

Supplemental Figure 3: Example of how evaluative planning target volume (PTVeval) used for orthovoltage bump DVH calculations of PTV and organ at risk coverage was generated. Primary PTV was trimmed perpendicular to where shield would be placed in a line parallel to the beam. By using this method we assume 100% coverage of any lesion on the eyelid but under the shield.