Renard Hospital Volunteers line up for their picture in the Activity Therapy Department of Renard. The occasion was the first anniversary of the group (Thursday, March 6) at which time the administration of the hospital and the department honored them with a one-candle birthday party attended by patients and their visitors. After an entertainment program offered by the patients, everyone present was served coffee and cake by the Volunteers.
HOLIDAY POLICY REVISED

On January 1, 1958, the following Holiday Policy became effective for the employees of Barnes and affiliated hospitals:

Barnes and allied hospitals and the Washington University Clinics observe the following six holidays each year:

- New Year’s Day
- Memorial Day
- Independence Day
- Labor Day
- Thanksgiving Day
- Christmas Day

When a holiday falls on Sunday, the following Monday is observed as a holiday. Because of the need for coverage, our employees are expected to work at least two out of the above six holidays each year. At times it may be necessary to work more than two.

All personnel who receive two week’s annual vacation or less are to receive a compensating day off, or an additional day’s pay, for each holiday worked. Such time off is to be at the discretion of the department head. Similarly, for employees who receive two weeks’ vacation or less, an additional day off will be granted if a holiday happens to fall within their vacation period.

W. U. CLINICS ISSUES ANNUAL REPORT

The 1957 annual report of the Washington University Clinics, recently distributed, reveals the tremendous out-patient load carried by this facility. The Clinics have through the years developed an organization which offers a well rounded clinic program in all phases of medicine. The following statistics are given for 1957:

- Total patient visits: 223,300
- Patient-doctor visits: 132,266
- Auxiliary visits: 57,921
- Screening visits: 26,425
- New patients: 10,921
- Daily average patients: 770
- Minor surgical procedures: 924
- Laboratory determinations: 111,139
- Prescriptions filled: 63,450

The Washington University Clinics serve society daily in a two-fold manner: offering expert medical care to the indigent population with charges based on the individual’s ability to pay, and keeping patients active members of society so they are neither a financial burden to their families nor the community. The Clinics continue to be an invaluable investment in the present health of the community as well as an investment in the future through medical education.
Dr. H. Relton McCarroll was installed as president of the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons at their 25th annual meeting held in New York's Waldorf-Astoria Hotel February 1-6. Dr. McCarroll succeeds Dr. Frederic C. Bost.

MEMO FROM PERSONNEL

Telephone calls are flowing into the Personnel Office by the score. Why this mad rush and confusion? It's all because employees who went off staff in 1957 failed to notify us of their address change. Now it seems that many of them are in a big rush to file their income tax returns--and rightly so, as the deadline is less than a month away and they have not received their W-2. These W-2 forms were sent to the last address on our records, and when they are returned as unclaimed they are held until we are notified of the correct address.

To avoid this problem next year, we urge you to notify us of any change which should be on your record. Otherwise, you will be trying to hunt down your W-2 this time next year should you go off staff before then. In case you are one of the busy people who do not have time to drop by the Personnel Office, we would welcome a telephone call. Our station is 617.

HELEN LAMARR PEARSON, Dietary, returned February 28 and is working part-time in McMillan. DELORES WAGNER, Nurse Assistant in the Delivery Room who resigned last October to have her baby, returned March 3. IRMA JEAN CLARK, Nurse Assistant in Maternity, resumed her former duties on February 17. ADAH IRENE WILCUT, who resigned to have her baby two years ago, returned on March 5 and is working evenings in Barnes. FRED PERKINS, former Wall Washer in Barnes, returned on March 12 and is now working in Wohl. Welcome Back!
Every life needs certain supports to uphold it. We know what some of these are and we make daily use of them. The body calls for help to sustain it, so we eat the food that has been provided for that purpose. The mind calls out for relief from the demands upon it, so we follow a schedule that gives a place to rest and relaxation. The elements demand that we protect ourselves from the storms of life, so we seek shelter. Any one of us could extend this list far beyond these simple supports.

We need to be familiar with supports that will serve us when the going gets hard, for most of us reach those points when we have need of such. It is not going too far to say that we need to build in such a way that we can outwit some of the conditions that are produced by the world about us. The architects of buildings do this in many ways, and we might well follow the examples that they give. Frank Lloyd Wright, the great architect, designed the Imperial Hotel in Tokyo so as to withstand earthquakes, for that was the element that building had to try to outwit in that place. The weight of the walls was not carried by the outside walls, but by center supports. The supports balanced the floors in somewhat the same way that a skilled waiter's fingers balance a tray. It was a scheme to outwit rather than defy the earthquakes that might come. The upheaval of 1923 rocked the structure, but it said that it settled back into position without damage.

The supports of life are not designed to scale on a drawing board. They are to be learned through our own experiences and the treasured teachings of a rich heritage.

Mrs. John (Mamie) Gruber recently completed twelve years of voluntary service in Barnes and affiliated hospitals, during which time she has contributed over 10,000 hours.

Mrs. Gruber became interested in volunteer work during World War II, and began working at Barnes as a practical nurse. During the war she also donated a portion of her time to St. John’s Hospital. Mrs.
Gruber easily adapted to hospital routine, since she had previously been enrolled in nurses training. A back injury resulting from an accident prohibited her from completing her training.

On March 7, 1950, Mrs. Gruber brought the first 38 Red Cross Gray Ladies to Barnes.
She was chairman of the Gray Ladies for seven years, and for the past year has been director of the Renard Hospital Volunteers.

Mrs. Gruber says she was apprehensive at first about working in Renard, but has found it enjoyable and rewarding. Our thanks to Mrs. Gruber for her self-sacrifice and a job well done!

SUPERVISORS’ PRAYER

Dear Lord, help me to become the kind of supervisor my management would like me to be. Give me the mysterious “something” which will enable me at all times satisfactorily to explain policies, rules, regulations, and procedures to my workers even though they have never been explained to me!

Help me to teach, guide, and train the uninterested, dim-witted, stubborn, and reluctant without ever losing my patience or my temper! Give me that ineffable love for my fellowmen which surpasseth all understanding so that I may lead the recalcitrant, obstinate, no-good worker into the paths of righteousness by my own example and my soft persuading remonstrance instead of busting the slob on the nose.

Teach me to smile if it kills me. Make me a better leader by helping develop larger and greater qualities of understanding, tolerance, sympathy, wisdom, perspective, equanimity, mind-reading, and second sight. And when, dear Lord, Thou hast helped me to achieve the high pinnacle management has prescribed for me, and when I shall have become the paragon of all supervisory virtues in this mortal world—dear Lord, move over!
