

Washington University School of Medicine

Digital Commons@Becker

Washington University Record

Washington University Publications

10-4-1979

Washington University Record, October 4, 1979

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.wustl.edu/record>

Recommended Citation

Washington University Record, October 4, 1979. Bernard Becker Medical Library Archives.
<https://digitalcommons.wustl.edu/record/146>.

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Washington University Publications at Digital Commons@Becker. It has been accepted for inclusion in Washington University Record by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons@Becker. For more information, please contact vanam@wustl.edu.

October 4, 1979

W.U. RECORD

Campus Areas Called Historic; Entered on National Register

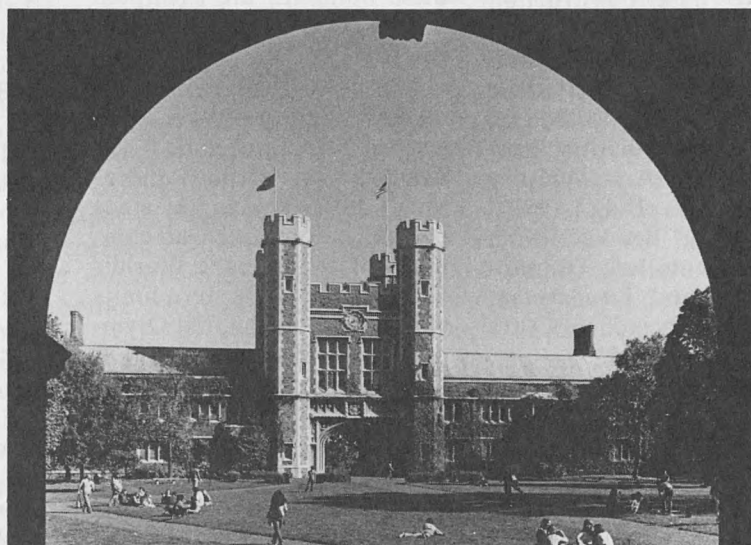

Twenty buildings of Collegiate Gothic style, the landscaped open spaces linking them, and one structure, the Francis Field Gateway, have been designated collectively as the WU Hilltop Campus Historic District and entered on the National Register of Historic Places.

Fred A. Lafser, MS in civil engineering '73, director of the Department of Natural Resources and State Historic Preservation Officer, informed WU administrators that this specific Hilltop District has been named to the National Register of Historic Places for four significant reasons. These are: "The stylistic unity of its architecture, its associations with the Louisiana Purchase Exposition (the St. Louis World's Fair) of 1904; the third Olympiad, also held in 1904; and for the many distinguished individuals associated with WU."

Nine of the buildings in the Historic District were completed by 1903 and leased by

continued on p. 2

Brookings Hall, as seen from the graceful arch of Ridgley Hall, is one of 20 WU buildings which have been entered on the National Register of Historic Places.

Alumni and Faculty to Be Honored at Gala Founders Day Banquet

Six WU alumni and four faculty members will be honored at the WU Founders Day Banquet Saturday, Oct. 13, at Stouffer's Riverfront Towers. The affair is sponsored by the WU Alumni Board of Governors.

Citations will be presented after the main address by Morley Safer, co-editor of the CBS news magazine 60 Minutes.

The banquet will begin with cocktails at 6:30 p.m. Dinner will be at 7:30 p.m. James R. Bridwell, chairperson of the Alumni Board of Governors, and WU Chancellor William H. Danforth will preside over the program.

Alumni receiving citations for professional achievement and service to the University are:

Patricia DuBose Duncan (BFA '54), artist, photographer, naturalist, author and teacher. A collection of her photographs, "The Tallgrass Prairie: An American Landscape," has toured the country since 1976 as a major Smithsonian Institution exhibit. Among her recent commissions are photo-murals for the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Kansas City and the Emporia Public Library (Ks.).

Carol Tucker Foreman (BA '60), U.S. Assistant Secretary of Agriculture for Food and Consumer Service and member of the Board of Commodity Credit Corporation. Foreman has also served with national consumer organizations, several federal departments and as a Congressional aide.

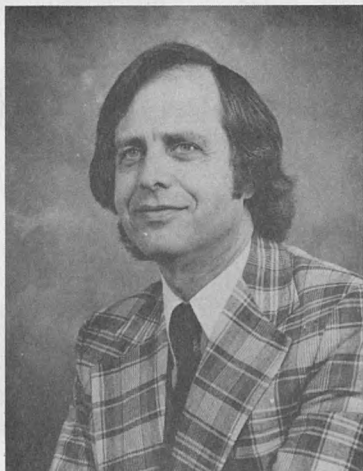

Tilford C. Gaines (BSBA, MA '48), senior vice-president and chief economist of Manufacturers Hanover Trust since 1967. An author and frequent legislative witness, Gaines has also held executive positions with the First National Bank of Chicago and the Federal Reserve Bank.

John Joseph Kelly, Jr. (JD '47), a judge of the Missouri Court of Appeals, Eastern District, since 1972. Kelly has

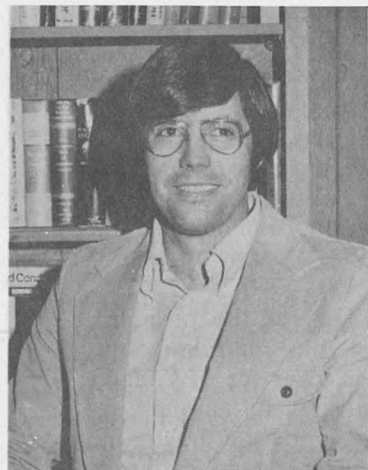

continued on p. 3

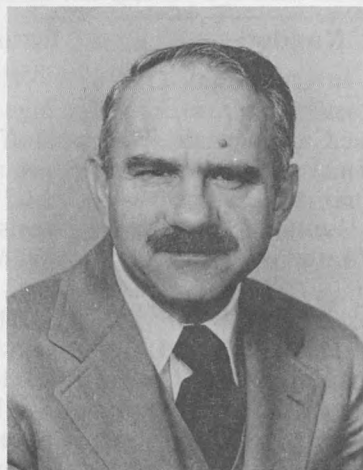

John W. Bowyer Jr.

Richard W. Brand

Wayne D. Fields

Theodore V. Galambos

Historic—

continued from p. 1

the organizers of the 1904 World's Fair. These are: Brookings, Cupples I, Cupples II, Liggett (now known as Prince), Ridgley, Lee (first known as Tower Hall, now called Umrath), Francis Gymnasium, and Eads.

The 11 other buildings which comprise the District, with the date construction began, are: McMillan, 1906; Graham Chapel, 1907; January, 1922; Wilson, 1923; Duncker, 1923; Rebstock, 1926; Women's Building (now known as the Ann Whitney Olin Women's Bldg.), 1927; Crow, 1933; Brown, 1935; Sever Institute of Technology, 1948; and Louderman, 1951. The Francis Field Gates were erected in 1941.

The buildings in the District were designed over a 50-year period. Each of them is constructed of red granite from Graniteville, Mo., with moldings and decorative features of limestone from Bedford, Ind.

In preparing the official nomination form, St. Louis County consultant Esley Hamilton pointed out that only two WU non-Collegiate Gothic buildings, Olin Library, designed by Murphy and Mackey, and the Beaumont Pavilion, by Bernoudy, Mutrux and Bauer, are within the District boundaries. Said Hamilton: "These may be deemed as intrusions because of their recent style, although it should be noted that both buildings make use of red Missouri granite laid according to the original standards, and both were intended by their architects to be as compatible with their surroundings while utilizing a non-historic design idiom."

The term "intrusions," according to Willem Davis Van Bakergem, assistant director of WU's Urban Research and Design Center, means that these buildings are exempted from listing on the National Register.

The original nine buildings together with the Power Plant and a structure called the Cupples Engineering Laboratory (1901), which has since been torn down, were all completed in time for the World's Fair. At the far western limits of the campus, the first Olympic games held in the U.S. took place at what is now called Francis Field and its adjoining gymnasium. The Francis Field Gateway, now a landmark, commemorates the many records established at those "summer Olympics."

No less influential and equally crucial in persuading the U.S. Department of Interior to list the WU Hilltop Campus Historic District on the National Register was the impressive roster of individuals associated with the University who were cited in the official nominating report. The 14 Nobel Laureates who did their prize-winning work here or spent some of their career at the University were lauded.

—Dorothy A. Brockhoff

TV Workshop Tapes WU Research; Bats Are Featured in Cameo Roles

When a New York film crew set up video equipment recently in the bat laboratory of James A. Simmons, WU adjunct professor of biology and professor of psychology, inevitable wisecracks about a new Dracula movie flew throughout Eads Hall.

Actually, the seven-man crew was from the Children's Television Workshop which is producing a new science series for children. Scheduled to air in January on the Public Broadcasting System network, the series will be a daily show called "3-2-1-Contact." The series is being funded by the National Science Foundation, the United Technologies Corp. and the U.S. Office of Education.

Bats and their unique sonar navigation, under research at WU, will be featured in one of the 65 half-hour programs.

The University is recognized as a major experimental center for these winged, furry mammals. The Children's TV Workshop indicated interest in the WU efforts last winter following an unusual "batmobile" experiment designed by Nubuo Suga, WU professor of biology, which was featured in the March 23, 1978 issue of the WU Record and the May 20, 1978 issue of Science News.

Suga and his colleagues investigated the sonar system of the Panamanian mustache bat by placing it in a mobile apparatus to simulate flight. Special attention also was directed toward the work of Simmons, who with his knowledge of psychology brings an interdisciplinary approach to the study of bat behavior.

While in St. Louis, the video crew also filmed a program on nutrition at the Ralston Purina Co.

—Jill Murray

Peter H. Zimmerman

Professor James A. Simmons (left), watches as two members of the Children's TV Workshop begin filming a bat in his Eads Hall laboratory. The bat cooperated by clinging to the sleeve of a workshop cast member.

Building Self-Esteem is Topic For Child Care Institute Oct. 15-16

Dorothy Corkille Briggs, author of the bestselling book Celebrate Your Self: Increase Your Own Self Esteem and Your Child's Self-Esteem: The Key to His Life, will be the keynote speaker at the 18th annual Institute for Residential Child Care, Oct. 15 and 16 at Wohl Center.

Briggs will conduct a workshop at 9 a.m., Oct. 15 on "You and Your Self-Esteem" and "How to Feel Good in Your Role as a Child Care Worker" and on "Building Children's and Youth's Self-Esteem" at 1:15 p.m.

Briggs is a teacher, a marriage, family and child counselor, and a school psychologist.

The Institute will break at 9 a.m., Oct. 16 and again at 1:30 p.m. for small discussion sessions. The discussion leaders

The $55 per person fee includes two working lunches and a copy of Briggs' book "Your Child's Self-Esteem." For more information, call Ext. 6700.

Tutors Needed

The International Office needs volunteer tutors of English. Call Abigail Tom, coordinator of English programs, at Ext. 5904 or Mimi Huntman, volunteer, 567-3074, for information.

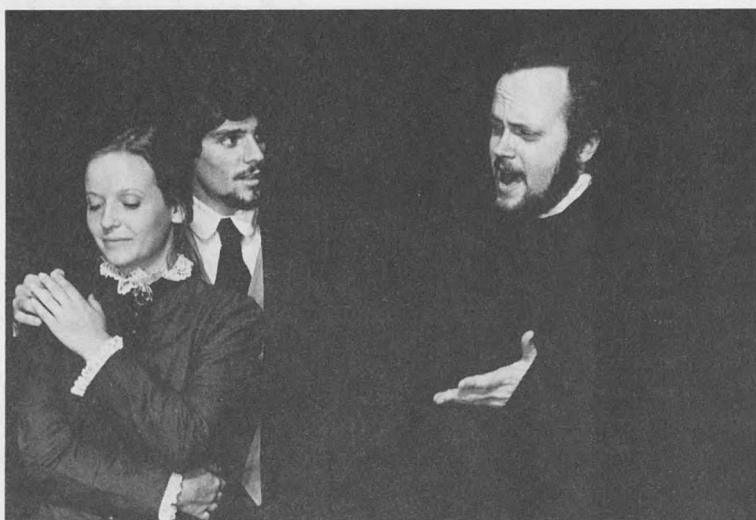

Benefit Values Increase

The Personnel office announced that CREF Accumulation Unit Values have increased as follows: end of June, $42.12; July, $42.57 and August, $44.50.

Retirement Class Open

There are still several openings for interested faculty and staff to participate in the WU pre-retirement program Oct. 23-27. For information and registration, contact, Gloria W. White, director of personnel, at Ext. 5949.

The goal of the program, conducted by the Family and Children's Service of Greater St. Louis, is to help pre-retirees plan for the drastic life changes that may occur at retirement.

Henrik Ibsen's classic drama "Ghosts" opens the WU Performing Arts Area season in Edison Theatre, with performances at 8 p.m. October 5-7 and 12-13. Above (from left), Debi Sinclair portrays Mrs. Alving, who tries to free herself from the shadow of an unhappy marriage, Jeffry Farrell plays her son and Rand Lee is Pastor Manders.

Precaution Called Key to Security

Editor's Note: The following is the first of a series of three articles on campus security.

The armed robbery of six WU students in a South-40 dormitory last Thursday might have been averted had students observed more sensible security precautions, Joe Evans, WU associate chancellor for Business Affairs, said. The students were robbed of approximately $1000 in cash and valuables at gunpoint by three men who entered Dorm H through an exterior door which apparently had been left open.

"Students have been warned repeatedly to keep all doors locked. Yet, two hours after the robbery, the outside doors of the residence halls on either side of Dorm H were open," Evans said. "We consider the security on campus to be adequate but we need the students' cooperation for it to be effective."

The incident Thursday evening is the first case of armed robbery on campus in five years.

According to Norman O. Schneider Jr., director of the WU police department, 24 security officers, 18 of whom are deputized by St. Louis County, patrol the Hilltop's 175 acres around the clock, seven days a week. In addition, 35 Student Patrol Assistants carrying walkie-talkies patrol the campus in pairs. At any time, one to four security personnel and four pairs of Student Patrol Assistants may patrol the South-40. Private security guards are also hired on special occasions.

The WU Record is published weekly during the academic year by the Information Office. Editor: Ruth E. Thaler; calendar editor: Charlotte Boman. Address all communications to Box 1142.

In the last six months, a number of new security measures have been instituted upon the recommendations of an ad hoc student-administration committee. Six "blue light" telephones, connected directly with Campus Police and marked by glowing blue lights, were installed on heavily-used paths on campus. Additional lighting was installed near Francis Field House and the tennis courts. A shuttle bus system was instituted this fall for students who live in certain areas off campus.

A crime prevention officer, Michael J. Moynihan, has been hired to educate the campus on crime prevention. He has distributed information on safety precautions and is available to speak to small groups of students. In addition, the 16-week police academy training program for campus police was recently supplemented with seminars on human relations, race relations and communications.

Banquet—

continued from p. 1

been active in the WU Law Alumni Association, serving as president and as a member of its executive committee.

Elizabeth Gaynell Degginger McCauley (BS '48), a businesswoman and executive in retailing since her graduation from WU. McCauley served on the Alumni Board of Governors and has been active in Council City chapters in Kansas City and San Francisco. She is now Bay Area Chairperson Emeritus, a title bestowed upon her by her fellow alumni.

Stanley L. Lopata (BA '35), chairperson of the board and chief executive officer of the Carboline Company. He was chairperson of the Alumni Board of Governors from 1975 to 1977 and has served as president of the Arts and Sciences Century Club. He is currently a member of the Leadership Gifts Committee of the Engineering Facilities Improvement Plan.

Faculty will be honored for intellectual imagination and dedication to teaching. They are:

John W. Bowyer, Jr., professor of finance in the School of Business and Public Administration. Bowyer has been on the faculty since 1952 and was assistant dean of the school from 1954-58. Bowyer, who specializes in finances and monetary theory, has been voted Teacher of the Year in the School of Business by students.

Richard William Brand, DDS, associate professor of dentistry, who joined the WU faculty in 1965. Since that time, he was director and assistant dean of Student Affairs at the School of Dental Medicine and has been voted Teacher of the year by students three times.

Wayne D. Fields, associate professor of English, who joined the WU faculty in 1968. A specialist in American literature, Fields was the first recipient of the Faculty Award for Excellence in Teaching, presented by the Council of Students of Arts and Sciences in 1978. He is the author of numerous articles and of television and film scripts on American parks and Meriweather Lewis, respectively.

Theodore V. Galambos, Harold D. Jolley Professor of Engineering. Appointed professor of civil engineering in 1965, Galambos was department chairperson from 1970-78. Students have selected him for the Annual Distinguished Faculty Award four times.

Tickets for the Banquet are $15; and $10 for students. For ticket information, call Ext. 5291.

Medical Findings on Alcoholism To Be Presented at WU Forum

Five leading researchers on alcoholism from the WU faculty will be among the speakers and workshop leaders of the WU Forum on Alcoholism, Oct. 9 and 10 in Wohl Center. The two-day forum is designed for members of the St. Louis community concerned with the problems of alcoholism. It is presented during National Alcoholism Week (Oct. 7-13) with the cooperation of the St. Louis Area National Council on Alcoholism and the Continuing Education Program of the WU George Warren Brown School of Social Work.

Speakers from the WU School of Medicine's Department of Psychiatry and their topics include: Theodore Cicero, MD, "Biological Research;" Lee N. Robins, "Socio-epidemiology;" Theodore Reich, MD, "Genetics and Alcoholism;" and Samuel B. Guze, MD, "National Trends in Alcoholism Research." David Pittman, WU professor of sociology, will speak on "Adolescents and Alcoholism."

A $15 fee includes lunch and coffee breaks. To register, send a check payable to WU to the Social Work Continuing Education Program, Campus Box 1196, St. Louis, Mo., 63130. For further information, call Ext. 5684.

A summary session will offer suggestions for the community on how to deal with alcoholism.

Calendar

October 5-11

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 5

12 noon. School of Law Lecture, "Human Rights in Japan: Equality Under the New Constitution," Hideo Tanaka, prof. of law, U. of Tokyo, Japan. 303 Mudd.

3 p.m. Women's Studies Program Poetry Reading, "Designing Women: Finding a Voice in Others," Pamela Hadas, author. Hurst Lounge, Duncker.

9:30 p.m. Red Rose Cotillion Dance with music by the Wally Masters Orchestra. Holmes Lounge. Tickets are $1 at the door or in advance at Edison Box Office.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 6

8:30 a.m. School of Business Career Expo '79, an all-day conference on career opportunities in business. Prince Hall. For details, call Ext. 5950.

3 p.m. WU Homecoming Parade. Grand Marshal Wilbur "Weeb" Ewbank will lead the parade. Bixby Hall Parking Lot, north on Skinker, west on Delmar, south on Big Bend and east on Forsyth onto Francis Field.

4 p.m. Homecoming Barbeque. Adults $3.25; children $1.60. Students may use meal cards. Parking lot adjacent to Francis Field.

9:30 p.m. Homecoming Alumni "Sock Hop," emceed by comic deays "Phillips and Wall" of KSLQ-FM. Holmes Lounge. Admission $2 at the door. Refreshments will be served.

10 p.m. Homecoming Student Victory Dance. Mallinckrodt Center.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 8

11 a.m. Department of Civil Engineering Seminar, "Transition Finite Elements for Axisymmetric and Three-dimensional Stress Analysis," K.S. Surana, McDonnell Automation Co., 100 Cupples II.

12:45 p.m. Society of Professors Emeriti of WU Luncheon Meeting, "Beyond Matter?—Physical Science and Psychical Research," Peter R. Phillips, WU prof. of physics. Whittemore.

4 p.m. Department of Physics Colloquium, "Turbulence," Steven Orszag, prof. of mathematics, MIT. 201 Crow.

8:30 p.m. School of Architecture Lecture, "The Designer's Role in Community Revitalization," Garland Okerlund, prof. of architecture, U. of Virginia. Steinberg Auditorium.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 9

8:30 a.m. Washington University Two-day Community Forum on Alcoholism. (See story on page 3 for details.) Wohl Center.

4 p.m. Committee on Literature and History Lecture, "We are all Critics, We are all Historians: Reflections on Method in the Study of Literature and History," David Levin, prof. of English, U. of Va. Hurst Lounge, Duncker.

4:30 p.m. Graduate Institute of Education Colloquium, "The Morality of Student-Teacher Relationships," Victor Worsfold, asst. prof. of philosophy and education. U. of Texas, Dallas. 217 McMillan.

7 p.m. Center for the Study of Data Processing Course, "Minicomputers," Gene Lover, Regional Justice Information Service, St. Louis, 304 Bixby. Call Ext. 5330 for information.

8:30 p.m. St. Louis Art Museum Lecture, with Ron Nagle, West Coast sculptor and ceramist. Steinberg Auditorium.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 10

11 a.m. Academic Committee Lecture, "The Role of the Critic," Judith Crist, film critic for TV Guide and the New York Post. Graham Chapel.

8 p.m. School of Fine Arts Lecture, with Lee Chesney, Distinguished Visiting Louis D. Beaumont Professor of Art. Steinberg Auditorium.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 11
2 p.m. McDonnell Center for the Space Sciences Seminar, "Opto-acoustic Spectroscopy of Gases and Condensed Matter," C.K.N. Patel, dir., Physical Research Lab., Bell Labs. 311 McMillan.

4 p.m. Department of Chemistry Seminar, "New Approaches to Peptide Synthesis," Daniel Kemp, prof. of chemistry, MIT. 311 McMillan.

8:15 p.m. Asian Art Society Lecture, "Korean Art and Society: Recent Discoveries," Richard J. Pearson, prof. of Asian and Pacific culture history, U. of British Columbia. Steinberg Aud.

Sports

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 5

6 p.m. Soccer, WU vs. Central Methodist. Francis Field.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 6

1 p.m. Women's Tennis, WU vs. Blackburn College. Tennis Courts.

7 p.m. Homecoming Football Game, WU vs. Wheaton College. Francis Field. Admission $3.50 for reserved seats; $2.50 for general admission; $1.25 for non-WU students; WU students free.

Performing Arts

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 5

8 p.m. Performing Arts Area Series, "Ghosts," by Henrik Ibsen. Herbert Metz, WU assoc. prof. of drama, will direct. Edison Theatre. Admission $3.25 for general public; $2.25 for WU community and all students. (Also Oct. 6, 7, 12 and 13, 8 p.m. Edison.)

Music

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 5

8 p.m. Department of Music Lute Concert, with Steve Toombs, soloist. Brown Hall Lounge.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 7

12 noon. WU Jazz Ensemble Concert, directed by Robert Edwards. South-40 field adjacent to Wohl Center.

Films

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 5

7:30 and 9:45 p.m. WU Filmboard Series, "Goodbye Girl." Brown. Admission $1.75. (Also Sat., Oct. 6, same times, Brown.)

8 p.m. Office of Student Activities American Film Series, "The Killers," and "Champion." Rebstock. $1.50.

12 midnight. WU Filmboard Series. "King of Hearts." Brown. $1. (Also Sat., Oct. 6, midnight, Brown; and Sun., Oct. 7, 8 p.m., Wohl Center.)

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 6

8 p.m. Office of Student Activities American Film Series, "Double Indemnity" and "Key Largo." Rebstock. $1.50.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 8

7:30 p.m. WU Filmboard Series Double Feature, "Great Dictator" and "Phantom of the Opera," (9:45 p.m.) Brown. $1.75 for either or both films. (Also Tues., Oct. 9, same times, Brown.)

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 10

7:30 and 9:15 p.m. WU Filmboard Series, "Cousin, Cousine." Brown. $1.75. (Also Thurs., Oct. 11, same times, Brown.)

Exhibitions

"Lee Chesney—25 Years of Printmaking," WU Gallery of Art, Steinberg Hall. 9 a.m.-5 p.m., Mon.-Fri.; 1-5 p.m., Sat., Sun. Oct 7-Nov. 4.

"Paintings and Drawings," by Edward Boccia, WU professor of art. Bixby Hall Gallery. 10 a.m.-12 noon, 1-4 p.m., weekdays. Through Oct. 12.

"Recent Acquisitions," an exhibit of books, manuscripts and other research materials. Rare Books and Special Collections, Olin Library, level 5. 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m., weekdays. Oct. 4-Dec. 31.

"Celebration of Architecture by St. Louis Architects," WU Gallery of Art, Steinberg Hall. 9 a.m.-5 p.m., Mon.-Fri.; 1-5 p.m., Sat., Sun. Through Oct. 30. Sponsored by the St. Louis Chapter of the AIA.

"Selections from the WU Permanent Collection," WU Gallery of Art, Steinberg Hall. 9 a.m.-5 p.m., Mon.-Fri.; 1-5 p.m., Sat., Sun. Through Oct. 28.

Woods to Speak

The location of a lecture by Missouri State Senator Harriet Woods has been changed from the Women's Building Lounge to Lambert Lounge, in Mallinckrodt. Woods will speak on the ERA at 4 p.m., today, Oct. 4.

University Night Oct. 27

The Woman's Club of WU will hold University Night at 6:30 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 27. A social hour in the WU Gallery of Art in Steinberg Hall will open the evening, followed by dinner in Bixby Hall and highlighted by a folk dance performance. Tickets are $6. All WU faculty and staff may attend. Send reservations to Judy Dudukovic, 641 Fox Creek Ct., St. Louis, Mo., 63126 by Oct. 19.

Art Comes Alive

In an unusual experiment in improvisation, a group of WU drama students will step into the paintings of local artist Sydell Pollack, and bring to life the subjects she portrays.

Diana Lee, WU assistant professor of drama, will direct the innovative theatre piece at 3 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 6, during an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Martin Schweig Gallery, 4657 Maryland Ave.