surgery; Royal J. Eaton, M.D., assistant, Department of Medicine; Barry R. Hieb, M.D., assistant, Department of Medicine; Sandra Russ, Ph.D., Department of Psychiatry; Lois E. Franklin, Department of Psychiatry; Irshad H. Chaudry, Ph.D., Department of Surgery; John S. Spratt Jr., M.D., Department of Surgery.

Max Myer Education Fund Sponsors Surgery Symposium

Education funds at Jewish Hospital perform a valuable service by supporting programs which provide for distinguished and renowned guest lecturers to share their experiences, their views and their knowledge which enlighten and enrich young medical practitioners and indeed our entire medical staff.

The Max Myer Fund for Surgical Education is one such endowment fund which supports this vital cause. In December 1973, the Max Myer Fund enabled the Department of Surgery to invite an internationally recognized surgeon to speak to the medical staff -- the first Max Myer Visiting Professor.

More recently, the fund supported “A Gastrointestinal Symposium” presented by the Department of Surgery May 18 -- the Max Myer Symposium in Surgical Education. Two distinguished visitors lectured, Dr. Robert Hermann, head of the Department of General Surgery, Cleveland Clinic, Cleveland, and Dr. Gilbert Hermann, associate professor of surgery at the University of Colorado School of Medicine, Denver.

An expert in gastrointestinal surgery and author of extensive literature on various aspects of this type of surgery, Dr. Robert Hermann spoke on “Operative Treatment of Pancreatitis.” In his talk, he referred to the pioneering work in this field done at Jewish Hospital by Dr. Jacob G. Probststein, consultant in surgery, and Dr. Michael Somogyi, biochemist emeritus at the Hospital until his death.

The talk presented by Dr. Gilbert Hermann focused on “The Dilemma of Delayed Gastric Emptying.” Dr. Hermann had his surgical training at Massachusetts General Hospital with Dr. Arthur E. Baue, Jewish Hospital surgeon-in-chief. He was previously chief of surgery at the General Rose Hospital in Denver.

The Max Myer Fund for Surgical Education was established in late 1972 in memory of Dr. Myer, who served as surgeon-in-chief at Jewish Hospital and director of the Department from 1931-1946 when he became a consultant. Mrs. Myer, her son Leo Drey and friends started the fund as a tribute to Max Myer’s leadership and devoted interest in education for young surgeons.
A Tribute to John M. Shoenberg

John M. Shoenberg died of a heart attack April 7, at the age of 59. He had served as president of the Jewish Hospital Board of Directors from 1958 to 1963 at which time he became a life member of the Board.

He also served as a member of the Board of the United Fund, the Jewish Federation, the Jewish Sanatorium and the Neighborhood Association. He was active in the National Conference of Christians and Jews and the Planned Parenthood Association.

He is survived by his wife, the former Eleanor Selz, three daughters, his father Sydney M. Shoenberg, and his brothers, Sydney M. Jr. and Robert H. Shoenberg.

When the Jewish Hospital of St. Louis was founded in 1900, the Shoenberg family was there -- and one of the first families to lend its full support to this vital project of providing a modern, progressive health care and educational facility for the community.

Since then, the Shoenbergs have continued to play a vital role in the development of Jewish Hospital as a viable force in the community for medical education, patient care and scientific and clinical research.

Moses Shoenberg, one of the original contributors to the first Jewish Hospital, began what has become a tradition in the Shoenberg family...a dynamic interest in the welfare of the community through the continuing support of Jewish Hospital.

In 1929, the Moses Shoenberg School of Nursing was dedicated at 306 South Kingshighway, made possible by a gift from Mrs. Moses Shoenberg and her son Sydney. Funds provided by the family in 1959 enabled the Hospital to purchase the property at 4949 Forest Park Boulevard. Today, the Shoenberg Research Building houses the Department of Otolaryngology and its Divisions of Audiology and Speech Pathology.

The Shoenberg family has also made considerable contributions to the Hospital’s endowment program and in 1971 established the Sydney M. and Stella H. Shoenberg Chair in Medicine at Jewish Hospital and Washington University School of Medicine.

In recognition of the latest gifts from the Shoenbergs to the Hospital Expansion Fund for Excellence in Health Care, the new nine-story patient care pavilion will be officially dedicated as the Sydney M. Shoenberg Pavilion. This facility represents the newest, most modern and efficient health care delivery system available today.

Sydney Shoenberg and two of his sons, Sydney Jr. and John, were appointed life members of the Hospital Board of Directors.

Jewish Hospital has indeed been fortunate to have such enduring and enthusiastic support throughout the years from three generations of the Shoenberg family who continue to pursue a better life for the people of their community. It is with great sorrow that the Hospital family notes the death of John Shoenberg, long-time friend and benefactor of Jewish Hospital.

JOHN M. SHOENBERG

RESOLUTION

The Board of Directors of The Jewish Hospital of St. Louis records with sorrow the death of John M. Shoenberg, a Life Member of the Board of Directors and a former President and Vice President of this Hospital, who died at his home in the County of St. Louis on the 7th day of April, 1974, at the age of fifty-nine.

Mr. Shoenberg became a member of the Board of Directors of The Jewish Hospital in 1951, upon the merger of the Jewish Sanatorium, of which he was then a Vice President, with the Hospital. Mr. Shoenberg served the Hospital not only in leadership capacity, but as a major benefactor. Through his generosity and that of his father, Sydney M. Shoenberg, Sr., and brothers, Sydney M., Jr. and Robert H. Shoenberg, the Jewish Hospital has achieved a position of prominence and excellence in the health care field. In addition to their magnificent contributions to the Hospital’s building and capital programs, they established at the Jewish Hospital the Sydney M. and Stella H. Shoenberg Chair in Medicine of the Washington University School of Medicine in 1971. The family's latest benefaction is reflected in the soon-to-be dedicated nine-story Sydney M. Shoenberg Pavilion.

In the Main Lobby of the Hospital is a bronze tablet recognizing John M. Shoenberg's leadership as President of the Hospital..."In Appreciation of His Unswerving Devotion and Substantial Contribution to the Progress and Development of the Jewish Hospital Medical Center."

During the time period from 1958 to 1963, while John M. Shoenberg was president, the Hospital engaged in a $3,000,000.00 Development Drive which resulted in the construction of the nine-story Yalem Research Building and other renovation within the main Hospital building. The success of this fund drive and the physical growth of the institution is in no small measure due to Mr. Shoenberg's inspiration and guidance.

In addition to his dedication to The Jewish Hospital of St. Louis, John M. Shoenberg served the community as a member of the Board of Directors of the United Fund, the Jewish Federation, the Jewish Sanatorium and the Neighborhood Association. He was active in the National Conference of Christians and Jews and the Planned Parenthood Association.

John M. Shoenberg has been described by his close friends and associates as a loyal friend and as a man who was able to identify with, and be responsive to, human frailties. In every sense of the word, he was a gentleman.

The Board of Directors of The Jewish Hospital of St. Louis records its genuine sorrow upon the untimely death of John M. Shoenberg, pays tribute to his many fine qualities and his outstanding leadership and service to The Jewish Hospital of St. Louis, and asks that this record of his achievements and these sentiments herein expressed be spread upon its minutes and records, and be recorded in the archives of the Hospital, and that an engrossed copy of this Resolution be sent to his widow, Eleanor Selz Shoenberg, and to his children.

International Symposium on Heparin

The scheduling of two recent events -- the International Symposium on Heparin and a continuing education course on Current Concepts in the Practice of Medicine and Surgery -- was planned to herald the dedication and opening of the Sydney M. Shoenberg Pavilion originally slated for May 16. The dedication had to be postponed due to a construction workers' strike. However, the Brown Group Dining Room and the Mr. and Mrs. Roswell Messing Jr. Courtyard were sufficiently completed to serve as cheerful dining and reception areas for both events which were held the week of May 13.

Now that construction work has resumed, the dedication ceremony will be held August 8 at the Hospital.

"Heparin, injected in small doses, can prevent the possible formation of blood clots during surgical procedures," reported Mr. V.V. Kakkar, M.D., Department of Surgery, King's College Hospital Medical School, London, at the first International Symposium on Heparin held May 13-15 hosted by Jewish Hospital.

Kakkar was one of 25 leading heparin clinicians and researchers who participated in the program from various centers in the United States, Canada and Europe.

For the past quarter century heparin has remained unchallenged as an effective agent in the prevention of thrombosis (excessive clotting of blood within the circulation), which contributes to the number one, three and four causes of death in the United States: acute heart attacks, strokes and kidney disease.

"If you consider that most heart attacks and most strokes are caused by thrombi (clots) either in the coronary vessels that supply the heart or the cerebral vessels which supply the brain, then the clot, in effect, is the leading cause of acute morbidity and probably of mortality in the United States," said Dr. Sol Sherry, chairman of the American Heart Association's Council on Thrombosis. Dr. Sherry was medical director at Jewish Hospital, then at Barnes Hospital before moving to his current position at Temple University.

A complication of a blood clot is an embolism which occurs when a piece of the clot breaks off and travels to the lungs, brain or kidney.

"Pulmonary embolism (a blood clot in the lung) is the most common non-surgical cause of death in patients undergoing major orthopedic procedures and is a major contributor to mortality in the large population of elderly individuals with chronic heart and lung disease," said Dr. Stanford Wessler, former physician-in-chief at Jewish Hospital and former John E. and Adaline Simon Professor of Medicine at Washington University School of Medicine.

Anyone undergoing surgery or confined to bed for any length of time risks clotting.

"Clotting is the second major cause of death in young women after childbirth with a three per cent incidence," said Kakkar. Surgeons, however, have hesitated to use heparin as a routine clot preventative because it also increases the risk of bleeding.

Now, however, a series of research publications in the Journal of Biological Chemistry, published by E.T. Yin, research associate professor of medicine, indicates that heparin in very small concentrations can accelerate the destruction of a very powerful blood enzyme by a plasma inhibitor, thereby preventing clot formation.

As a result of these test tube experiments, Kakkar decided to test the new hypothesis on his surgical patients, and he has now shown that small doses of heparin can prevent excessive postoperative deep vein thrombosis in surgical patients.

under Kakkar's direction, have demonstrated that small doses of heparin injected under the skin and absorbed slowly into the blood stream profoundly reduce the incidence of postoperative deep vein thrombosis in patients undergoing major surgery. These findings, therefore, confirm the test tube work reported by Yin and associates.

"Neither the exact chemical formula of this unique compound nor its precise modes of action in man are known in complete detail," explained Dr. Wessler. The physiological effect of heparin, how it acts, is known. "What we don't know is which part of the heparin molecule is doing the actual work of preventing clots," said Kakkar.

This is the task left to the scientists. Said Roger W. Jeanloz, Ph.D., of Harvard Medical School, Massachusetts General Hospital and the Laboratory for Carbohydrate Research, "Though heparin was discovered in 1915 and has been used clinically since 1938, no work was done on the structure of the drug until the 1940's.

"We're trying to relate the biological activity of heparin to the chemical structure. If we can determine the exact way in which heparin inhibits the formation or extension of blood clots, then we can perhaps find ways to get at other clot formations besides those in the large vessels. This work is being done in only three or four laboratories in the world."

Dr. Edward Atkins, of the H.H. Wills Physics Laboratory, University of Bristol, England, has crystallized heparin molecules and begun studying their structure, he reported to more than 100 in attendance at the Symposium.

The drug must be fully defined before a synthetic heparin can be developed, before the heparin molecule can be altered to become more effective against arterial clots and before an oral version can be made.

Further studies into heparin could lead to other uses. Women taking the birth control pill appear to run a higher risk of both arterial and venous blood clots, Sherry said, suggesting that doctors may eventually prescribe heparin or some other anticoagulant along with the pill in some cases.

In addition, heparin may also play a part in preventing atherosclerosis (hardening of the arteries).

"Thrombosis, induced by contact of the blood with foreign surfaces, moreover, is the major unsolved problem in the development of artificial organs for implantation within the heart and blood vessels. This problem, for example, is a main obstacle to advances in the development of an artificial heart," said Wessler.

Wessler and Ralph Bradshaw, Ph.D., biochemist at Washington University Medical School, were co-chairmen of the Symposium which was sponsored jointly by Jewish Hospital, Washington University Medical School, the National Heart and Lung Institute and the Council on Thrombosis of the American Heart Association.

"As a result of the interaction of these scholars from different disciplines, further results as well as further advances may emerge that might lead to the more effective use in man of heparin and related compounds," Wessler believes.

Said Sherry, "These discussions may ultimately provide for a simple and relatively safe mechanism for preventing most forms of thromboembolism occurring in the hospital."

Coffee for the Symposium participants was served in the Messing Courtyard.

At the opening of the Symposium are from left, James M. Stengle, M.D., National Institutes of Health; Samuel B. Guze, M.D., vice chancellor for medical affairs, Washington University; Lee M. Liberman, Hospital chairman of the board, Stanford Wessler, M.D., and Sol Sherry, M.D., Temple University and chairman of the Council on Thrombosis.
Continuing Education Course Attracts Private Physicians

On May 17 and 18, Jewish Hospital and Washington University School of Medicine jointly presented a two-day postgraduate course in continuing medical education held at the Hospital. This was a first for both in offering a course on new concepts in medicine and surgery designed specifically for the physician in private practice in the surrounding communities.

The two-day course was under the direction of Jerry R. Meyers, M.D. in conjunction with Dr. Arthur E. Baue, surgeon-in-chief and Edison Professor of Surgery at Washington University and Dr. Elmer Brown, dean of Continuing Education at Washington University. The course attracted a number of physicians from Missouri, Illinois and as far away as California and Florida.

Faculty members, from the Hospital’s Departments of Medicine and Surgery, covered a broad program of medical and surgical topics. The articles which follow, “Operating for Obesity” and “What’s New in Diabetes,” are but two of those covered in detail at the seminar.

The symposium also included presentations on cardiac disease, pulmonary disease, gastrointestinal diseases, hypertension, hematology, radiology and other important topics of common interest.

The course was acceptable for credit in Category 2 for the Physician’s Recognition Award of the American Medical Association and was also approved for 16 hours’ credit by the American Academy of General Practice. All participants received a certificate of credit for attendance.

This continuing education course in postgraduate medicine and surgery will become an annual event sponsored by the Jewish Hospital to provide an opportunity for physicians in surrounding communities to update their diagnostic and therapeutic techniques each year. It is anticipated that next year an even larger participation will warrant expansion of the program.

Participants in the continuing education course in medicine and surgery ate lunch in the new Brown Group, Inc. dining room adjacent to the Messing Courtyard.
A major function of the St. Louis Diabetes Association, which recently celebrated its 25th anniversary, is the detection of diabetes throughout the community.

These detection programs have been aided considerably by a Jewish Hospital physician, Dr. Norman Drey, who devised a new method for testing urine for sugar.

Sugar in liquid urine disappears quickly because it ferments. Dr. Drey found that the sugar in urine could be preserved if the fluid was allowed to dry on a piece of paper containing a preservative and thus invented the Dreypak, a home diabetes testing kit. The user saturates a piece of filter paper in urine, allows it to dry and mails it in to the Diabetes Association for testing to check for sugar in the urine.

Since 1950, about 20 million patients in the United States have used the Dreypak test kit for the detection of diabetes sponsored by the American Diabetes Association without charge. Of those tested, one per cent have been found to be diabetic after further blood sugar testing. Dreypaks can be obtained free from over 400 local pharmacies or the St. Louis Diabetes Association.

"Even though the St. Louis Diabetes Association is in its 25th year and insulin has been in use 52 years, problems of diabetic complications today are still a major concern of the diabetic and his physician," says Dr. Marvin Levin, past president of the St. Louis Diabetes Association.

"Diabetes is the leading cause of new blindness in the United States. Uremia is the second leading cause of death in juvenile onset diabetes and heart and blood vessel disease are extremely common complications of diabetes," Dr. Levin explains.

Speaking on "What's New in Diabetes" at a continuing education course on Current Concepts in the Practice of Medicine and Surgery -- '74 held at Jewish Hospital in May, Dr. Levin mentioned some new therapy in diabetes now under investigation.

"The most exciting new approach to diabetes therapy," says Dr. Levin, "is islet cell transplantation."

To date, this is a laboratory technique carried out in rats and monkeys. The technique consists of transplantation of the islet cells of the pancreas (the cells which produce insulin) into an animal previously made diabetic.

This research is being carried out in several areas of the country, a leading one of which is Washington University.

"It is hoped that the replacement of insulin-producing tissue into the diabetic not only will do away with the need for insulin injection, but will also prevent diabetic complications by providing a constant and normal source of insulin," says Levin.

"This is still in the experimental stage and we are uncertain as to how long it will be before it is ready to be used for humans," Levin notes.

The same problems involved in any transplantation, kidney or heart, hold true for islet cell transplantation, especially tissue rejection problems.

To avoid problems of tissue transplantation and rejection, a group in Boston is working on a mechanical pancreas. This device consists of a very sensitive blood sugar sensor which continuously measures blood sugar and transmits this information to a computer which automatically calculates the amount of insulin to be injected from the insulin pump.

"Until these techniques become perfected," Levin points out, "we are still faced with treating diabetic complications."
Operating for Obesity

The following article was written by Rochonne Abrams, medical writer, for United Press International.

The use of intestinal bypass operations for obesity has increased greatly even though weight loss is "unpredictable," according to Leo Sachar, M.D., assistant professor of surgery at Washington University School of Medicine and president of the Medical Staff Association at Jewish Hospital.

Speaking at a continuing education conference sponsored by Jewish Hospital, Dr. Sachar said, "Fifteen to 20 pounds are usually lost quickly, but then the weight goes down in an unpredictable manner. The heavier the patient, the more rapid the weight loss seems to be. After 12 to 18 months the weight tends to level off. It is rare to get down to normal, as one would find it on height-weight tables. Usually, most patients remain 20 per cent overweight."

The operation is not very difficult itself, Dr. Sachar said, and most patients do well postoperatively. However, in a review of 912 cases reported in the literature, the mortality rate was five per cent. When advised of this, patients frequently answer, "I'd rather be dead than like this."

Dr. Sachar said the procedure should not be done for cosmetic reasons. The patient being operated on for obesity should be at least 100 pounds overweight for five years duration; should have a history of failure with the efforts of diets, doctors, and psychiatrists; have no glandular disorder or other diseases, especially alcoholism; and must want to cooperate in preoperative counseling and postoperative observation.

The operation, now widely used, consists of altering the small intestine so that only 18 to 20 inches is utilized for absorption.

Diarrhea, a constant postoperative problem, usually subsides, but there are other complications that may occur: weakness due to small amounts of potassium loss, and vitamin deficiency. These can be corrected. Many patients complain of continuing flatulence, that is, discomfort from excess gas.

"The most feared complication is hepatic (liver) failure which may be fatal, but which is unusual after the first postoperative year." The formation of renal stones is another complication. There are theoretical reasons for believing that the incidence of gallstones and osteoporosis (reduction in the quantity of bone) may be increased by this operation.

Dr. Sachar said that he believes that most patients who have had the operation are pleased by it, because cases are usually referred by other patients rather than by doctors.

Japanese Physicians Visit Hospital Blood Bank

Seven directors of blood transfusion services who represented the six largest cities in Japan chose to visit the Jewish Hospital Blood Bank over any other similar facility in the country on their recent visit to the United States.

The group, who were interested primarily in the current status of hepatitis testing, attended a hepatitis workshop in Waukegan, Illinois, after which they toured four facilities in the United States which use the most modern methods for hepatitis testing. Jewish Hospital was a pioneer in the regular use of hepatitis testing.

Dr. Morton Levy, director of the Hospital's Blood Bank, conducted the tour of our facilities for the distinguished professors who included the associate director of the Japanese

Associates Give Portable Kidney Machine

This year, the Associates of Jewish Hospital scheduled no major program meetings so they could use a substantial portion of the annual membership dues for a gift for the Hospital.

At the group's sixth annual dinner meeting May 7 at the Clayton Inn Center, Debesh Mazumdar, M.D., co-director of the Renal Hemodialysis Unit, accepted a check to purchase a REDY portable dialysis machine, which can be set up quickly for use in the medical or surgical intensive care units.

In other business, M. Norman Orgel, M.D., was installed as president of the Associates. Other officers include David Pasternak, vice president; Sidney Jick, M.D., vice president; Mrs. Lester Seasongood, secretary and Richard Glassman, treasurer.

Nominated to the board of directors, class of 1977, are Mrs. Robert Cohen, Richard Glassman, Jerry Kaiser, Marc A. Seldin, Mrs. Philip Trembot and James L. Watel.

Senator Thomas F. Eagleton was the featured guest speaker. After thanking Jewish Hospital for his 68th chicken dinner of the year, Senator Eagleton spoke briefly on the quality of health care, the need for making medical education more available to more qualified students and the need for better distribution of our doctors. At the question and answer session which followed, Eagleton covered topics ranging from paramedics to politics.
A Tribute to Dr. Carl Heifetz

In a reception/ceremony at the Hospital June 18, a picture of Dr. Carl J. Heifetz was permanently placed in the Department of Surgery offices to mark Dr. Heifetz’s term as chief of surgery from 1952 to 1954.

During the ceremony Dr. Arthur E. Baue, surgeon-in-chief, also announced that the library of the Department of Surgery would be dedicated in memory of Dr. Heifetz “for his first love was for young people who were interested in learning surgery and he dedicated himself to them unstintingly.”

The Carl J. Heifetz, M.D. Memorial Library will be on the third floor in the new Department of Surgery suite in the Shoenberg Pavilion. All tributes made to the Heifetz endowment fund will be used to purchase educational materials for the library.

In addition, Dr. Ronald Gaskin presented Mrs. Heifetz with a gift on behalf of the surgery house staff.

Carl Heifetz died October 31, 1973. His untimely death came during an active, full, productive surgical life and career. He received his M.D. degree from Washington University and served his internship and residency in surgery at Jewish Hospital from 1929 to 1934. He was appointed to the Washington University faculty in 1939.

His entire career was devoted to surgery and he quickly became recognized as an excellent clinical and technical surgeon. Early in his career Dr. Heifetz contributed to an understanding of the clinical significance of the diastase determination in pancreatitis. He continued to document his experiences and results and to develop better approaches to surgical problems, producing more than thirty publications in surgical literature.

Many of his contributions were made in collaboration with young members of the staff or residents which served to introduce them to clinical studies.

In 1953 Dr. Heifetz was named director of the division of surgical services at Jewish Hospital, but he recognized the need for a chief of surgery who could devote his entire time to work within the Hospital. He was therefore instrumental in instituting a full-time Department of Surgery at the Hospital and stepped aside to support the first full-time faculty member of Washington University to serve as director of the Department.

Dr. Heifetz’s Saturday morning rounds at the Jewish Hospital were a highlight for the house staff and medical students and he never hesitated to limit the obligations of his practice to fulfill a teaching commitment.

“Esther and Carl Heifetz opened their home to students, interns and residents and supported and encouraged many who are now accomplished surgeons throughout the country.

“Carl was a gifted teacher and a courteous and compassionate doctor. We have lost a friend and a great teacher of surgeons,” said Dr. Baue.

Language Barrier an Obstacle

Push, breathe deeply or relax in any other language does not mean the same thing. To someone having a baby who doesn’t speak English, this can be a most frustrating situation.

Mrs. Isabel Pedraza was admitted to the Hospital to have her baby. She does not, however, speak English and could not understand anything said to her. Although her husband, Leovigildo, knows some English, he could not sufficiently understand to translate what the doctors wanted to tell his wife.

An all-out search for a Spanish-speaking translator turned up a Mexican gentleman, checking his wife out of the Hospital, who volunteered to speak with Mrs. Pedraza. Finally, a doctor who speaks Spanish was located and everyone breathed easier.

As a result, the birth of Mary Isabel Pedraza proceeded smoothly.

In an effort to avoid this type of incident in the future, we are compiling a list of friends who would be willing to translate by phone for a patient unable to understand English. If you speak another language and are interested in volunteering in this capacity, please call the Patient Relations office at extension 3017 and leave your name and number.

Through the years Jewish Hospital has indeed been fortunate to have long-time employes who serve the Hospital and the community by performing their varied duties with dedication, competency and professionalism.

This year, 172 of these employes were honored for five, ten, 15, 20, 25 and 30 years of service to the Hospital at the Annual Service Awards Reception April 16.

In addition, the Meritorious Service Award, the highest honor an employe can receive, was presented to three people who through extraordinary service have brought credit to the institution -- Ernestine Scott, chief Food Service supervisor, Eloise DeLap, R.N., School of Nursing faculty, and Brenda Ernst, R.N., director of Nursing Service.

In presenting these awards, David A. Gee, Hospital president, commended Mrs. Scott for her service to the community and the medical staff far beyond the call of duty. He cited Miss DeLap as representing the spirit of the nursing department, and praised Mrs. Ernst for her effective leadership of the Hospital's largest department.

The Meritorious Service Award, which was initiated in 1970, is based on an employe's interpersonal relationships with patients, the community and fellow employes as well as technical competency. The award itself is a medallion bearing the Hospital logo with the recipient's name on the reverse side which may be worn at official Hospital functions and at the Annual Service Awards Reception.

Miss Lavera Ryder, director of Nursing Education, was the single employe honored for 30 years of service.

Twenty-five year awardees were Miss Jessie Adams, Miss Margaret Coleman and Mrs. Eileen Gianino.

Employees honored for 20 years numbered ten; 17 were recognized for 15 years; 29 were honored for ten years, and 112 were cited for five years of continuous service.

As mistress of ceremonies Mrs. Mabel Howell, associate executive director, called the honorees up to receive their awards presented by David Gee.

The Shalom Singers of the School of Nursing began the ceremonies and entertained at intervals throughout the program. Members of the 20 Plus Club served as hosts and hostesses.

A gala reception followed the awards program with a super spread of delectables prepared by the Food Services Department.
Ten Celebrate 20th Year with Jewish Hospital

Once again, the 20 Plus Club gathered for their annual get-together and initiation of new members into the select group which now totals 43. The one qualification for membership is that an employee be associated with Jewish Hospital for 20 years.

The purpose? To recognize and honor these long-time employees. Approximately 35 members and administration representatives turned out for an evening Jewish Hospital style -- a lively reception and delightful dinner all mixed with a bit of nostalgia. The Zodiac Room atop the Chase Park Plaza Hotel was the scene of the 1974 20 Plus Club banquet activities.

After dinner and appropriate commentary by David A. Gee, president and charter member of the 20 Plus Club, Gee presented certificates to ten new members.

For outstanding as well as long records of service, congratulations to the new initiates: Estelle Miller, reservationist, Admitting; Thelma Triplett, assistant director, Housekeeping; Ruth Keel, R.N., Nursing Administration; Sarah Crenshaw, housekeeping aide, nurses' residence, Housekeeping; Betty Dodd, R.N., Operating Room staff nurse; Annie L. Williams, nurse aide, Nursing Obstetrics; Luella Brown, LPN, Radiology.

Alex C. Sonnenwirth, Ph.D., director, Division of Microbiology; Rosalie Boyd, supervisor technician, Clinical Labs, and Dr. Franz U. Steinberg, director, Department of Rehabilitation Medicine.

All members received new Hospital identification badges with their names and 20, Twenty Plus Club imprinted in gold.
Medical Staff, Board Dinners Honor Dr. Stanford Wessler

A large group of friends and colleagues turned out for the honorial dinner given by the Medical Staff Association for Dr. Stanford Wessler who has announced his resignation as director of the Department of Medicine.

Dr. Wessler has accepted the position of Associate Dean of Post Graduate Education and Professor of Medicine at New York University School of Medicine. For the past ten years he has served as Physician-in-Chief at Jewish Hospital and John E. and Adaline Simon Professor of Medicine at Washington University School of Medicine.

As a token of appreciation and esteem, the medical staff presented Dr. Wessler with an inscribed Kundo pendulum electric clock at the dinner June 4 at Le Chateau.

The Hospital Board of Directors as well honored Dr. Wessler at a dinner June 6 in the Hospital's new Brown Group dining room. In lieu of a personal gift to him, the board announced the establishment of an endowment fund within the Department of Medicine to be known as the Stanford Wessler, M.D. Endowment Fund for Medical Research and Education which will be available to the Physician-in-Chief. Anyone wishing to contribute to the Wessler Fund may do so through the Hospital's Tribute Fund.

15 R.N.'s Complete Practitioner Course

Fifteen Jewish Hospital R.N.'s recently completed a ten-week course preparing them as Nurse Practitioners. The course included studies on recent trends in nursing practice, laws and theories and intensive training in physical assessment skills. As a result of this training, these nurses are now qualified to perform complete history and physical exams on patients.

Mrs. Theresa Stillman, president of the Ben A'Kiba Aid Society, presents a check for approximately $1,000 to Jason Blake, associate executive director at Jewish Hospital, at the Ben A'Kiba annual donor luncheon. These funds, designated for the recreational therapy program of the Department of Rehabilitation Medicine, will enable the Hospital to provide games, refreshments, out-trips, in-hospital movies and other recreational activities for long-term therapy patients. The recreational therapy program is operated entirely through donations.

Dr. J.I. Simon Ends 41-Year Practice

Wednesday, June 5, friends and colleagues of Dr. Jerome I. Simon attended a reception in recognition of his retirement after a 41-year association with Jewish Hospital. At the reception, given by the Department of Surgery, Dr. Arthur E. Baue, surgeon-in-chief, presented Dr. Simon with a certificate in recognition of his many contributions to the Hospital and the community.

Dr. Simon has served as president of the St. Louis Medical Society and the St. Louis Surgical Society and in 1973 was awarded an Honor Membership by the Medical Society.
Probstein Chapel Announced

When Mrs. Louise Monheimer Aronberg initiated her plan to name the new chapel in honor of Dr. Jacob G. Probstein, it was supposed to be a secret.

And it would’ve been had it not been for a chance meeting between Dr. Probstein and a well-wisher who, upon seeing Dr. Probstein, told him how delighted she was to hear the new chapel was being named in his honor!

That didn’t spoil the surprise, however, because Dr. Probstein didn’t know long-time family friend Mrs. Aronberg had instigated the fund-raising effort, nor did he know that he would be paid tribute at the announcement ceremony held in the Hospital’s chapel Friday evening April 5.

Neither did he know that most of the St. Louis Blues hockey team (he’s team physician) would turn out for the occasion and present him with a scroll from the team members who also contributed to the chapel fund. And, of course, he couldn’t have known about the standing room only crowd who would be in attendance to pay him tribute.

Rabbi Lawrence Siegel, community chaplain, presided. Lee M. Liberman, chairman of the board, accepted the gifts and praised Dr. Probstein for his many devoted years of service to the Hospital and the community. Mrs. Aronberg also presented Dr. Probstein with a scroll of the names of initial contributors who wanted to make the Jacob G. Probstein Chapel a reality.

Six Graduate Technician Course

May 16 was graduation day for six Jewish Hospital employees who completed two courses at Forest Park Community College to help them prepare for management positions in the Hospital's Department of Materials.

Robert Breitenfeld, Bryan Scott Horton, Carolyn Noah, Henry Stearns and Leola Townsend received six community college credits for the 32-week Central Service Technician course. Sylvia Adams was the first Jewish Hospital employee to graduate the Central Service Supervisor Management course.

Carolyn Noah was awarded the Michael Lenn Wright Memorial Scholarship as the second highest ranking student in the class. The scholarship will pay her tuition for the Central Service Supervisor Management course which was initiated this year as a follow-up course.

Nadean E. Wright, R.N., course instructor and director of the Hospital's Department of Materials, established the Central Service Technician program at Jewish Hospital in 1969. In 1972, she transferred the course to Forest Park Community College. It is one of three such programs offered throughout the country.

This year, Mrs. Wright started the Central Service Supervisor Management course, a new program to train supervisors and assistant supervisors to perform management functions. The 32-week course will serve as a stepping stone to higher management positions for those who have completed it.

Potpourri

The Jewish Hospital School of Nursing class of 1964 will celebrate the 10th anniversary of its graduation with a dinner-dance July 27 at Luigi's West. Of the 56 graduates, approximately 40 will attend.

Bo Axelrod, director of Food Services, was the guest winner in the St. Louis Medical Association Golf Tournament May 15 at Crystal Lake with a low gross score of 73.

David Gee, Hospital president, has been invited to serve on the Community Services Planning Committee of the Jewish Federation of St. Louis.

In her capacity as director of Volunteer Services at the Hospital, Mrs. Elaine Levinsohn coordinates and supervises the volunteer program to augment the services of the regular Hospital staff. She also serves as liaison between the Auxiliary and the staff in the volunteer program. Her responsibilities include recruitment, orientation and assignment of all volunteers. Approximately 500 volunteers are presently assigned to 40 areas throughout the Hospital.

In September, Woody Fields will join the Hospital as the 1974-75 Administrative Resident. This nine-month residency constitutes the field exercise experience he will need to complete his masters degree in Health Care Administration from Washington University.

Fields, a native of Louisville, Kentucky, received his B.A. degree from the University of Kentucky.

Recently, the Jewish Hospital Ostomy program has been extended to help other hospitals in the area by allowing their nurses to observe our operation. Nurses from St Joseph Hospital in St. Charles, Jefferson Memorial in Festus, and Normandy Osteopathic South have watched Mrs. Elnore Sturm, enterostomal therapist administer care to ostomates here.

This is a forerunner for future plans to have nursing personnel spend a week at Jewish Hospital in the Ostomy program. The program will be headed by Elsie Null, R.N., E.T., and Mrs. Sturm, LPN, E.T., under the direction of Dr. Thomas Covey and Dr. Ira Kodner.

Mrs. Judith Jacobs, R.N., medical-surgical instructor in the Operating Room, has been installed as president of the St. Louis chapter of the Association of Operating Room Nurses. In May, Mrs. Jacobs spoke at the Greater Belleville AORN workshop on Operating Room Orientation.
Mrs. Sarah Potashnick, outgoing president of the Noshim Rachmonioth Mothers' and Babies' Welfare Society, presents a $1,500 check to Dr. Robert Burstein, co-director of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, at the group's annual donor luncheon. At left is Mrs. Hyman Dobinsky, incoming president. The check will go into the Frances B. Israel Obstetrical Research Fund at the Hospital. The N.R. Society also presented a $2,000 check to Mrs. Barbara Janes, director of Community Relations and Development, as part of the organization's $10,000 pledge to the Hospital's Expansion Fund to construct a High Risk Obstetrical Unit in the renovated delivery room area.

Teen Aider Orientation

Teens Begin Volunteer Work

If the Hospital seems a little more crowded and busier than usual, it's probably because it's Teen Aider time again as teens begin another summer internship in volunteer service.

The teenage volunteer program is but one of many volunteer groups covered under the Hospital's Volunteer Services program.

The youth volunteer corps, however, is somewhat different from other volunteer groups. Not only are they interested in helping out, but many have an eye to the future and possible careers in some phase of the medical world.

Applicants for the program must be 14 years of age, 15 to volunteer on nursing floors. The only other requirement is that they put in 50 hours of volunteer work for the summer for which they receive pins. This summer, Teen Aiders fill posts in admitting, the clinics, the Clover Garden, the Coffee Shop, the mailroom, central supply, the emergency room, labs, in-service nursing, research, the pharmacy, radiology and the Tribute Fund office.

For many of these teens this apprenticeship provides the initial experience for what may someday become their chosen professions. But it's mutually beneficial -- they're providing a vital service to the Hospital and the community.

Shalom Program to be Featured

The Shalom Volunteer Program has been selected as one of two case studies of hospital activities to be featured at a symposium conducted at the annual meeting of the American Health Congress in August.

The Jewish Hospital Auxiliary has been invited to send a representative to interpret the Shalom program in a panel discussion which will deal with the effects of culture on hospitalized patients and the methods hospitals can use to meet the cultural needs of patients.

Flower Design Course Offered

A Flower Designer's course will be conducted through the Clover Garden of the Jewish Hospital Auxiliary beginning around the first of October. The classes will be held from noon till 3 p.m. for six consecutive Saturdays at the Hospital.

Those who take the course must pledge at least six months of volunteer service at the Hospital's Clover Garden.

For further information call the Auxiliary Office, 367-8060, extension 3047.

Friday, July 5, Jewish Hospital was saluted throughout the day on radio station KMOX/FM. The station broadcasts these "salutes" to various businesses and organizations as part of its community involvement program.
Auxiliary Stages ‘Our New Look’

“Our New Look” gave everyone a good look into the making of a successful Auxiliary as approximately 300 members and guests met for the Jewish Hospital Auxiliary annual spring meeting April 17 at Temple Israel.

“Our New Look” was an apropos theme for the offerings of the afternoon -- new officers, a new look at the soon-to-be opened Gift Gallery and Clover Garden and news about new looks from plastic surgeon Dr. Joseph Eades, who spoke on “Body Image, Cosmetic Surgery and Self-Worth.”

Volunteers modeled new items from the Gift Gallery during lunch which was followed by the installation of new officers. Mrs. Warner Isaacs was officially installed as new Auxiliary president. Other new officers sworn in were Mrs. Arthur Bierman, vice president, membership services; Mrs. Donald Dickler, vice president, volunteer services; Mrs. Paul Putzel, treasurer; Mrs. Jerome Loeb, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Henry Stern Jr., corresponding secretary; Mrs. Claude Abrams, assistant corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lawton Levy Jr., recording secretary, and Mrs. John Isaacs III, assistant recording secretary.

Staff Nurse Picnic

Fortunately, Wednesday, June 19 was a perfect day for a picnic and the annual staff nurse get-together proceeded as scheduled. The picnic was sponsored by the Auxiliary and held at the home of Mrs. Stanley Cohen, chairman of the board of directors' committee on nursing. It’s their way of thanking the nursing staff and faculty for the outstanding jobs they do and for their valuable contributions to the Hospital and the community. Since pictures are worth more than all the words we could say, we present some of the highlights of the day.
New Funds, Gifts

Schwartz Contribution
Lee M. Liberman, chairman of the Hospital, has announced a gift of $25,000 from Mrs. Harry Schwartz of St. Louis and Miami. Mrs. Schwartz made the gift to the Building Fund as a tribute to her husband who died in March, 1970.

“We are deeply indebted to Vicki Schwartz for her thoughtfulness and generosity in making this magnificent gift to the Hospital,” Liberman said.

Bronze plaques will be installed on three patient rooms in recognition of Mrs. Schwartz’s gift. Her name will be included in the listing of the Major Benefactors on the Master Plaque which is located in the main entrance of the Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Schwartz were residents of Wood River, Illinois, where they operated a prominent furniture business. In 1963, they retired and moved to Miami Beach where Mrs. Schwartz still makes her home six months of the year. Prior to his death, Mr. Schwartz was active in the Shriners and a long-standing member of Shaare Emeth Temple. Mrs. Schwartz has continued her membership in Shaare Emeth Temple and is also active as a life member of Hadassah and Mizrachi Women of Miami Beach. She is also a member of the Jewish Hospital Auxiliary, the National Council of Jewish Women and B’nai Brith Women.

Gaylord Foundation

Eastern Star Donation
The Sun Ray Chapter Number 426, Order of the Eastern Star has donated $500 to purchase an IVAC 500 Unit for the Department of OB/GYN. Feldman Endowment Fund
Jewish Hospital has received a major research endowment gift from Rueckert Meat Company. The gift, made in honor of the former president of Rueckert Meat, Marcus A. Feldman, has been designated for cancer research. Mr. Liberman expressed his appreciation on behalf of the Board of Directors for the magnificent generosity of the officers of the company in recognizing the scope and importance of the research programs carried out by the Hospital.

“Endowment funds are extremely vital in supplementing grants received from government and local agencies for conducting clinical programs which can directly benefit patients,” Liberman said.

At present, the income from the endowment will be used to partially support the cancer immunotherapy program which is under the direction of Dr. Ralph Graff.

The gift, which is designated as the Marcus A. Feldman Endowment Fund, will be further recognized on the Major Benefactor Plaque as Marcus A. and Sadie Z. Feldman.

General American Life Gift
In memory of Frederic M. Peirce, the General American Life Insurance Company has made a gift to the Hospital to purchase research equipment for the Pulmonary Division, which is headed by Dr. Robert Senior.
